e received, yesterday, a copy of the edings at "a large and respectable ng of the Repub[illegible] the cou-ty of Salem." in New Jersey, at which among other resolutions, the following were adopted:

Resolved, That we will support the election of WM. H. CRAWFORD,

Because, by honest and persevering exertions, without the aid of wealth or influential friends, he has risen from a station of obscurity to a high place in a Nation's confidence:

Because, from the year 1795, to the present time, he has been a decided and unwavering Democrat:

Because, he and his political friends have effected a reduction of the United States' Army to a reasonable peace establishment; have prevented the execution of the expensive projects of the Secretary of War, and have reduced the exorbitant emoluments of custom-house officers, thus saving the necessity of loans or increased taxes upon the people, and producing a surplus revenue for the payment of the national debt:

Because, he is the friend of Jefferson, of Madison, of Macon, of Pennington, of Dickerson, of Ruggles, of Lowrie, and in short, of the most experienced and worthy Democrats of the country:

And because he is the regular and principal candidate of the great democratic party of the whole Union.

Resolved, That we will support ALBERT GALLATIN for Vice-President, because he is one of the Fathers of the Democratic party, who stood forth in defence of the people's rights, when many had not courage to do so; and because he is a profound Statesman, having the same political views as Jefferson and Crawford.

JACKSON IN NEW JERSEY.

Voice of Hunterdon.—A Meeting of the inhabitants of the County of Hunterdon, was held in pursuance of public notice at the Court-House in Flemington on Wednesday the 4th day of August, instant, for the purpose of obtaining an expression of public sentiment on the approaching Presidential Election. The meeting consisted of four or five hundred persons and appointed John Cavanagh, Chairman, and Benjamin Egbert, Secretary.

Several modes of ascertaining the sense of the meeting were proposed: whereupon it was resolved, that the names of of the several candidates for the Presidency be announced separately by the chairman, and each person present express who was his candidate, when his name was mentioned:—

The Honorable Andrew Jackson, was nominated, and a large majority of those present, at least THREE FOURTHS, manifested that he was their choice.

A committee of five persons were then appointed to report resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting, who shortly returned, when the following, among others, were unanimously adopted:

That we hold paramount, in our estimate of the qualifications of a candidate for the high and responsible office of Chief Magistrate, Intelligence, Patriotism, Purity and decision of character, ability and promptitude in execution.

That, however highly we may estimate the character and pretensions of the other candidates for this office, a retrospect of the political, civil, & military career of the Honorable ANDREW JACKSON, the purity of his private character, the ability and integrity with which he has filled the different departments of public life, his known attachment to the institutions of his country, and the pure principles of the Christian religion; the security which we feel from the pledge of his revolutionary services, in connection with those more glorious during the late war, and a long life of experience and devotion to his country, claims from us our highest confidence; and for him the most honorable office in the gift of the people.

That WE will support the Honorable ANDREW JACKSON, as a candidate for the office of President of the United States at the ensuing election.

JOHN CAVANAGH, Chairman.
Benjamin Egbert, Secretary.

Emigration to Hayti.—The Baltimore Gazette states that "the brig Strong sailed on Wednesday from this port bound to Cape Haytien, with twenty-one emigrants on board, 19 adults and 2 children. They went of in fine spirits amid the shouts and acclamations of themselves and their friends. They are a very respectable body, most of them mechanics, and several of them well educated. Much good to the cause is anticipated from the accounts of the country, which they will transmit to their friends in this country. The Strong had a full cargo of goods and could not accommodate more passengers. Considering the short time for preparation since Citizen Granville arrived in our city, the number of respectable emigrants that have with so much alacrity embraced the liberal offers of President Boyer is exceedingly flattering, and there is every reason to believe that thousands will avail themselves of the earliest opportunity to follow their friends and brethren to the land of promise."

The brig De Witt Clinton, captain Barstow, 300 tons burthen, sailed from New York on Thursday morning for Port au Prince, with one hundred and twenty free coloured men and women, who are emigrating to Hayti with a view to better their condition.

