ALL the politics in Maryland now center in Baltimore. The counties are not in this Spring election business at all. In Kent there seems not to be a single ripple on the surface.

ALL the colored troops in the United States have been sent to the Philipine Islands! President Roosevelt says the Brownsville affair suggests the wisdom of getting every negro soldier out of the country.

THE Baltimore American seems disposed to go it strong for the present mayor. The fight is growing warm between he and Wachter. The Evening News also prefers the "powers that be." The Sun is carefully noting events. We hope it will find the Democratic nominee worthy.

JUDGE HARLAN, of the Baltimore Criminal Court, has decided that the Maryland Club can sell liquors to its members on Sunday. Saloons do the same thing at their peril. The case now goes to the Supreme Court. Query: if it is wrong to sell whiskey per se on Sunday, is the wrong any the less in curtained parlors than in bar rooms? The law may make a difference but the moral code never!

IF the friends of Mr. John Hubert want him to run for Mayor of Baltimore they should quit dilly-dallying over the matter and bring him out. He is evidently the strongest man named with real Democrats, but some of the timid ones are afraid that Free Rasin will support him! Suppose he does. Which is the strongest a first-class regular with the city leader's support or a mugwump without him? The city Democracy have certainly learned some wisdom by past blunders, and the greatest of these is in sacrificing good Democrats to please Mugwumps!

CONGRESSMAN JACKSON'S candidate for Governor, Hon. Philips Lee Goldsborough, will have rough sailing even through his own county waters. The leading Republican paper there is being strengthened by prominent men of the party and an open fight is already on, mostly fired by the local Post Office contest. So that this is likely to be the end of an Eastern Shore Republican for Governor.

THE American of Thursday boosts Gov. Warfield to the extent of a full column and a half. Its anxiety to make the Governor the coming Democratic candidate is fully exposed by its anxiety to elect a Republican Governor. It loves Gov. Warfield not one whit less than it does State Senator Gorman. But the Democrats do not have to go to the American for counsel in this matter.

FARM LABOR.

One of the most serious problems confronting farmers of Kent and other counties is that of competent farm labor. The success of the South Carolina Bureau of Immigration in bringing into that State needed labor for farm and factory has stimulated other States to take similar action. Marked impetus has been given to the movement by the decision of Mr. Straus, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, that the assistance extended to immigrants by the State of South Caroline through its Commissioner is not contrary to the contract-labor law. The movement has now reached Maryland. The farmers' clubs of Montgomery county have led off by an appeal to Governor Warfield, asking that the Maryland Bureau of Immigration be directed to proceed in the manner followed by South Carolina.

The practical success of the South Carolina law is due to the fact that instead of merely inviting immigration the State goes after it. Commissioner Watson went abroad and made personal arrangements to get the kind of immigrants desired, and to see that they got direct transportation. Now that the movement has started, the first batch of immigrants are themselves sending back money to help others to come. One of those immigrants arranged with the Commissioner to bring ten members of his family. The next steamship load of immigrants direct for South Carolina leaves Europe on January 16. If the immigrants continue to find conditions of employment in South Carolina satisfactory, the flow of labor will continue through natural influences. The success of South Carolina shows what may be done by taking hold in the right way. To get similar results, Maryland will have to employ similar means.

MESSRS. WOODALL & RIGGIN, of Georgetown, have purchased a power boat with which they will do a general freighting business between Fredericktown and Baltimore.

THE place to get high class harness and first class repairing is W. T. Bramble's, next door to John Bartley.

A SERIOUS CONDITION.

The health officer, Dr. H. G. Simpers, and the County Commissioners of Kent County, realize the serious condition of affairs in the lower part of the county and are doing everything possible to relieve same. It is very important that the citizens of that section take the matter philosophically and do all in their power to assist the officials in ferreting out and reporting cases of contagious diseases. Dr. Wilson reported a case of small-pox in the family of Mr. Hayes on Forest road, near Edesville, and a case of diphtheria has been reported in the family of Mr. Wheat, two miles from Rock Hall.

The fourteen-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Odie Carroll on the Cosden farm has a case of small-pox. Two new cases of Varioloid have also been reported among the Cann family. The first case reported has about recovered and Dr. Merritt raised the quarantine there.

The Rock Hall school was closed several days this week simply as a precaution and it is expected to reopen same next Monday.

Dr. Fulton, the State health officer, has been communicated with and will visit Kent within a few days.

The authorities do not wish to injure anyone but are trying to stamp out these contagious diseases and in the enforcement of law some one must be temporarily injured that the whole people may be benefited. Lets all assist the officers in doing their duty and the "storm will soon be over."

FISHERMEN ORGANIZE.

A special meeting of the executive committee of the Tidewater Fishermen's Association was held at the office of the Johnson-Dukehart Co., Baltimore, on Monday, at which it was decided to issue a call for a general meeting of all commercial fishermen, to be held at noon January 9, at the Eutaw House. House.

The officers of the association are:

President—Joseph P. Sollers, Calvert county.

Vice President—J. E. Apsley, Kent county.

Secretary and Treasurer—John Frank, Jr., Anne Arundel county.

There are about 12,000 commercial fishermen in the Chesapeake bay, a great number of whom are interested in the workings of this association.

A large portion of the membership is strongly opposed to the existing law permitting the sale of under-size fish in Baltimore, and it is expected that a special effort will be made to have this law repealed.

The following delegates were appointed from Kent—William Stevens, Rock Hall, Chas. Johnson, Chestertown, and William Crew, of Betterton.

Summer Skies. — Kent Countians basked beneath summer skies several days this week, the thermometer registering 70° in the shade. The streets of Chestertown were thronged with people out for a stroll or making calls, men worked in shirt sleeves and Rumsey Anthony was plowing rows for planting watermelons! A snake was seen also to poke his head out and a muskrat came all the way up High street from the river and was caught by colored boys near Emmanuel Church!

THE Farmers' Institute will be held in Kennedyville on Monday, February 11th and at Chestertown on the 12-13th.

Then you may read when you like, where you like, and as long as you like, and you'll not need to turn and twist the book in order to ease your eyes.

Not an eye pain or an ache, after you begin to wear the proper glasses, no headaches, no inconveniences at all.

To day would be a good time to begin to have your eyes looked after. Consultation and advice are free any time you call.

Don't be misled or taken in by strangers going over the country passing themselves off as "Dr." Eye Specialists, Etc., who charge you two prices and often do your eyes more injury than benefit.
