S. HICKS, Court Street.

THE Kent county Republican convention said not one word against the Democratic management of county affairs while the proceedings of the State convention were in the interest of the darkey. How can we retain for him his voting privilege is the burden of Republican effort in the county and State. The all important matters that touch the interest of the poor taxpayer is forgotten, and our worthy board of county commissioners get no word either of commendation or censure. No doubt that August convention would have fired hot shot into county affairs if the way had been open, BUT IT WAS NOT. The members of the board of county commissisners individually and collectively have conducted their work so carefully and so manifestly in the interest of the people that their most bitter political enemies cannot find cause for censure. Under the good work and economies of the present levy court the county tax rate has been reduced and an encouraging outlook presented for even greater reductions next year. The people—the taxpayers certainly—appreciate results and have no desire to turn the county over to the Republicans. Our neighbors in Cecil tried this experiment and the Cecil county taxpayer today is paying a tax-rate much higher than under Democratic management.

THE REAL ISSUE.

In the course of a lengthy editorial regarding the political situation in Maryland, the Every Evening has the following to say:

So it will be seen that the real issue at the Maryland election, next month, is whether the State shall remain under Democratic control or pass under the control of "Sydney and Me"—the Congressman from the "black belt" who runs the Western Shore and the "Maryland Addicks" who carries the Eastern Shore in his pocketbook. The voters of the State should have no difficulty in deciding how to vote when confronted by such a condition, and the reasonale probabilities are that "Sydney and Me" will be repudiated. Maryland is a naturally Democratic State. Offensive bossism dissipated for awhile the reliable Democratic majority, but the supremacy of the party has been restored by wise leadership, freedom of action on the part of the voters and absence of arbitrary dictation. It is altogether probable that the new Democratic supremacy will be substantially maintained at the November election.

THE SENATORIAL PRIMARIES.

The list of candidates for the Democratic nomination for United States Senators has been closed and the Democrats of the State will be called upon to make their selections from the following:

For the long term—Gov. Edwin Warfield, ex-Governor John Walter Smith, Congressman Fred. Talbott.

For the short term—Senator William Pinkney Whyte.

Every Democrat ought to be able to get suited in this array of talent. The Democrats of Kent county should take an interest in this matter and vote for one of these candidates on election day. The primaries will be held in a separate polling place in every district. None but Democrats will be allowed to vote in these primaries. It will be a free, fair primary contest, and Democrats generally will be interested in the result.

THESE ARE SERIOUS QUESTIONS.

What have the people to gain or to hope for by turning from the most gratifying situation to another demoralizing experiment of Republican rule?

Can they reasonably expect better and purer government?

Shall we have a larger measure of tranquility and good order under a regime?

Shall we be blessed with lower taxes, more vigorous, upright and efficient government or more honest, capable and public spirited officials?

Will our large colored population be more easily restrained under an administration elected by their votes and necessarily, therefore, more or less subservient to them than under a Democratic rule, which will owe them nothing but just and humane treatment, fair play and proper recognition of their civil rights? Shall we repeat the dangerous and alarming experiment of turbulence and disorder from which we so painfully suffered under Republican rule, or shall we cling to the ark of our political and social safety by resolutely retaining our white Democratic control?

A NATIONAL DISGRACE.

Another good Republican Congressman has been indicted and arrested, charged with conspiracy to defraud, and also for obtaining money under false pretenses. This time it is the Hon. E. Burd Cassel, of Pennsylvania. Mr. Cassel and 18 other good Republicans were picked up on September 18th, on charges originally preferred by Democratic State Treasurer Berry, of Pennsylvania, in connection with the theft of five million dollars from the Treasury of that State in transactions relating to the furnishing of the new capitol building at Harrisburg. Several State officers are among the fellow-grafters of Mr. Cassell for whom warrants have also been issued. No wonder the Pennsylvania Republican leaders regard the Democratic motto, "thou shalt not steal," as a personal affront to themselves.
