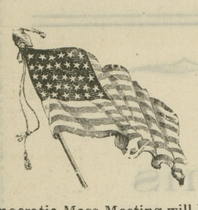
DEMOCRATIC

Mass-Meeting



A Democratic Mass Meeting will be held IN ROCK HALL,

Saturday, Nov. 4th, 1911

Some of the State Candidates will be present.

Speaking in the evening at 7.30.

A brass band will furnish music.

A WORD TO THE DEMOCRACY OF MARYLAND!

Don't Employ Satan to Revise The Ten Commandments.

If ever there was a time in the history of the Democratic party of Maryland, when it had a great duty to perform, it is the present, and it should use its utmost endeavor to elect the entire State ticketby such an overwhelming majority as to give renewed encouragement to the Democracy of the whole country, who are already buoyant with the hope of electing a President next year.

The prospects never were brighter, Democrats everywhere are cheerful, hopeful, aggressive and united; while the Republicans are split into many warring factions; the "Stand Patter," the "Progressive" and "Insurgent," each denouncing the other in the most scathing terms, and each bitterly fighting for the control of the next National Convention.

Their differences are so radical, that there is very little likelihood of them ever reuniting. They are quarreling over the only issue that, since the abolition of slavery, has supplied them with an excuse for their existence as a Party —the Protective? tariff.

The Agricultural West has at last awakened to the fact that the burden, it has so long uncomplainingly borne, meanwhile believing it to be "Prosperity," was in reality "Gold Brick", speciously imposed upon its shoulders by the Manufacturing East, and now is resenting the deception, by refusing longer to tote the fraudulent load.

In this the hour of its extremity, it is fast turning to the only Party in this country that has always held and taught the truth about the protective system—that it is a form of taxation, made to do, service for selfish and designing interests, by imposing all its burdens upon the consumer; taking from the many to enrich the few.

At this psychological moment, when the Republican party is disintegrating, and many fair minded and thinking men throughout the country, are deserting its standard and coming over to us, and a national victory is almost within our grasp, shall it be said that Maryland Democrats abandoned their party, and turned their State over to a tottering and discredited organization, because, forsooth, of certain frauds upon the ballot, committed by Republican and Democrat alike in Baltimore city? Magnify this crime and its resultant consequences to the highest degree, and yet how insignificant it appears alongside that which is in store for us, and yet how insignificant it appears along side that which is in store for us, and certain to follow a Republican victory in this State.

Maryland had a Republican regime from 1895 to 1899, and we vividly recall the carnival of graft and boodle that prevailed at Annapolis during the sessions of the Legislature, how in the House of Delegates Legislation was hawked about and sold for the best price obtainable, how in violation of their official oath they ignored the Eastern Shore law, as it was called to clear the way for the election of a U. S. Senator from the Western part of the State, how the patronage of the state was used to further personal ambitions, and as a reward for partisan service, how the Speaker of the House, after having been appointed Fire Marshal, was refused his Commission, because he did not facilitate the passage of certain measures, how the school boards of the state were Republicanized, and the public School system plunged into the vortex of partisan politics, how crime among colored people in Baltimore increased many fold, the Police records disclosing the startling fact that 1800 more assaults were there committed by them during the year 1897-8 than under the last two years of Democratic rule; Republican supremacy, wherever it prevails is always accepted by the worst element of that race as a guarantee of immunity from punishment for the commission of crime; while the party may not encourage this idea, it is one of the many evils that follows in its train.

Let us do our own house-cleaning, rather than appeal to a Party that robbed us of the Presidency in 1876, bought it away from us in 1880, padded the Census Lists in Charles, St. Mary's, Kent and Anne Arundel counties in 1900, so as to increase its representation in the Legislature, and bring about an unfair distribution of the School fund to the disadvantage of the children of other parts of the State. Though our sins may appear as scarlet, they are as white as wool in comparison with those that have been committed against us.

Such a record does not commend this Party for the work of purifying the politics of the State; as well might we employ Satan to revise the Ten Commandments, and expect their improvement as a rule of conduct between man and man.

We should not forget the elation with which we rejoiced, when the news flashed over the wires that Maine and Massachusetts had elected Democratic Governors, and how it thrilled the Democratic heart of the nation, because those States had heretofore, with rare exceptions, been Republican strongholds, and how the hope was indulged that their electoral votes would be added to the Democratic column in 1912.

Similar rejoicing and like hope will pervade the Republican camp over the election of a Republican Governor of Maryland, and Democrats in other states will stand appalled and discouraged at such a calamity.

From every home, where industry presides as a household god, there comes a cry for cheaper food and cheaper clothing, and their hope for relief is based upon a revision of the tariff downward by a Democratic Congress, sanctioned by a Democratic President, but if in this initial skirmish, preceding the great battle of 1912, Maryland should falter and sidestep, it will dishearten our leaders, and loyal Democrats everywhere, will be astonished and amazed, that for so trival a cause, we surrendered so much.

