MOODY & LUSBY | MOODY & LUSBY

DO YOU SEE THIS FELLOW?

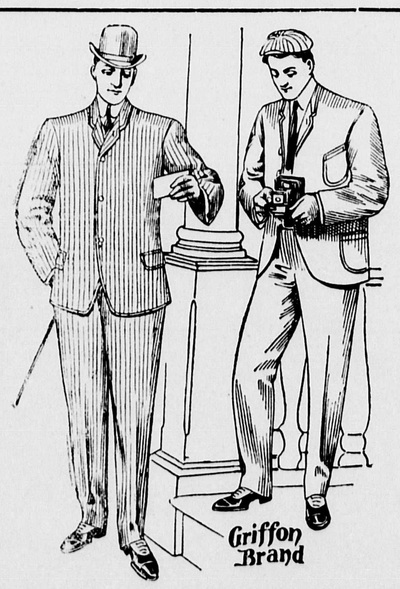

LOOKS SURPRISED, DON'T HE?

Well, this is about the expression of those visiting our Regular Semi-Annual Reduction Sales.

We now propose to clear up all Summer goods at very much reduced prices.

Now we mean reductions from our already low quotations and every article of merchandise in our establishment is marked in plain figures. You can well see the significance and realize the difference in prices asked for similar qualities by city houses.

Come early while we have a fair assortment in Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, Straw Hats, Summer Underwear, Separate Trowsers and all Summer Merchandise will now be cleaned up.

MOODY & LUSBY

Directly Opposite Court House, CHESTERTOWN, MD

THIRTY Washington College students are at the training table and are on the football field daily, under the direction of Coach Halbert. Two teams are being picked and the prospects are good for first-class teams. The second team's first game will be with Baltimore City College at Chestertown Oct. 7. The first team will go to Western Maryland College on Oct. 14 and play a game. The young ladies of the college have organized a basket ball team. A match game of basket ball with the Baltimore Woman's College would be a great card if it can be arranged.

A MARRIAGE LICENSE was granted this week to Edw. C. Newton and Miss Ida Taylor.

Unfortunate.—Ezekiel R. Marker, a farmer residing near Warwick, has been singularly unfortunate this year, and has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood. Four months ago, while Mr. Marker was at work on a binder, getting it in order to use in his harvest field, he was struck in the eye by a small piece of steel, causing him intense suffering and finally the loss of the eye. At the time it was feared he would go totally blind, as the other eye was affected. He had just recovered from the shock, when his wife was stricken with typhoid fever, and she has been very ill for three weeks. Last week Mr Marker was taken sick with same disease, and this week the two older children were stricken.

LOCAL NOTES.

Sales of Property.—Mrs. S. A. Ivens has sold, through J. Waters Russell, her home uptown to Mrs. Margaret Wheeler for $700.

Mr. D. James Hall, of Millington, has sold his Queen Anne's farm to Mr. Thomas Jarman for $3,000.

Improvements.—Mr. Joseph E. Edwards will erect a shop on High street next door to Bartley's furniture store. It will be used as a meat store.

Mr. C. S. Smith is making extensive improvements to his property on Cross street. It will be occupied by the Adams Express Company.

Mr. W. L. Fowler and force of painters are putting the finishing touches on Mr. Samuel Vannort's elegant home.

Mr. T. B. Elliott is improving the jail fence by a coat of blue-green paint.

Marriages.—Miss Alice Roberta youngest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R W. Todd, well known in Kent, was married last Wednesday afternoon at her home in Baltimore, to Mr. George W. McCormick, of Philadelphia, the ceremony being performed by her father.

CARDS are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Bertha Clark Stengle, daughter of Presiding Elder and Mrs. Stengle, of Salisbury, Md., to Rev. James Wesley Colona, pastor of the M. E. Church at Princess Anne, Md. The ceremony will take place in Asbury M. E. Church, Salisbury, on Wednesday, October 4th, at 12 o'clock, noon.

Miss Lucy J. Winterode, daughter of Mrs. B. J. Winterode, of Delight, Md., and Mr. Frederick M. Gemmill, of Baltimore, were quietly married Sept. 18th at the home of Rev. J. G. Murray in Baltimore. Mr. Gemmill is a former Kent countian and is traveling salesman for Loemy Drug Co.

