Negro Murderess Will be Released.—On Tuesday, November 13th, the big iron doors of the Maryland penitentiary will swing open and allow one of its prisoners to walk free, after having been incarcerated there for the past fifteen years. The prisoner is Mary Brown, colored, who was carried to that institution from Kent county for the murder of Miss Annie Gale, also of the same county. When the girl was 12 years of age she was in the employ of Miss Gale, who did everything possible to bring the girl up amid comfortable surroundings, but that inexplicable something put an evil notion into the girl's head. She began to crave money and plotted to get it. Being acquainted with Miss Gale's habits, she knew where her employer kept her money and where rat poison was secreted in a place of safety. The longing for money soon got too strong for the little negress and she made up her mind to kill Miss Gale. Some tomatoes were cooking on the stove on October 15, 1891, and Mary dropped enough rat poison into them to kill her mistress. Friends of Miss Gale heard she was ill and tried to see her but the negress was shrewd enough to keep them away by saying her mistress was ill and did not wish to see them. Finally the murder was discovered, and the attitude of the girl created suspicion. She was caught spending some of the money she had stolen and admitted her guilt. Since her confinement in the penitentiary she has made a model prisoner. The matron taught her to sew, and by this means she has saved $100, which will be given to her the day she is liberated.

OYSTERMEN FINED $465

He Corralled Big Bunch Of Alleged Violators Of Cull Law—Boastful Captain Makes Trouble.

Leonardtown, Md., Nov. 6.—Captain Geo. W. Maddox, of the State fishery police schooner Bessie Jones, had a busy time last week corralling the violators of the Oyster law on the Potomac. Fifteen captures were made of boats having over the legal percentage of unculled oysters on board.

Justice Seeby, of Charles county, placed a fine of $25 each on Captain Newton, of the flatty Rosa Augusta, and Captain Roberts, of the schooner Aubert.

The 13 other alleged violators were tried before St. Mary's county magistrates.

Justice Colton imposed fines of $35 each on Captain Adams, of the schooner Florence; Captain Simmons, of the Simmons; Captain Lewis, of the Richard Smith; Captain Travers, of the Travers; Captain Adams, of the Whiting. These also paid the same magistrate $25 each; Captain Phillips of the flatty Branch; Captain Bevan, of the schooner Julia Lawson; Captain Lewis, of the Richard Smith; Captain Donohue, of the sloop Mary Elizabeth, and Captain Lewis, of the sloop Ruark.

Justice Herbert made Captain Marshall, of the schooner Alice Langrall, and Captain Willie, of the sloop Robert Landin, pay $50 each, the highest fines imposed upon any of the violators. Captain Robbins, of the sloop Phillips, and Captain Phillips, of the sloop O. P. Smith, paid the same magistrate $25 each.

The total amount of fines collected for the week was $465.

Commander Howard, of the oyster navy, made a visit to the Potomac last week, during which he picked up some data for future use.

It is reported that the master of an oyster boat has been placed on the list for investigation growing out of unguarded expressions made by himself. In a moment of boastfulness he asserted that he took from the Potomac 1,000 bushels of unculled oysters which he covered with another 1,000 bushels of legally marketable oysters. He took his cargo to an important Eastern Shore town, where the cargo was sold. The face of his cargo was so fine, he said, that the oyster inspector decided to pass the whole, as it was time lost to see the bottom of the vessel. The boastful master was so delighted with his deception and the closing of the eyes of the inspector that he could not preserve the secret. It is out, as well as his name and the port he played the trick on.

SOCIAL NOTES.

One of the most delightful entertainments of the season was given by Miss Marguerite Skipper to a jolly party of her friends at her beautiful "Primrose Manor" home on Chester river. The hostess was daintily attired in white, and received her guests in the drawing room. Those present were: Misses Susie and Edith Dunbracco, Elizabeth Russell, Jessie, Estella and Fanny Anthony and Anna Smith. Messrs. Rumsey and Townsend Anthony, Earle Thomas, Carl Bordley, Arthur Skipper, Murrell Dunbracco, David Connelly and George Phifer.

The party then had a treat to some good music and singing, and of course the girls and boys had to have a little "spin" around; after having a most delightful evening, the guests were ushered out to refreshments, which consisted of the choice dainties of the season. The room was gorgeously decorated with trimmings suspending from the arches, etc. The closing event of the evening was a romp on the lawn in the "Moon-Light," the girls and boys having a grand time.

The happy and jolly party was then all packed in a wagon and driven to their respective homes, leaving "Primrose Manor" with all around good-byes to the hostess.

Miss Anna Lambert entertained a few friends Monday evening at a "Base-ball Party." The team included Mrs. Gaffney, Mr and Mrs. Merrick Clements, Miss Jordon, Miss Addie Hurlock, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Burchinal, Messrs. Leon Brown and Conlyn Noland, on one side and on the other side were Miss Burchinal, Miss Tweedell, Miss Lambert, Mrs. A. M Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Bordley, Messrs. Ellegood and Usilton. The latter team won two games out of the series of three.

The Chestertown Council, No. 58, Daughters of America, gave its members a chocolate social Monday evening last after close of regular session of the lodge. About 20 members were present and all expressed themselves as having a delightful time. Chocolate and cake were served.

The court sitting in special session Monday refused to register Capt. Cecil R. Atkinson or Dr. S. E. Ford, but ruled that Sheriff Andrew Medders had a right to vote at Kennedyville.

Help! Help! I'm Falling

Thus cried the hair. And a kind neighbor came to the rescue with a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. The hair was saved! This was because Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular hair medicine. Falling hair is caused by a germ, and this medicine completely destroys these germs. Then the healthy scalp gives rich, healthy hair.