INDEPENDENTS RULED OUT

The Independent Democrats in Queen Anne's county have been informed by the decision of Attorney General Straus that their petition to have their names placed on the ticket are invalid. This gives the regulars in the county a clear field, and the election of their local ticket is assured.

Charles E. Tucker, clerk to the election supervisors of Queen Anne's, came to Baltimore Tuesday and secured the opinion from Mr. Straus. The Queen Anne's Republicans refrained from naming any candidates for local offices and the Independent Citizens' Party, a Democratic faction, followed suit. The Prohibitionists, however, named a full ticket with one exception.

Some weeks ago opposition to the Democratic county candidates appeared. and two Republicans and three independents entered the fight for two of the places in the House, for two of the county commissionerships and the sheriff's office. These men secured the necessary 200 names on their petitions to place them on the ticket, with the exception of Harry P. Skipper, a Republican, who entered the fight for the House.

The petitions were filed with the supervisors, but the latter refused to accept them, claiming that the papers did not comply strictly with the law. Mr. Straus, when appealed to, sustained the supervisors on the grounds that the petition signers do not certify their intention to vote for the candidates endorsed and because the certificates contained no party designation or principle. The candidates claimed that these technicalities were oversights.

IDA LEWIS.

They called Ida Lewis the "Grace Darling of America," and she had quite as just a claim to fame as the English heroine. Most of her life has been spent in the old lighthouse at Lime Rock that guards the harbor of Newport. Her father, keeper of the lighthouse, was paralyzed in the fifties, and his 16-year-old daughter took up his duties. It was in 1858 that she began the series of daring rescues that resulted in saving so many lives. A sailboat capsized and four young men were left helpless in a heavy sea, Ida Lewis sailed out in her skiff and brought them ashore. One bitter cold day in 1866 she rowed out through a storm and saved a man drifting helpless in an open boat. In a terrible gale in 1867 she saw two men with a boatload of sheep about to sink in the harbor. She saved the men, then returned and saved the sheep. She feared neither storm nor sea.

These are only a few examples of the courage in saving human life which made her one of the best known of American women. Though she was married to William H Wilson in 1870, she will always be known as Ida Lewis. Her honors brought few substantial rewards, and she has lived her seventy-two years in the old lighthouse whose lamps she trimmed as a child and from which she began to sally forth on her errands of mercy more than half a century ago.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

Last but not the least, is the Wesleyan festival and supper held on the church lawn this Saturday evening. A sumptuous supper of all the delicacies of the season will be served. Any one failing to oe there will miss one of the best opportunities to do a good deed and be made happy.

Walking parties from two to six in number have become quite a fad hereabout.

Mrs. K. Kramer and daughter, Miss Freda, of the city. were guests at the paternal home in South R. H. over Sunday.

Mrs. Thomas Warren, of Betterton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. F. Sewell near Grev's Inn.

Capt. John Crouch is the "boss" oyster runner from Chester river. He is making three trips to the city per week. The tongmen ought to highly appreciate such generous accommodation.

The abundance of chestnuts in these parts is greater than ever was known by our people.

Early risers are treated with a plain view of the comet in the eastern sky.

The M. E. Sunday School is taking time by the forelock by rehearsing songs and music for the Christmas entertainment. At the same time interesting class exercises in the school are cut in half, much to the regret of teachers and scholars.

Hurrah for "Baker, he's the stuff and three cheers for the Eastern Shore."

Mr. A. A. Toulson is taking respite from arduous labor and is visiting among friends in Queen Annes county.

The Odd Fellows are going to have a mock trial at their next meeting.

Max Alexander, the hustling proprietor of Rock Hall's fine department store, has laid in a big stock of house furnishings and has obliging clerks to wait on the public.

BETTERTON NOTES.

Mrs. Arthur Cadwallader, of Baltimore, is the guest of relatives here. She attended the wedding of her niece, Miss Myrtle Mann, to Mr. Cordray Loud, on Tuesday last.

Mrs. Carlton Moore entertained the Ladies' Embroidery Club on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Octavia Bowman has returned from a visit to Baltimore relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Mann left on Tuesday night for Atlantic City.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crew and Mrs. John Y. Crew and little daughter spent several days last week with relatives in Baltimore.

Miss Katie Crew has returned from a visit to Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Owens, Miss Katie Crew and Mr. Howard Turner went to Philadelphia Thursday morning to see the ball game at Shibe Park.

Mrs. Elizabeth Newsome went to a Baltimore hospital on Tuesday morning, where she will undergo an operation.

Miss Elizabeth Brice is at home after an extended visit with friends in Baltimore.

We are glad to report Mr. and Mrs. Eben Crew are recovering from their recent illness.

Raymond is the proud father of a bouncing boy.

Mr. William H. Crew is painting and renovating Hotel Emerson, which he recently purchased.

Sunday at the M. E. Church: Sunday School at 2 p. m., George Owens, superintendent; 3 p. m. preaching by pastor, Rev. J. H. Beauchamp, subject "Hope," text Romans 8: 24; Epworth League 7.30.
