Our pastor, Rev. H. M. Thompson arrived Friday evening, March 31st. He was with us at the Friday evening prayer service and preached his first sermon here Sunday evening. The house was well filled and everyone who heard him seemed delighted. On account of the illness of her little grandchild, Mrs. Thompson has not as yet arrived. She is with her daughter, Mrs. Price, of Smyrna, Del.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

One of the finest sermons heard at this place in a long time was delivered in the M. E. Church on Sunday morning by the new pastor, Rev. Mr. Corkran. The theme was "The equipment of the Church of Jesus Christ for the battle of life." The text was, "Wheh I come unto you I shall come in the fullness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ." Rev. 15: 29. Among the preliminary remarks of the pastor were: "Man has come to his place of power in the world by the splendid equipment of usefulness in his work. Men may have very much in their favor. They may be high in position, wealthy, honored, their position most enviable. All these are good, but they are not the essential thing. The essential thing for the highest good of man is the fullness of the blessing of the gospel of Jesus Christ. So with the church, &c." The sermon was well received by a large congregation and has been extensively commented on during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Corkran have fallen in line of Sunday-school work as naturally as if accustomed to the work, the former as superintendent and the latter as teacher of the ladies' bible class. Both have made favorable impressions on the members and friends of the church.

After reading the disgusting testimonies of a number of the city ministers of the gospel at the Police Board trial, it was most refreshing to many of our people to read on Monday afternoon Cardinal Gibbons' article in the Sun, "To Rescue, Not Expose."

Mr. Samuel Urie, a prominent oysterman of the Haven, died last week after a short illness.

Mr. Simon Moffett was paralyzed last Thursday night at his home on the Rock Hall farm and is still in a serious condition.

Capt. C. R. Kerr is having the fence line of his property removed, and will have a new and more substantial fence erected.

Many of our fishermen have removed their fishing rigs up the bay this week for the spring shad fishing, &c.

Mr. E. E. Leary is installing new and larger machinery for cutting basket material the coming season.

The city primary fight is over with, resulting in favor of the Organization. Now the Sun readers of this section hope to have more decency in reading matter than they've had hashed up to them for two months past.

The political pot down this way is simmering with louder song since the publication of the campaign ticket in last week's NEWS. The ticket seems to please the "old-side" Democrats immensely. There is no "bob-tail" about it, either.

It seems that March had no intention of quitting on Friday of last week. He is still bumming around.

CONFERENCE NOTES.

It stated that no members had died during the past year. The deaconess work was commended, and the progress of the educational institutions under the authority of the conference notably Western Maryland College, was warmly praised.

Electioneering for the next convention is being done. The delegates from Westminster, Md.; Newark, N. J.; Laurel, Del.; Rhode Island Church, Washington, D C., and Lynchburg, Va. have started to test the sentiment in favor of their home towns. At the present time, from opinions expresssed by a number of the delegates, the preference seems to be in favor of the Rhode Island Church, in Washington, although it is admitted that Newark will be a strong

We are glad to report our town is to have a bank and we are "hats off to the People's Bank of Chestertown" for this great convenience and enterprise. It should be given the support of all the citizens!

An interesting debate will take place Saturday evening in the Men's Progressive Club on "Should Women Have Suffrage?" Messrs. Green and Turner represent the negative and Messrs. Willis and Howard for the affirmative. We feel confident the negative will win with hands down.

OYSTER CULTURE.

Commander Howard Explains Object of Recent Transplanting.

While in Baltimore Tuesday Commander T. C. B. Howard of the Oyster Police Force, defended the recent dredging of oysters on Hodges Bar after the time limit for dredging had expired by law.

"The object of the dredging," said Commander Howard, "was to transplant oysters to the waters of Calvert county to ascertain if the removed oysters would thrive in their new homes. It was an experiment in line with oyster culture and involved no commercial profit. The work was done by Capt. Thomas Webster without charge and was approved by the Board of Public Works.

"Since any individual has the right to dredge oysters for transplanting, it would certainly seem that the state has the right to do the same thing, and even if it legally has not that right I do not think anyone will condemn the Oyster Commission for violating the law in an effort to improve one of the greatest industries in Maryland."

The Bank That Pays

FOUR PER CENT

On Time Deposits

A Step In Advance

¶ In keeping with its predetermined policy to keep abreast of the times and give its patrons the greatest conveniences and the best of everything in banking, THE PEOPLES BANK will establish branches at various points throughout the county where conditions will warrant and the patronage will justify.

¶ Already arrangements are being perfected to open branches at Rock Hall and Betterton, two thriving communities that have long needed the facilities and conveniences of a local bank. It is expected to be ready to open these banks about April 10th to 15th.

¶ These branches will be in every practicable sense a full fledged, fully equipped bank, with every facility for making deposits, cashing of checks, and all exchange conveniences.

¶ Each branch will be equipped with a late, improved, burglar and fire-proof safe with a bonded officer in charge; regular banking hours and a perfect system. In every respect a local banking house, backed by all the resources of the parent institution.

¶ Fuller particulars next week. In the meantime the citizens of these respective communities should prepare to give their hearty support and liberal patronage to these institutions which are destined to add largely to the prestige of their home town and their own convenience.