The Norfolk Beacon mentions that a man by the name of Charles Lavalette, a native of France, who recently arrived in that town from Richmond where he had prosecuted the business of paper hanger with considerable success, made two attempts to put a period to his existance. He first visited the shop of a physician, for the purpose of being bled, which was done pretty copiously, as he appeared to be suffering under a severe inflammation of the brain. Shortly after this operation was performed, he seized a small anvil, and before he was discovered by the boy in the shop, inflicted a severe blow on his head, which however did him no serious injury—Having become more composed, he was conducted to the house of a gentleman, a countryman of his, when, as if bent on self destruction, he took a razor from his trunk and made several gashes in his throat, before any one was apprised of his design—and for several minutes repulsed those who finally succeeded in taking the razor from him.

He had in his pocket one thousand & nine dollars which has been taken possession of by a friend for safe keeping.—He has four children in Paris, and was about to proceed thither on a visit to them

New mode of Hoaxing.—The other day a report was put in circulation, by the facetious captain of the Surprise, that the famed Sea Serpent had actually made his appearance in our waters.—Many citizens fond of the marvellous, immediately repaired to the Boat to ascertain the truth, when it was corroborated by every hand on board. They first discribed him a little below Alexandria, followed him up, and actually saw him pass through the draw—the captain said he could distinctly discern his head and tail, and supposed him to be about seventy feet long. This was too glorious an opportunity of beholding this new wonder of the world for fresh water folks to miss, and away they went scouring the water side from the steam-boat up to the Three Sisters, taking especial care lest the monster should pop up and gulp them down in one swallow, when lo & behold a long black Yankee schooner was discovered with "Sea Serpent" painted on her stern. The hoaxed were no longer at a loss; but it is said, they threatened to throw the captain overboard, for indulging his merriment at their expence.—Metropolitan.

PORTO CAVELLO.—The schooner Eliza, captain Guarnego, arrived at this port yesterday in fifteen days from Porto Cavello. The only American vessel left there was the schr Esther, Bowen, of Warren, R. I. which was fitting out as a cartel for Havana, to convey thither the officers and crew of the Spanish Corvette Ceres, captured some time ago by the the Colombians. A fleet of transports, having on board 3500 troops, sailed from Porto Cavello on the 21st ult. for Chagres, destined to join the army of Gen. Bolivar in Peru. They were under the convoy of the sloops of war Pinchica and Ureca, commanded by commodore Daniels. The sloops of war are ordered to Philadelphia, after having seen the troops safely landed at Chagres.—Balt. Am.

Peru.—Letters from Chagres to the 11th July, received at New York, mentions that the Liberator Bolivar, was expected to open the campaign in May. His force consists of 12,000 infantry, and 2000 cavalry, all in high spirits. His head quarters were at Jauja. At the last accounts, Callao was rigidly blockaded by the combined naval forces of Columbia and Peru, and no vessel was permitted to enter on any pretence whatever.

From the Charleston Mercury.

To the Afflicted.—Having been afflicted with a severe rheumatism for nearly four years, in that time having tried almost every possible means to effect a cure, medical advice being to no purpose, I became at last, about four months ago, entirely helpless, unable to turn in bed or dress myself, suffering the most excruciating pains both night and day; at last I heard of Swaim's Panacea; after some trouble I found the genuine; three bottles have made me sound, free from pain; restored my appetite and strength—I am now on board the ship Carolinian doing my duty.

ROBERT LINN.

The counterfeiters of Swaim's Panacea have done considerable mischief. I caution all my fellow seamen against these medical pirates.

It is computed that the young Duke of Buceleugo will have a revenue of two hundred thousand pounds sterling. One half of his estates is situated in Scotland the other in England.

The Cockade.—In the fourth volume of Marshall's life of Washington, page 232, among other observations on the arrival of the French troops under the Count De Rochambeau, we find the following, "On this occasion, General Washington recommended to his officers, as a symbol of friendship and affection for their allies to engraft on the American Cockade, which was Black, a White relief, that being the colour of the French Cockade."

