SATURDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1907.

THE fight for postmaster of Chestertowned has narrowed down to two candidates, viz., Messrs. M. Wilbur Thomas and John C. Davis. The appointment is expected in a few days.

THE CAUSE OF IT.

The opinion of Hon. Wm. Jennings Bryan as to the cause for the financial stringency was thus stated by him while in Baltimore last Saturday:

"The present financial stringency is not due to a scarcity of money, but to the scare that has spread among depositors. This scare started in New York and had its origin in the gambling transactions of Wall Street. The Republican party has so linked the banking system to Wall Street that the whole nation has suffered from the sins of a few speculators."

Mr. Bryan's remedy is for the government to guarantee all national bank deposits. State banks and trust companies he says could be likewise protected by State laws creating State guarantees.

Things are not always what they seem, however. The trouble of the business is that the farmer raised the crops but it's the other fellow who gets the cash.
