REDUCTIONS

¶ What are reductions? You all know the inference. For a number of years those who are interested wait for our announcement of semi-annual reduction sales, knowing they are bona fide. We have started and are having a liberal response. Don't be too late, like some were last season.

¶ We also have about 63 Men's Suits—one and two of a kind—while they last

$2.50 for the Whole Suit.

¶ Get in line early.

Directly Opposite the Court House. CHSTERTOWN, MD.

LOCAL NOTES.

LAST Thursday was a big day at Tolchester many country people from Queen Anne's driving there, besides an excursion from Centerville.

THE Chestertown Cannery of Geo. N. Numson is being thoroughly overhauled by Superintendent John Westerway. An up-to-date machine capper will be installed. The market for canned tomatoes is very low just now. This cannery will make an effort to put up a big lot of peaches this summer, though they have contracted for about 100 acres of tomatoes also.

NEARLY 1000 colored folks went on the excursion to Havre de Grace from the Chester river last Monday.

A DOUBLE dwelling will be erected on Cannon St. by Mr. Frank Duyer for Mr. Wm. R. Maul. Mr. M. A. Toulson expects to erect a livery and feed stables and dwelling for Mr. W. T. H. Whitely near the new depot.

IN another column will be found the advertisement of the Maryland Agricultural College, giving the prospectus for the coming year. The past year was one of the most prosperous in the history of the College, with the largest enrollment and most satisfactory record in all branches of the State work.

THE famous Printer's Athletic Club will cross bats with the strong Galena team to-day at 2 30 o'clock on the college campus. Galena has a fast team, having defeated Barclay in a good game at Millington last Saturday. White will twirl for the Printers and a good game is looked for.

A FINE basket of Manning's Elizabeth pears were left at the NEWS office this week by Mr. Wm. Rasin, the Still Pond nurseryman and dealer in fruit trees.

IN another column of the NEWS will be found a few suggestions from the Commerical and Farmers National Bank, of Baltimore. This bank is 94 years old and as solid as it is years old.

DURING a severe electrical and rain storm which passed over Frederick county last Saturday lightning struck the Methodist Protestant Church steeple at Buckeyestown and practically demolished it. The church, which was built about eight years ago, is one of the handsomest in the State. The steeple is so badly wrecked that it will probably have to be torn down and rebuilt. Rev. E. C. McKosky, formerly of St James Church, Kent, is pastor of this church.
