F. H. Harper & Son,

STILL POND, MARYLAND

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

On Saturday last Capt. G. T. Sewell received a telephone message that if he and Mrs. Sewell would see their son Samuel, in life, they must come to Baltimore immediately. Accordingly they left for the city on Sunday morning, and upon arriving at their son's home they found him cold in death. About one week previous Capt. Samuel D. Sewell, who was apparently sufficiently restored to health and vigor to resume his position as tug boat master, left his parents home here for his post of duty in the employ of the Maryland Transportation Company, in a few days a relapse insued, and he grew rapidly worse till death ended all on Sunday morning. Funeral Service and interment took place in the city on Tuesday afternoon.

Capt. Sewell was a fine man and held a most responsible and lucrative position, his company very highly appreciated his services, and the brightest future was ever in view, but the grim reaper had marked him as a prey to his cruel demands, all that medical skill in Baltimore and elsewhere could do, as well as the best of nursing was done to effect except temporary relief. Sam's days were numbered, and though young he had to submit as we all must do sooner or later. His death and the moving away of Mrs. Larrimore from here to Sparrows Point is a crushing blow to the mother, Mrs. G. T Sewell.

Mr. Thomas Warran who has been undergoing treatment at the Md. Gen. Hospital for a complication of diseases during the past month died on Friday the 6th inst., aged 69 years. The remains was brought over on the B. S. Ford on Monday, and were met at the wharf by Undertaker Casey and the following pall bearers. Messrs. C. H. Trimble, J. W. Boyer, Clarence Culley, T. L. Colyer, W. T. Harrison and J. R. Ryan. Interment took place in Wesleyon cemetery. Rev. J. W. Parris officiating at the grave. "Uncle" Tommy was a genial old gentleman and is very much missed by many. Six children as follows survive him. Messrs. Thomas, William and Joseph Warran, of Betterton, Mrs Carrie Sands, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. R. J. Harrison, of Rock Hall.

The bazaar held here last week for the benefit of the church bell was a big success in every way.

Rev. Mr. Burr during last week was quite ill, but is now much improved. His pulpit on Sunday morning was occupied by Rev. Samuel Stevens, formerly a Rock Hall boy, but now of Baltimore. He preached a good sermon on the subject, "Importance of the heart being right in the sight of God."

The oyster business continues very dull. Some buyers and tongers have pulled out and are now trying purse net fishing. Some of the lump workers are running their catch to the city and receive 50 or 60 cents per bushel. Owing to the scarcity of oysters on Swan Point and near by bars, many of the men have laid aside the hand tongs and rigged up for patent tonging on the lumps and other deep water bars. When the dredging season begins the dredgers will put a quietus on the lumping business. Then where shall we go? Many cargoes of oysters were returned from the city last week and spread on the bedding grounds All the buyers who began with the opening of the season have lost considerable money in the trade, but for the most part they pluckily stick to the work, hoping for a decided change for the better from trip to trip. Tuesday's and Wednesday's storm no doubt will operate for the fulfillment of their hopes. Some of our oystermen are in the habit of saving all the oysters too small for market and placing them on their bedding grounds. Capt. Downey thinks this is contrary to the intent of the law and arrested one man for so doing. The magistrate imposed a fine and the fellow took an appeal.

The power packet Lauretta Curren has been housed over which adds greatly to the vessels efficiency as a freightor.

Capt. Jerome, one of our oyster buyers says he has been in the business for 29 seasons and has made it a point to bank $1,000 each and every season from oyster receipts. He is one of our best buyers, always pays according to the quantity of the stock and treats every tonger on the square, as a consequence he has no trouble in securing a cargo.

Mr. Wm. T. Downey will retire from the tonging business and remove to Baltimore where he will open an oyster house. "Billy" will be missed by a host of people here about.

The first swan of the season was seen on last Saturday by Mr. Jack Boyer.

Rumor is afloat that an interesting wedding will be solemnized here in the near future. prospective bride and groom are each near 70 years of age. It will be the lady's second venture of the kind and the gentleman's fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Porter, of Baltimore, came down on the Ford on Monday to spend a few days with relatives and friends here.

Mr. Harvey Mentzer, of Philadelphia, has been the guest of Mr. Stanley Downey and has been hugely enjoying himself boating, crabbing and kodacking. He returns to his home highly pleased with his outing and takes many pretty pictures with him.

Mr. Henry Jones says 10 barrels of crabs is an easy day's work for him, he has a standing contract with city dealers at $1.25 per barrel.

Mrs. C. R. Kerr is one of our plucky lady residents, she heard some one molesting her henery some nights ago and sallying forth in the darkness and alone drove the intruder off, when remonstrated with for her daring and dangerous charge she replied "only cowards are fearful."

Rumor has it that Capt. J. B. Willson will be the republican nominee for Commissionship, if so Mr. Wagner will find a foeman worthy of his steel in Capt. Jim.

Wednesday's rain was much appreciated, farmers were all about through seeding wheat, but the very high tide and terrific north-west wind was exceedingly unwelcome and the cause of great anxiety among watermen and shore owners. Quite a lot of damage was done along the shore lines exposed to the fury of the wind and waves. The dredging machines had a very rough experience, a large tug was kept busy in rendering aid. Very much of Thursday was used in getting boating and shore property in shape again.

In loving remembrance of my dear nephew Charles Boyles who departed this life Oct., 13th, 1905

God alone knows how I miss him,
In my home, Oh Charley dear.
How for thee my heart is yearning.
How I long thy voice to hear.
Farewell Charley may your slumbers
Be as gentle as your love,
And when God shall call us homeward,
May we meet in heaven above.

"Gone but not forgotten.
By his aunt, Mrs. J. T. Matthews.

THE festival at Betterton to-night will be a big affair.
