the present instance, that they ol-most triumphant refutation of the ble sophistries which issue occay from the Imperial Presses of a and St. Petersburgh. If we come situation of the Americans, as it cribed in the simple language of President's message, with that of bjects of their Imperial Majesties, e contrast strikes us! whilst it conthose political predilections which are in common with a freeman. In ountry, we see every thing having ency to make what his Creator ind him to be, lending itself to this social consummation—universal tion cherished; industry encouragerson and property enjoying the perfect protection; and the popula-ncreasing with a rapidity to which n find no parallel, and what is exdinary, without the vice or misery which it is too often accompained er countries. We may use this age now, in speaking of the Amer-without hurting the prejudices or ride of a single Englishman; for prosperity, instead of proving a e of alarm to us, has materially con-ed to our own; whilst their emulan the arts which we cultivate in ion, have served only to call forth nergies of our national character—is so true, that the wealth, come, and power of England, have add at a pace fully as rapid as that have characterised the progress of mericans since the establishment of independence. Yet for, half this d, we were involved in a war of unleled expense; and, in spite of this back, we have no reason to fear a arison. The external relations of nited States present as favorable pect as their domestic interests.— same spirit of justice and moderanimates both; and the results are ritish Compliments.—We observe satisfaction the cordial and affecte manner in which Mr. Monroe mends to the legislative body, a deration of the merits of Mr. De Fayette, and of his services to rican freedom. The spirit in which ecommendation is likely to be acted ay be judged from the reception to the brave and virtuous object of the Senate and House of Repretives, on the 9th of December, each ese bodies appointing committees troduce him to their respective bers, and rising when he entered, essing him collectively through the ker, and paying him afterwards individual respects. Who does nvy La Fayette's feelings, and still the feelings of those who did he homage? Upon the whole, the h of the American President would the most studied and profound aton; and, as we have already hinted, t be taken as a useful model for personages in other parts of the l, when they profess to enlighten subjects by a royal view of the nal interests and concerns.

lombia and Hayti.—Gen. Santann his address as Vice President of mbia, has taken a view of the favor-state of their relations with for-powers; and after a brief notice of co, Gautamala, the United States, Great Britain, proceeds as follows:
The Executive of Hayti has des-ed an accredited agent to this Gov-ent, to propose the adjustment of eaty of defensive alliance against respective invaders of both territo-The language of liberty employed e propositions of the Agent, and the te services which the Liberator red from the humane and sensible n, in the hour of calamity, have misled the Executive in the line of uct it was its duty to adopt on so ate a negotiation. Hayti defended independence against the pretenof France, of which she was a part, Colombia defended her's against of Spain. A defensive alliance Hayti, would place us under the ssity of going to war with a nation st whom we have no cause of com-t, and whom we ought not unssarily to provoke."

e Vice President further observes, the proposition from Hayti is laid ntil the American plenipotentaries ident Boyer, is not to require an acvledgement of the independence of ever strong the measure may be idered, we should deem it a mere f duty and preservation, and believe a treaty so constituted between all Republics of South America, would cnt the adoption of any hostile steps e part of the Continental powers, in the present state of the question, difficult to say what the ultimate rmination of those powers may be; therefore a unity of sentiment, and ncert in action, cannot but be ad-ble. A defensive alliance against attacks from Europe, is recommend-y the strongest considerations of cy. The government of Colombia ted by forbearance.—N. Y. Adv'r.

SUMMARY.

Hat-bodies.—A machine for making Hats is in operation near Philadelphia, propelled by a steam engine of four horse power. The expense of manufacturing a hat body by this machine is only four cents.

Late King of France.—The funeral of the late king of France is said to have cost the nation about $400,000. This sum would pay the salary of the President of the United States sixteen years.

On Thursday afternoon, Mr. Thomas Arnold, shipwright, an industrious and worthy man, fell from a scaffolding, supposed to be nearly 30 feet, in the U. S. navy yard, which he survived but two hours.

Richard C. Cotton, member of the North Carolina Legislature, from Chatham county, has been expelled from that body for 'his known immorality.'

The Legislature of New York have it in comtemplation to open a great State Road, from the Hudson to Portland, on Lake Erie.

The Post-master at Bennington, Vt. has advertised a reward of 100 dollars for the apprehension of Charles Doolittle, late publisher of the Vermont Gazette, who had robbed the post-office of letters containing money.

