SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1911.

THE primaries will likely be held in August, not next week.

IN the death of Mr Joseph C. Kendall, at Rock Hall, this county has lost one of its best citizens. He was an aggressive man in all walks of life and leaves a family of valued citizens.

IF there's any "bob-tail" ticket it is the one announced by the Boss, for there's nothing "bobbed" about the Organization.

PUBLIC meetings have recently been held in Kennedyville in the interest of village improvements. The people of the village and community are not at all pleased with the condition in which the state road builders left their work, and a committee composed of Messrs. John R. Bennett, Tilghman Shafer and L. A. Pennington have been appointed to bring the matter to the attention of Governor Crothers and chairman Tucker of the Good Roads Commission. We are confident the Commission will see the justice of their claim and remedy the defect. The residents objected to the work in time to prevent extra labor but no heed was paid them. Now to make the changes will require some expense but the Commission should see that it is done at once.

THE PEOPLE'S CANDIDATES.

The announcement in the NEWS last week of the People's candidates was received with favor and gratificatien by the voters and tax-payers of Kent county. One good Democrat remarked that any man who would not vote that ticket must be bound hand and foot to the Boss! It is a ticket composed of tax-payers, men interested personally in the economical management of the affairs of the county and in lower taxes. They are representative men. For instance, there is WM. W. BECK, ESQ., for the Senate, a live, energetic, aggressive and progressive Democrat and citizen, vitally interested in the best interests of his county—a land owner, lawyer and real estate dealer, knowing the needs of his constituents and able to work for them.

There is LOUIS C. AYRES, a farmer and resident of the lower district, who comes in daily touch with the watermen and ready to represent their interests at Annapolis.

THE many friends of Mr. John W. Redmile will be glad to learn that he has consented to be a candidate for the Legislature subject to the Democratic primaries. Mr. Redmile is a well-known farmer of near Kennedyville, an upright gentleman, high character, intelligent and industrious and will add great strength to the Democratic ticket. He is at present a member of the Democratic State Central Committee for Kent county in which position he has proven faithful. Mr. Redmile starts his candidacy with a large following at home and in other districts has warm friends.

For Treasurer the candidacy of Mr. CLARENCE S. HURLOCK has been received with favor. Mr. Hurlock's position as regards faction is too well known to require elaboration. For many years he has been on the side of the People, working side by side with Messrs. John P. Ahern, E. A. Scott, E. Thomas Massey, Herman Massey, Isaac Gibbs, Jesse E. Ireland, and other well-known citizens of the First district against Bossism. And so also with Mr. THOMAS C. ROE for commissioner. He is the kind of man Kent county needs in the levy court. He puts party above faction, knows no Boss and will give us a good administration.

In the Second district Mr. THOMAS VANDYKE is receiving many promises of support. He is going all the time and putting his candidacy before the people. He is thoroughly capable and a hustler.

Mr. GEORGE BRICE, candidate for commissioner from the Fourth and Seventh districts, was in town Tuesday and was greatly pleased by the numerous offers of support. Mr. Brice's candidacy is one that improves as the days go by.

For Sheriff Mr. WM. W. CLAYTON is gaining ground weekly and is working quietly but in an effective manner.

Messrs. SIMPERS, NICHOLSON and MANN as Judges of the Orphans' Court are the choice of the People and should be renominated and re-elected unanimously.

As for the candidate for State's Attorney the NEWS will have something to say later.

THE Barroll "bob-tail" ticket is having trouble. A well-known gentleman of near Fairlee refused to run on the Barroll ticket for Judge of Orphans' Court, saying that the Organization Candidates were men that could not be surpassed for integrity and uprightness. Another gentleman living in Chestertown was also urged to allow himself to be defeated, but at last reports he had not consented. Then another gentleman near Kennedyville was tried and he refused also. Hard luck.

THE price of wheat advanced ¼ of a cent yesterday.

THE County Commissioners acting as the Board of Control and Review adjourned last Tuesday week and have not been in session since. This is wise and it would seem still wiser if they would postpone meeting until at least the whole of the Fourth and First districts are completed. They would then be in a position to make the assessment more uniform than by taking up certain districts and assessing without reference to the whole county. The whole object of the work is to make each man's assessment bear a like proportion to his neighbors. By having five of the districts before them they can get an idea of the price to put on certain lands, etc. and thus finish the work a few days after the local assessors are through.

The indications now convince us that the work will not be finished in time for this levy so that to postpone the work of the Board of Control and Review will not interfere but will make the new assessment more efficient, more equitable and more satisfactory to the tax-payers.

