THE NEW KENT NEWS.

With pardonable pride we think we may note the change in the NEWS today. On Saturday, March 9, 189[illegible], the NEWS struck into new but thoroughly tried and successful paths, and within a few years nearly every live paper on the Shore adopted the new form. Every advertiser and intelligent patron saw the great advantages and accorded us a hearty support.

Another change has become necessary. For several years we have felt the need of more space for reading matter and for our advertisers and in trying to accommodate them have been forced to issue extra pages or supplements as the public termed them which are very unsatisfactory to all concerned. What to do was the question. After much hard work and study we decided that the only thing was to purchase a new press and enlarge the NEWS.

We at once entered into correspondence with press builders and negotiated for a two revolution Improved Campbell press which was installed in our press room on May 15, by the Keystone Type Foundry, Philadelphia, and the nearly new Cottrell press shipped away. This new machine weighs 11,000 pounds and is perfect in its construction and service. A new folder has also recently been bought and is doing grand work, other improvements will be added shortly. The NEWS today contains 56 columns of all home print matter and we feel confident the public appreciate the change and see the great advantage thereof.

The NEWS was 65 years old last May and its success has been simply wonderful. We attribute this success to the adoption of sound business methods and the strict adherence to the same. The slings and criticisms of enemies have been no hurt to the NEWS, for it has gone straight ahead with malice toward none and with nothing but fairness to and kind feeling for everyone. Its [illegible]acy is recognized as of the high[illegible] its advocacy of those principles [illegible]ake for the best interest of the [illegible]will ever be our anchor and our [illegible]urpose. This policy shall be [illegible]red to, and as in the [illegible]ture, we shall endeavor [illegible] the very best county [illegible]e money charged [illegible] give full value [illegible] dollar thus in[illegible]

[illegible] JACKSON is depending on his money to do his talking. The reason is evident.

THE women in four Western States will vote in November to the number of about 100,000. Parker should get every white woman's vote, sure.

THE new oyster inspectors for Kent will be appointed as needed. Among the names slated are Messrs. Wilbur T. Gale, Rock Hall; Harry Todd, Galena; John E. Hudson, Chestertown; Wallace B. Wheat, Edesville. There were a number of applicants.

THE convention at Ocean City did a wise thing when they nominated HON. THOMAS ALEXANDER SMITH, of Caroline, as the Democratic condidate for Congress from this district. He is a gentleman of the highest character, a business man of the hustling stamp, a Democrat clear through to the backbone and will faithfully represent the people of [illegible] in Congress. HON. THOS. A. SMITH NAMED

Caroline County Ex-Senator Nominated for Congress by First District Democrats—Jackson was not for Seth.

The Democratic Convention of the First district reconvened at Ocean City Wednesday and nominated Thomas A. Smith, of Caroline caunty, for Cougress.

Mr. Geo. S. Biddle, of Kent county, seconded the nomination of Mr. Smith, and on motion of Mr. Edward McMaster, of Worcester county, he was nominated by acclamation.

The nomination of ex Senator Smith was not unexpected He was the choice of the majority of the delegates at the first convention, and gave way because he thought Ex Governor Jackson was the most desirable.

When the Ex Governor declined to accept the nomination, Mr. Smith's friends again urged his selection, while General Seth's claims were presented by a mumber of the Talbot leaders. Ex-Governor Jackson, the man above all others who was supposed to be Seth's most ardent supporter, recommended another candidate. In a letter to John E. George; the Queen Anne's county leader, Ex-Governor Jackson advised the nomination of J. Frank Harper, of Queen Anne's who, he thought could better than any other poll the district. He said nothing, however, of financial support, so necessary in a campaign where Uncle Bill's boodle plays the leading part. The fact that he turned down Seth, who had always been a warm friend, lost the latter many supporters.

Although Talbot county stood firm for him, Mr. George showed his letter to other delegates, and it had its effect. Late at night, or, more properly speaking, early Wednesday morning, the the counties of Queen Anne's, Kent, Worcester, Caroline and Cecil held a meeting and concluded to stand by Thomas A. Smith. As they mustered 18 of the 35 votes in the convention, their decision practically settled the nomination.

It is anderstood that efforts will be made to induce William H. Jackson, of Talbot, to accept a nomination as an independent candidate. There is also a William J. Jackson, but the man whose name is the same as that of the republican candidate is preferred.

SNOW HILL, Maryland, a hustling little town not near as large as Chestertown has begun active work on its streets and the entire business section of the town is to be macadamized The Snow Hill Council is active toward town improvements and they are making their streets and pavements such that would do credit to a town three times its population. While at this time Chestertown may not afford to have macadamized streets, she can certainly prepare for same.

"IF"

"If" is most commonly the word of the doubter—and, too, the excuse of the shiftless.

"If you can prove it to me"—says the one.

"If such-and-such had gone as I expected it to"—says the other.

The Duke of Wellington saw a very different "if" before Waterloo—"If I can fight hard enough and long enough I can vanish Napoleon." And Napoleon was vanquished.

General George Washington, after a repulse by the British, said to his troops: "If we can cross the Delaware to Trenton in the night, and surprise them sleeping, we can conquer them." And the British were conquered, a few after-steps leading to American independence.

Do you trade at Baltimore's Best Store?

There isn't a single "if" to prevent you.

There are many "ifs" that should impel yon to trade here.

If you do, you will always get fashionable, reliable things—the kind that satify all the way along from the time they're bought until they naturally wear out.

If you do, you will save money—no store anywhere sells merchandise of equal merit as cheaply as we do.

If you do, and you should happen to feel that anything you have brought does not just suit your purpose—your money back without argument.
