SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1910.

HAVE you heard from Maine, Colonel?

THE Maine thing was to win for Democracy.

SENATOR HALE, of Maine, withdrew because he saw the storm coming.

THE Democrats have carried Arizona and will organize the government of this new State.

ISN'T it remarkable that the man elected Governor of Maine is the first Democratic Governor since 1880 and in that year the new Governor's father was elected!

THE local election will take place in Kent in 1911. The duty of Democrats now is to elect J. Harry Covington to Congress. He is worthy the vote of every man in the county.

THE Public Service Commission has fixed Wednesday, September 28, as the date for the hearing on the ordinances adopted by the Chestertown Commissioners giving the Diamond State Telephone Company privilege to string wires and to operate in this town.

THE Pennsylvania Railroad Company will please accept our thanks for a comprehensive map of the City of New York, showing the location of their handsome station. This station is said to be the finest building of its kind in the world, and was opened to the traffic Thursday.

THE result in Maine shows that when the people lose confidence in a political party, or its leaders, for often the leaders consider themselves the party, they generally know what to do in order to bring about a change. When self-constituted political leaders attempt to run political parties in their own interest, and without regard for the principles of the parties, they should be deprived of such leadership. Corrupt men have no business at the head of political parties, they contaminate the parties themselves.

COL. ROOSEVELT in his tour of the West returned with fewer friends than when he started. One Republican paper says if Barnum was living he would have hired him sure.

The real admirers of Col. Roosevelt will experience a feeling akin to sorrow when they learn that he has sold his talents, his unconquerable will and power with the people, to a scheme of advertising. His talents are worthy of being employed in a far nobler cause—the uplifting of our people. Not with a brace of "six shooters" and a brass band, but in a dignified, intelligent appeal to the horse sense and good judgment of all classes.

THE Baltimore News, an Independent paper, with decided Republican leanings, says of the Congressional nominees in the First District: "In this State there never has been a time when the voters did not scan the character of the men for whom they are asked to vote as carefully as the issues they represent. It will be so in this campaign. In that sense they can promptly make up their minds as to the duty of the good citizen in some of the districts. In the First District the Democratic candidate, Mr. Covington, stands head and shoulders above his opponent in personal fitness to represent the district in Congress, and independent voters can cheerfully indorse his re-nomination."

FREDERICK W. PLAISTED, Mayor of Augusta, has been elected by the voters of Maine to be their Chief Executive for the years 1911 and 1912. His election is the culmination of the greatest political contest which has been waged in Maine since that of 1880, when his father, Harris M. Plaisted, was elected Governor of the State.

The plain people East and West are beginning to appreciate the fact that the Republican party has been the agent of what Mr. Bryan and Mr. Roosevelt term the "predatory corporations." They are beginning to understand that the leaders of the Republican party in Congress, men like Aldrich, Payne, Cannon, Denew, the late Mr. Platt and others of that class, are or have been in Congress, not to represent the people or the States, but to represent great corporations in which perhaps they held blocks of stock. The people are discontented with the misuse of their government. A storm has been brewing in the East and in the Middle West. It broke over Maine Tuesday. In November, unless all signs fail, it will sweep the Republicans out of power in the lower house of Congress.

FOUR thousands boys and girls, pupils in the public schools in Mexico, have been provided with clothing at the expense of the government. This was done under the direction of the department of public instruction in order to make the children "presentable" upon the occasion of the centennial celebration exercises.