TUBERCULOSIS, the "White Death," claimed 101 victims in the counties of Maryland in the month of December, 1910. This figure, says a health bulletin, is still slightly excessive, due to the occurence of grippal conditions and pneumonia as terminal infections. Tuberculosis easily continues to retain first place among the principal causes of death in Maryland. The efforts of the people in late years to fight the terrible plague is having some results, but there is much to do in this direction, here as elsewhere. In another column of this issue will be found an article on tuberculosis among cattle which proves the importance of the tuberculin test now required by Chestertown authorities. This test should be made a State law also, as there is no doubt that the spread of this disease is due largely to infected cattle. In Kent county alone there have been three sad deaths within a month, all from tuberculosis. Is not this appalling fact enough to awaken our people to the importance of taking all the available means to stamp out the disease? We hope that Dr. Jarman will interest himself in this legislation and that he will be appointed to see that the law is carried out. Pure food makes healthy men, women and children and we should adopt all legitimate means to procure same. Tuberculin test for all cattle will be a step towards that end.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Democratic Registered Voters of Kent County.

Some time since I announced my purpose of being a candidate for the office of State's Attorney. I now desire the party adherents should be acquainted with the principles and policies that would control my official actions should my candidacy be approved, and on account of which I ask their suffrage.

The office of State's Attorney is a big lever and has considerable to do with the standard of morals of the community. Its powers may be used either to check the progress of reform or lead in the work of repressing every form of vice and compel respect for the law by a strict enforcement of it against all classes, the high and the low, the rich and the poor, without fear or favor, and without partiality or prejudice.

An officer of the law like that of public prosecutor should be selected by the people of the county by affirmative action, and not by any party-steering cabal or kitchen council, which seeks by intrigue and trading for their own selfish purposes to select the candidates, and which by premature negotiations would arbitrarily, if not impudently, exclude from consideration every one not identified with their selfish program. It is my belief that an important office like that of the State's Inquisitor and Prosecutor should not lightly be regarded as a trophy of any exclusive set to be handed out in requittal of any personal or stand-together service rendered in inter-party strife.

The arrogance of a coterie of factionalists claiming the right to dictate to the whole number of the Democratic electorate is surpassed only by their effort to accomplish their ulterior object and purpose by treachery and intrigue. Fortunately some progress has been made since the time when political oligarches fixed up slates to be ratified by the people. The Democrats themselves have enacted the General Primary Election Law that now prevails, and the whole theory and design of a direct primary law is to accord an equal right to every person to aspire to nomination for office. I ask, then, the vote of every Democrat, irrespective of factions, for this to my mind is in conformity with the spirit of that law.

I stand for (whether in the office of State's Attorney or out of it) a rigid enforcement of the criminal laws, and that without any discrimination between offenders. All, according to my notion, be they white or black, rich or poor, stand on an equality as violators of the law. I would employ all the powers of the office—and they are considerable—to impose the heavy hand of justice on those guilty of any kind of lawlessness; but especially would I use my best endeavors to curb and repress the nefarious business of the liquor traffic, the thing that the people of this community have expressed by their votes more than once shall not be, and also to curtail its usually accompanying form of crime, gambling. These two forms of vice are, according to my observations, the ones that work most injury to the people of this community.

I shall work for a successful administration of the Direct Primary Law and the Corrupt Practices Act, and will show my sincerity in this by seeing to it that no money shall be spent either in my own or anybody else's campaign, except that used for strictly legitimate purposes.

I have been told these expressions of my views are politically inexpedient, yet I do not hesitate, for I never would be content to secure any man's vote for public office under a misconception of my attitude on any question that seems involved.

I have no misconception about my capabilities. They are moderate enough. I have confidence, however, in my sense of public propriety. I fully realize the desperate nature of the undertaking, but I mean to appeal to the people and ask them to commission me as their servant in breaking down the flagrant abuses and lawlessness that I know, and everybody else knows, do exist.

In reaching a decision I ask the careful consideration of every Democratic voter of these and all the other vital issues, unmentioned by me, and assure them I will cheerfully acquiesce in their decision as expressed by their ballots.

HERBERT E. PERKINS.

ST. PATRICK DAY.

[WRITTEN TO THE NEWS.]

St. Patrick I have heard so all Catholics say,
Rid the county of reptiles up old Erin's way,
But he left to you a much greater work
And I trust from this duty you will not longer shirk.

Now an Editor's full armament so most of us think
Is a real level head, plenty of paper and ink,
Add to this a smile of real pious mirth,
Then run the old devil clear off the earth.

If you do this
With tin horns to our lips we will give you three toots,
And declare you have beat Patrick clear out of his boots.

FRIEND.

CONCERNING ROADS.

Messrs. Editors of Kent News:

After a visit to other counties of the State I come back to Old Kent and find that our roads, taken as a whole, are better than any of them. I have gone over a greater portion of Kent's roads and find that what they need is a drag used over every foot of them. I notice that Engineer Gibbs has already begun the use of the drag, and our advice to him is to keep it up. Let this drag be used constantly and in a short time our roads will surpass those of any other county. If there are not enough of these drags on hand, get more. There ought to be at least fifty used in the county right now. Every person who uses the roads should keep Road Engineer Gibbs posted as to any bridges that need repairing or any bad holes in the roads that should be fixed. Keep the Engineer informed and he will be in a better position to give us good roads.