Quarrel's Fatal Effect.—Wednesday evening Addison Hardesty, of Chestertown, went on the lawn of Mr. G. T. Lanahan, in Sudlersville, and began an argument with that gentleman. Blows followed, and during the engagement Mr. Hardesty broke two pailings over Mr. Lanahan's head and tore his shirt nearly off. Mrs. Lanahan, who was suffering with a weak heart, was a witness to the fight and became so frightened that she died within a few minutes. She was about 66 years of age.

Raising Hogs.—A young bachelor of Chestertown is a thorough believer in the wisdom of investing in hogs as the following transaction will clearly prove. He purchased four pigs in April for $14, has paid $21 for feed and last Saturday sold same for $48—a clear profit of $13. If he had raised a hundred hogs he would have realized $325 in four months!

Removed to Kent.—The September term of the Circuit Court for Cecil County adjourned Tuesday, after being in session just seven days. Notwithstanding there were 100 civil cases on the docket, not a single one of that class of cases was called for trial. Many of them were continued, while others were settled after being marked for trial. The case of State vs. John Deer, colored, indicted by the grand jury on the charge of feloniously assaulting Bertha Taylor, also colored, aged 13 years, of Port Deposit, was removed to the Kent County Court, at Chestertown, for trail. Deer was tried the latter part of last week, but the jury in the case failed to agree upon a verdict after about 20 hours' deliberation.

A Splendid Outing.—A jolly party left Chestertown Wednesday morning on Eliason's speedy yacht and spent the day upon the beautiful Chester. An old-time oyster scald and fish fry was the feature of the day at Cliff City, under the direction of Prof. Chas. Stratton and wife, both of whom were indefatigable in their efforts to make the outing a success. Such a feast of good things is surely only to be found in old Kent. Among those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hydie Thompson, Mrs. Mamie Sheppard; Misses Viola Eidman and Grace Seward, of Baltimore; Misses Helen Jefferson, Maud, Avis and Bessie Sheppard, Marian Lusby, Violet Evans, Bessie Nicholson, Clara Usilton; Messrs. J. E. Ferguson, D. B. Ford, Warren Hurlock, J. Waters Russell, Horace Nicholson, W. B. Usilton, Jr., and Ralph Evans. John Bradshaw was chef and is an expert in his line.

Family Wiped Out.—The family of James Tribbit, who resides on a small farm two miles from Henderson, Caroline county, is almost wiped out by typhoid fever. The family consisted of 11 members—father, mother and nine children, They were poor, yet very energetic people, and when the fever entered the little farm home the father, not realizing the danger ahead of him and believing that his little ones would soon get well, did not send for a physician until he lost one of his children. Then it was too late, and one by one they have passed away, until five of the family remain. On August 5 Mary, the oldest daughter, was the first to die. An 11 year old daughter died on August 10. The mother, who was also stricken with the disease at the same with her children, died August 15. On September 5 a 13-year-old daughter died, and on September 20 William, aged 20, died. Monday morning the father, James Tribbitt, who was heart-broken by the loss of his wife and children, died. He was sick only a few days with the fever. Three small children, the youngest only 6 years old, are critically ill, and the attendent physician has little hopes of their recovery. The oldest son, a resident of Wilmington, Del., also has typhoid fever, and is in the Delaware Hospital, of that city, for treatment.

Jewish New Year.—The blowing of the Shofar, or ram's horn, a distinctive feature of the Jewish New Year's services, will be heard in the synagogues next week, as the new year begins September 29. The sounding of the shofar is to make public proclamation that the Creator of the universe is the God of Israel; to admonish all to forsake their evil ways and return to him and repent and to remind the people of Israel of the law given to them on Mount Sinai, during which, as found in the Bible, "the sound of the shofar was exceedingly loud." A cornet takes the place of the ram's horn among the reformed Jews. Ten days after the opening of the New Year, or Rosh Hasbonah, occurs the Day of Atonement, the most solemn of all Jewish holidays. Then comes the Succoth festival, or Feast of Tabernacles, a harvest festival, which is season of rejoicing and thanksgiving for the blessings of an abundant harvest.