His excellency C. D. E. J. Bangeman Huygens, has been appointed by his Majesty the King of the Netherlands, his Envoy Exraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States, and was to set out on his embassy in the course of the present month.

An advertisement in a Nashville paper, says, that a company, to be composed of 100 men, would assemble in the town of Jackson, (Tennessee) on the 1st of April next, "prepared to go out to the city of Santa Fe, on the Rio del Norte, in the province of Texas, for the purpose of selling goods to the inhabitants."

The New-York Statesman, says that Bishop Hobart has preached at Rome.—He is said to be the only Protestant Minister that has preached in that city.

The charter of the Planters and Merchants Bank, at Huntsville, in Mississippi, has been declared to be forfeited, by a proclamation of the Governor, conformably to a provision in its charter, because it has refused to pay specie for its notes.

Mr. Crawford resigned the office of Secrefary of the Treasury on the 3d inst. and is now a private citizen.

The Cincinnatti, Ohio, Gazette, says, that a young woman of that county, about sixteen years of age, has presented her husband with four fine boys, at one birth; they were all perfect, in fine health, and likely to do well.

Mr. Thomas Edwards, a farmer of King William county, Va. was murdered on Tuesday week, by two of his slaves and his body cut to pieces.

On Wednesday, the 12th ult. James Hudson was executed at Fall Creek, Madison county, Indiana, for the murder of Logan, an Indian Chief. Previous to being swung off, he made a full confession in which he detailed the circumstances connected with the murder of Logan and the other Indians, in an interesting manner.

Two fine Shad caught in the Hackensack river, were sold on Monday last, in New-York, for four dollars.

The Legislature of Maine, on Monday week adjourned sine die, after a session of fifty-five days, having passed one hundred and eighty acts and seventy-eight resolves. Among the acts are twelve for the incorporation of Banks, and seve- for the incorporation of Manufacturing and Bridge Companies.

Professor Everett has accepted an invitation to deliver an Address at Concord Mass. on the ensuing 19th April; being half a century since the memorable Concord fight.

The Inaugural Ball at the Capitol is said to have been splendid in every point. The President, the Vice-President, and the venerable ex-President, Monroe, were all present.

Breach of Promise of Marriage.—A verdict of 3,500 dollars for the fair plantiff was given in the state of Maine in an action of this kind, brought by a Miss Pease against a Mr. Stetson. Lover's vows, if they can be proved, are worth something in these days, and faithless swains are in a fair way to be banished by juries from the world.

The Louisville (Kentucky) papers mention that the inhabitants of that town were "amused" in the middle of January, witnessing "a counter current in emigration up the Ohio, river." The emigrants were the Harmonites, who sold their paradise to Mr. Owen of Lanark.

It is asserted in the West Chester paper that a gentleman of that place killed thirty-five crows at a shot. This is the true story of "black crows."

Coffee.—We understand that a sale of 800,000lbs of Coffee was effected in Philadelphia on Tuesday last for cash, at 11½ cents, Short price.

The new Mexican loan, taken by Messrs. Goldsmidts, at 86¾ per cent, was to the amount of £3,200,000, bearing an interest of 6 per cent.

Obituary.

"Thee we adore, Eternal Name,
And humbly own to Thee, How feeble is our mortal frame, What dying worms are we!"

Departed this life on the 18th ult. in the vicinity of New Market, Mrs. Margaret Williams. Her services as a benefactor to the human family for the last thirty years, have been appreciated with that degree of respect that is due from her neighbors to the laborer in the vineyard. Her happy soul has taken its flight to the mansions of eternal bliss; where troubles cease, and labor is at rest. She fought the good fight, and claimed a redeeming Saviour, and her election is sure.—[Communicated.]

Copartnership.

The subscriber takes this opportunity of returning his unfeigned thanks to his friends & the public, for their very liberal patronage to his mercantile concerns in New Market, for several years past. He has now associated himself with a copartner, ARTHUR MULDROON, and under the firm of ROBERTS and MULDROON, the business will hereafter be conducted. From the very considerable augmentation to his former stock in trade, the principal part of which has been laid in for cash in the Philadelphia market with the utmost care and attention, it is confidently to be expected, that their assiduous application to business and their unremitting desire to please, connected with the reduction of their prices, will be crowned with a satisfactory result. The highest allowances in the way of trade will be made for all articles of produce, Muskrat skins, Feathers, Rags &c. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves, as doubtless their taste will be gratified and their pockets spared by an immediate compliance with this invitation.
