A BOBBING ROMANCE.

A wintry night, the moon shines bright,
The stars look down with clear cold light.

A vast expanse of glittering ice,
A coasting hill all smooth and nice.

A hooded maid with scarlet mitts,
A fur-lined cloak and her rubber "tips."

A college youth in an ulster long,
A polo cap and moustache brown.

A bob of latest manufacture,
With rope and wood of finest texture.

A maiden seated with much grace,
An arm around her slender waist.

A gentle push, a rapid glide
Safe to the bottom of the slide.

A slippery walk up the hillside tall,
A gentle scream and a snowy fall.

Another "Lob" to the foot of the hill,
A crash, a plunge, a general spill.

A moustache close to a scarlet cheek,
A triumphant youth, a maiden meek,

A disregard of the wintry weather:
"Say ——, we bob through life together?"

—— sip from the dewy eyes half wet:
"Here, I was sure we would never upset."

BEWARE OF QUAIL.—A STARTLING STATEMENT OF THOSE WHO LIKE THEM AS FOOD.—The following startling news appears in the Washington Republican: It will be recollected that at the time Buchanan was inaugurated a large number of persons were poisoned at a certain prominent Washington hotel. The winter immediately preceding the inauguration was an unusually hard one. The proprietor of the hotel, to please his guests, had procured, as is stated, all the quail in the surrounding country. These birds had been starved to such an extent that they were compelled to feed upon poisonous berries and leaves until their flesh became thoroughly permeated with the poison.—A thing almost certainly destined to produce either death or irremediable disease in the system, depending upon such berries and buds as make their flesh poisonous. The deep snows in the country prevent the birds from receiving their usual sustenance from seed and the sands or small gravel which assist in digesting and assimilating the same, and consequently they are driven to those modes of sustaining life which, while they may be useful to themselves for the time being, render their flesh highly injurious to human beings as an article of food.

Stranger things have happened than the ineligibility of Chester A Arthur for the place of Vice President under the explicit proviso of the Constitution. The evidence thus far produced points apparently to the conclusion that the Vice President-born or that he not [illegible] be one singular concatenation of coincidences to shirk a settlement of the dispute. Lawyer Shipman, of New York, has given an installment of facts which show that Arthur was not born the year he asserts nor in the towns he asserts—for it will be seen, on comparing his campaign lives, that the compilers do not agree on the town of his birth. The Senate committee, it is vaguely announced, have the subject in mind, but have as yet taken no official action. Certainly, if Mr. Arthur has the proofs of his nativity, he can simplify matters very much by sending them on to Washington. The lawyer on the other side offers to prove that he was born in Canada by witnesses cognizant of the fact.

Fees of Doctors.

Visits is $3.00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

A great statesman's fame: The Galveston darkies read the papers a great deal more than one would suppose. Yesterday Tom Buckner, who keeps a colored saloon, applied to the county clerk for a marriage license. That official, thinking to joke the applicant, said he could not issue the license unless Tom gave a $500 bond not to apply for a divorce for a whole year. Tom laughed and said: "I kin gib de bond, but den you must gib a bond to keep dat ar Rescue Couklin off Galveston Island, or dar will be trouble, sush."—Galveston News.

A great man and a small boy: The position of Grant is very much like that of the boy at the Christmas party who was blubbering. He was asked why he did not eat some more, and he said he was full up to his chin already. "Haven't you got any pockets?" "They are full already," was the tearful response. "Then, what are you crying about?" "Because I haven't got another pocket."

What Ails You?

Is it a disordered liver giving you a yellow skin or costive bowels, which have resulted in distressing piles or do you kidneys refuse to perform their functions? If so, your system will soon be clogged with poisons. Take a few doses of Kidney Wort and you'll feel like a new man—nature will throw off every impediment and each organ will be ready for duty.—Druggists sell both the Dry and Liquid.—N. Y. Atlas.

A model husband: Budaeus, one of the most learned men of the sixteenth century, and the librarian of Francis I. of France, was engaged in deep study in his library, when his servant came running to him in great fright to tell him that the house was on fire. "Go," said Budaeus, with perfect calmness and hardly raising his eyes from his book, "and inform your mistress; 'tis her concern; you know I never interfere in domestic matters."

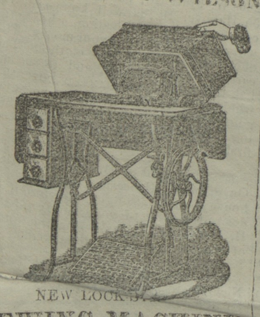
WHEELER & WILSON



NEW LOCK STITCH

SEWING MACHINE!

With Rotary Hook, Straight Needle, Independent Take-up, Automatic Under-tension, and improved Silent Feed, are declared by the best authorities the best sewing apparatus in the world. At the Centennial Exhibition in 1876, and the ——— Institute at New York was awarded the first premium, and also at the late Paris Exposition in 1878, over eighty competitors, the New No. 2 Wheeler & Wilson Co. was awarded the only gold medal for sewing machine. This machine is adapted to every grade of sewing. They are superior to all others in point of speed, durability, precision and ease of operation, regularity, strength, and beauty of stitch, range of work, facility of management, perfection of construction and elegance of finish; has a self-threading needle, no threading to do; bobbins hold more cotton than any other machine; make no noise while running; will wear longer than any two shuttle machines; no complication; perfectly simple; a child ten years old can run and operate it with ease.

The country is now being flooded with low price and poorly made sewing machines since the price has been reduced, and purchasers should be very cautious, and when they buy, buy from a reliable company. Ten dollars is nothing to be compared to getting a poor machine. We don't compete in price, but we do in a good machine. Our prices range with all first class machines, $45, $50 and $60, and a large discount given for cash.

MALTBY HOUSE,

BALTIMORE.

APRIL 1st, 1879.

Recognizing the fact that the relationship existing between the Counties of Maryland and the City of Baltimore is such that residents of the Counties have occasion to visit the City frequently during the year; in consideration of these facts and the liberal patronage extended the "Maltby" in the past, I deem it but a matter of justice that some discrimination should be made in their favor. I have therefore concluded to REDUCE the price of board