Five Thousand Dollars Reward.—The Atlantic and American Marine Insurance Companies of New York have offered five thousand dollars reward to any person who will deliver to them the schooner Dolphin, and the specie, about $40,000, which was in her when she upset at sea on the 10th July last.

Praiseworthy.—In Philadelphia on Thursday last, a man fell into one of the wharves, and would probably have been drowned but for the timely assistance of a youth, who plunged in and supported him until a boat came to their aid. The name of this noble youth, we learn from the Philadelphia papers, is James P. Kid, a midshipman in our navy, and that this is the third or fourth instance of similar meritorious conduct.

The editor of the Portsmouth Journal, in accordance with the wishes of a correspondent, gives the following as the whole name of Gen. La Fayette—Marie-Paul-Joseph-Yves-Gilbert-Mottiers de la Fayette Corn in Ohio.—Extract of a letter dated Cincinnati, Aug. 25, 1824.—"Any quantity of Corn may be had at eight cents per bushel, deliverable in town as soon as it is fit to pull, say in two or three weeks, as it is very forward, and the crop more abundant than was ever known.

A letter from Paris, of a late date, mentions the arrival of Mr. John Randolph, of Roanoke, in that capital, and that his strange costume attracted much attention.

Philadelphia, September 8.—Yesterday morning an attempt was made to rescue a runaway slave, on his way to prison.—The negro was brought before Judge Levy and after an impartial hearing, remanded to jail. Being put into the custody of the Deputy sheriff and some of the Sheriff's officers, he was on his way to Arch street Prison, when a rescue was attempted by 60 or 70 negroes, armed with clubs. The officers held to their charge, and we are happy to learn, that seven of the ringleaders; together with the slave, have been committed to prison.—Journal.

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—The public are cautioned against receiving counterfeit one dollar notes on the Farmerss Bank of Delaware. The engraving is badly executed, and the signatures appear to be written with the same ink, being of a glosy texture.

The New York Union Course Races will take place on the 4th, 5th and 6th of October, next. First day, four mile heats for a purse of $500—Second day, three mile heats for $300—Third day, two mile heats, for a purse for $200.

DIED,

In this county, on the 14th instant, at the residence of Dr. Travers, Miss PRISCILLA TRAVERS, at the advanced age of 80 years.

COMMUNICATED.

Obituary.—Died, at Mount Pleasant farm, near Snow-Hill, Md. on the evening of the 7th inst. after an illness of a very few days, Mrs. MARY SMITH, consort of Samuel R. Smith, esq. in the 25th year of her age. In closing her short lived career, this amiable and interesting female has left a melancholy void in the circle of her friends & acquaintance; a fond parent has lost a darling and an only daughter, a disconsolate husband his greatest source of earthly felicity, and a numerous train of friends and relations, an example of virtue beyond her years; but they have no cause to sorrow as those without hope, having a comfortable and a heart-cheering assurance, that her departed spirit is now enjoying the smiles of that Saviour of whom she was a follower, and in the redemption of whose blood she had long since made a public profession.

When unspotted innocence is cut off in the tender bud of life, what cheering, what sorrowing emotions rankle in the bosom of sympathy; how grateful is that celestial ray which beams around the benighted death-bed, and lights up the path of a beloved friend to the regions of bliss; but still the tributary tear must flow! kind heaven has softened our hearts to weep, and now we are called on to mourn a privation which this vale of tears cannot restore. In her those properties which deck and beautify the fairer part of creation, were happily concentrated. She was devoted and sincere as a friend, and cheerful and interesting as a companion; the amiable texture of her youthful mind, endeared her to all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, and she lived beloved and died regretted by all who knew her.

Accept this tribute, 'tis nought but thine own,
By kindred hands of friendship given,
Though swift thy passage to the silent tomb,
A longer sojourn waits the good in Heaven.

Though nipt thy blossom in its bud unblown,
Its life-glow blighted by thy Maker's will,
Yet virtues rare, such as thy stay has shewn,
Shall live in verdant memory still.

Snow-Hill, Md. Sept. 10th, 1824.