A Good Job.—The bridge over Fannell's branch, is about completed but will not be open for travel for several days. The mason work by Mr. S. J. Coleman is said to be the best on the Shore while the whole job proves that local contractors can successfully compete with the whole country. Messrs. W. S. & A. M. Culp were the contractors. Mr. J. Romie Byrom was the first to cross on horseback and Mr. Lewin U. Skirven the first in a vehicle.

Court House Improvements Contemplated.—Mr. B. F. Smith, of the Fire Proof Construction Co., of Washington, D. C., was before the Kent county commissions last week. Drawings and plans were laid before the board for more fire proof vaults, etc., for the county records and books of the various offices. The improvements on paper call for a room for school commissions, consulting room for county commissions and more vault room for the clerk of court, etc.

School Notes.—The school Board for Kent County tried to solve some of the knotty problems existing in the school affairs of the county last Tuesday. The congested condition in the Chestertown school was relieved by appointing Miss Addie S. Hurlock, of Catt's Corner school, to be an extra teacher, the division of classes having been left to Profs. Melvin and Smyth.

Miss Rebecca Evans was appointed to the vacant scholarship at Maryland Institute, Baltimore.

An additional school room will be built at Massey and another teacher appointed.

Another colored teacher has been granted the Coleman school.

Rock Hall has asked for an additional teacher as they now have 264 pupils enrolled.

Miss Jennie Reese has been appointed to a scholarship at Baltimore State Normal School.

Wesley Chapel Improvements—Our recent festival at Wesleyan Chapel was a decided success. We had a large crowd, an excellent supper, such as the ladies of this old historic church always serve, and we netted approximately $75. We are now engaged in rather extensive improvements of the property. We have put up metalic ceiling. We are putting a large Gothic window behind the pulpit and are replacing the old windows with art glass windows to correspond and making other needed improvements involving a cost of about $800 We shall not be ready for reopening before the 10th of November. Until that time our Sunday school sessions will be suspended. In the meantime we hope to conduct a series of revival meetings in a tent, beginning about the middle of October.—J. W. Parris, pastor.

WORTON ITEMS.

During the absence of our pastor Rev. Mr. Habbert, a Temperance sermon was delivered at Union M. E. Church last Sunday by Rev. Alfred Smith and was appreciated by quite a large number.

Misses Mabrey and Ethel Rash two prominent young ladies of Worton have entered Washington College for the next year. We wish them much success.

Mrs. John Thomas has had as her guests the past week, Miss Mae Usilton and sister.

Mr. G. N. Cooper has been in Baltimore this week attending to business.

Mrs. Mattie Thompson, of Galena, has been spending sometime with her sister Mrs. Charlie Miller.

Mr. Herbert Matthews arrived home Tuesday evening from Chester where he had been for his team, which was stolen about two weeks ago. It was located in Chester last Saturday by Sheriff Keyser.

Mrs. Jack Hackett and little daughter Margerite spent a part of this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Gears.

Mrs. J. B. Merritt left here last Tuesday to spend the fall and winter with her daughter Mrs. Archer Hepbron, of Baltimore.

GOLT ITEMS.

Our farmers are all through cutting corn and some have begun seeding wheat.

We are sorry to note that our pastor Rev. T. J. Smith is very ill at his home Oak Grove, Del., but are glad we were fortunate enough to have Rev. Chas. H. Hastings, of the Dover Academy, to preach for us Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. J. T. Matthews entertained friends and relatives from Smyrna and Townsend on Saturday and Sunday last.

Mr. Chas W. Spry and cousin Miss Evelyn Peacock made a flying business trip to Wilmington, on Wednesday.

Miss Mattie McCarter, who has been spending the summer with friends and relatives in New Castle and Wilmington, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnston, Jr., gave a social in honor of the Misses Price, of Wilmington, on Friday last.

Mr. Daniel Steel, spent Sunday with Mr. Ralph Hewitt.

Evelyn, the little daughter of Mrs Maud Peacock, of Cecilton is visiting her grandmother near here.

Miss Grace Peacock, is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Matthews.

We are glad to report that Mrs. B. F. Phillips has almost entirely recovered.
