MARION DEK. SMITH, Attorney.

Order of Publication.

Marion deK. Smith, Admr., of Sarah Chaney, deceased, vs.
Edward Chaney and Maggie Chaney, his wife, and Lemuel Blake.

In the Circuit Court for Kent Co. in Equity.

THE object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain property in Kent county in this State which was mortgaged by a certain Thomas Chaney to a certain Sarah Chaney.

The Bill states that on or about the 2nd day of November 1885 a certain Thomas Chaney, now deceased, conveyed certain real estate, which is particularly described in said deed, unto a Sarah Chaney, now deceased, by way of mortgage to secure the payment of the sum of Four Hundred Dollars, which was then due and owing by the said Thomas Chaney to said Sarah Chaney, payable two years after date with interest thereon.

That said Thomas Chaney died on or about the year 1902, intestate, leaving the said Edward Chaney and Addie Chaney, his children, and said Lemuel Blake, his grandson, his only heirs at law.

That the said Edward Chaney and Maggie Chaney, his wife and Addie Chaney are non-residents.

That the whole of the said sum of Four Hundred Dollars and all interest thereon still remains due and owing by the said Thos. Chaney to said Sarah Chaney.

That said Sarah Chaney died about 1892, and the Orphan's Court for Kent county, Maryland, has granted letters of administration on her estate unto Marion deK. Smith.

It is thereupon this 9th day of September, 1904, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper, published in Kent County once in each of four successive weeks, before the 19th day of October, 1904, give notice to said absent defendants of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 4th day of November, 1904, to show cause, if any they have, why a Decree ought not to pass as prayed.

BULLET AS CONSOLATION.

Fielder Wanted to Shoot Himself in Miss Murray's Home—Grappled With her Father.—Minister Had Refused to Let Him See His Daughter—Arrested and Locked up Over Night.

Dr. S. Reese Murray, Well-Known in Chestertown, Central Figure.

"Mrs. Murray heard the struggle and ran into the parlor to assist her husband. She caught hold of Fiedler and was trying to pull him from her husband when Sergeant Doyle, of the Third precinct, entered and arrested Fiedler. He was taken to the police station and locked up for the night.

Statement Of Mr. Fiedler.

"Fiedler, who is 30 years old, well dressed and of pleasant manners, made the following statement:

"'I was engaged to Miss Ona Murray and have known her for a long while. We did not, however, meet in Baltimore, but in this city after her father moved here. It is probably true that he did not know of the engagement, and we often met clandestinely, the last time I saw her in this way having been in front of the Corcoran Art Gallery. I have 140 letters from Miss Murray. She answered all of mine except one I wrote her last week. Instead of hearing from her in reply to this one I received a letter from her father, inclosing our engagement ring. I have met Miss Murray a number of times at her father's house, although I did not call there regularly, and have dined with the family of Dr. Murray. When I was sick in a hospital in Baltimore about eight weeks ago and underwent an operation Miss Murray came over to visit the hospital.

"I drank a little on account of a little difference with Miss Murry about two weeks ago and came over to Washington. I walked to Miss Murray's home with her on that occasion. Mrs. Murray saw me and since then I have not been favorably regarded. I wrote a letter of apology, but it did not do any good. I have only used liquor to that extent twice in my life, and both times it was on account of little differences with Miss Murray.

Lost His Self-Control.

"When I called yesterday it was because I did not believe that Miss Murray had refused of her own accord to answer my last letter, and I wanted to find out what was the trouble. I demanded to see Miss Murray, but her father would not let me, and I lost control of myself and pulled out the revolver, intending to shoot myself. While I was there I threw the ring back at Dr. Murray. This morning he called at the police station and tried to make me take the ring, but I threw it back at him. I said that it belonged to Miss Murray if she wanted to wear it, and if she did not want it it should not be given to me. The police have it now and I suppose it will be sold at auction for the benefit of the Washington police.

"When Fiedler was taken to the police station a charge of carrying a concealed weapon was laid against him. Subsequently a charge of making threats was added. After this Dr. Murray interviewed the young man in his cell and agreed to withdraw the second charge if the Baltimorean would cease his attentions, both personal and by correspondence to his daughter until after February 9, 1905, when she would be 21 years old. Fiedler stated that he supposed that Miss Murray, being 20 years old, was of age, not knowing that 21 is the age of majority in the District of Columbia.

Miss Murray At The Station.

"Justice of the Peace Anson S. Taylor, an old friend of the Murray family, took a deep interest in the case and spent most of the day at the house consulting as to the best course to pursue. This evening Justice Taylor and Miss Murray visited the station and tried to have the charge of making threats nolle prossed. Lieutenant Boyle said that he could only suggest that they see the Prosecuting Attorney. He also stated that he had no disposition to withdraw the concealed weapons charge. It was arranged finally that Mr. Fiedler should give bail in the sum of $50 for his appearance in the Police Court at 9 o'clock tomorrow. He said that he would leave for Baltimore tonight and return to Washington in the morning.

"Dr. Murray was much upset over the occurrence. He had a camp-meeting engagement today which could not be broken, but the experiences of the last 24 hours had so worried him that he deemed it best to secure another minister to fill his pulpit this evening. He states that he knew of no engagement between Fiedler and his daughter. He had first met the young man last November and he had called to see Miss Murray just as had other young men who met he and her school friends while she was a student in the Girls' Latin School in School.

"Dr. Murray has been stationed at Union Church about 18 months. He was formerly pastor of a Chestertown church and he and Mrs. Murray were popular in church circles."

At 1700 North Charles street, Mr. Fiedler's home, as given in the City Directory, the house was closed and no information could be gotten regarding Mr. Fiedler's whereabouts.

Sheep in a Saloon.—Five innocent, soft-eyed sheep on the Chester River Line wharf Saturday morning betrayed the trust placed in them by their drivers and ran away, plunging through a glass door of a saloon opposite the wharf in Baltimore. They were finally gotten out of the saloon and driven back to the wharf.

The sheep seemed so docile and obedient that the drivers thought it unnecessary to tie them and busied themselves with other work. The sheep, led by an old ewe, watched their chance and ran, in single file, to the saloon. The door was closed and the old sheep, lowering her head, butted the pane of glass out of the door and plunged in, her followers coming after. After badly frightening the men in the saloon they were rounded up.
