THE PRIDE OF ALL.

The beautiful new Kent County Savings Bank opened its doors to the public Thursday. A full description of the bank will be found elsewhere in this issue. Invitations have been sent out to everyone to visit the building next week and inspect its beauty and solidity.

The first day's business in the new building was very gratifying the deposits varrying—some left a few dollars while others deposited larger amounts and in one case the deposits exceeded $5,000, and yet all were appreciated and the same interest allowed. Wm. F. Russell, cashier, Thos. W. Perkins, teller, and J. Raymond Simpers, book-keeper were in charge.

Attacked by Eagle.—Philip Bowman, a young student at the Polytechnic Institute of Baltimore, while visiting at his brother's home in Quaker Neck was attacked by a large bald eagle while chopping some wood. The eagle swooped down upon the young man just as he threw up his axe. The bird forced the attack upon the young man, who had no other weapon than an axe. The youth was struck repeatedly and his arms cut, but he continued swinging his axe and after a fight for about half an hour forced the eagle in the brush and killed it. The bird measured 5 feet 6 inches. This is the first time that such a large eagle has been killed around this way for some time.

People's Bank Opens.—The newly organized bank known as The People's Bank, Chestertown opened for business Thursday with Dr. Simmons president, and A. Parks Rasin cashier. Mr. Raymond Cox, of the First National Bank, Baltimore, assisted in the opening while Mr. Wm. Walter Chapman, is present to aid in getting the affairs of the institution in running order. John C. Davis has been added to the directorate.

A Success.—The White Rose minstrels showed in Fireman's Hall to a packed house last Friday evening under the management of Robert Bramble and Joseph P. Westcott. The show was a grand success in every respect and enough money was cleared to pay all debts and leave a balance.
