Its Provisions Simple.

THE NEWS published recently a complete and comprehensive explanation of the proposed suffrage amendment to the constitution. This explanation was published by Chairman Vandiver in the metropolitan press shortly after the Court of appeals decided that the suffrage amendment should be placed upon the official ballot. It now becomes the duty of every democratic voter to read carefully and study each and every provision of the suffrage amendment and give it his hearty support at the polls next November.

The charge has been made that it will disfranchise many of our best citizens.

It preserves without any change whatever, the existing provisions of our Constitution, which requires a man to be twenty-one years old; to have resided in the State at least one year and to be registered before he can vote.

In addition to these requirements it makes the following provisions:

First—A person able to read any section of the Constitution of this State submited to him by the officers of Registration and to give a reasonable explanation of the same; or if unable to read such section, able to understand and give an explanation thereof when read to him by the Registration officers.

Can you do this; If you can you are entitled to be registered and to vote.

Second—A person who on the first day of January 1869, or prior thereto was entitled to vote under the laws of this State, or of any other State of the United States wherein he then resided.

Could you vote in 1869 in this or any other State; Then you can vote under this Amendment.

Third—Any male lineal descendant of such last mentioned person who may be twenty-one years of age or over in the year 1906.

Could your father, or your grandfather vote in 1869? Then you can vote under this amendment, provided you are of age when you go to be registered next year.

If you can comply with any one of these provisions then your right to vote is assured.
