THE CRISIS.

Since our last issue the crisis has assumed no new phase. The revolution still continues peaceful yet unabated. Georgia is no doubt by this time numbered among the "Republics" of the South, as the latest news we have, note the passage of resolutions by her convention declaring it to be her right and duty to secede. Messages received from a distinguished source, being from a citizen, a native of this county, but now a resident of Texas, tell us that the secession movement in that State is growing stronger and stronger every day,—that indeed the citizens will scarcely wait for their State Convention to be held, to declare them out of the Union.

In S. Carolina whither all eyes are turned in anxious suspense, fearing that every gale that sweeps from her borders will bring tidings of a dire and dreaded conflict between her forces and Maj. Anderson, things remain comparatively quiet. Communications of fraternal regard still mark the conduct of her Executive toward the benighted occupants of Fort Sumpter. Mail communications still remain unbroken, and Maj. Anderson's table is now replenished with savory dishes from the Charleston markets.

Gov. Pickens has recommended an increase of the army. The State has demanded through a commissioner Col. Hayne, of the General Government, the surrender of Fort Sumpter. President Buchanan has refused to accede to the demand, and on the contrary has sent despatches to Maj. Anderson to defend it to the last.

In Congress the Crittenden amendments were voted down in the Senate on Tuesday of last week, but were reconsidered by a vote on Friday last, and laid over until last Monday, when they were probably finally disposed of by that body. The sensation produced over the defeat of the amendments was so intense as to compel a motion for their reconsideration from the Republican side. The manifestation of such feeling, will no doubt produce their ultimate adoption, which will give some hope of a peaceful and satisfactory settlement of the alarming questions.—Should they not be adopted, Senator Bigler, of Penna. will press the adoption of his resolutions, varying very little from those of Mr. Crittenden, but more explicit in that they provide for an election of the people to be held on 12th of February next, to decide on the amendments.

A very important measure emanating from the committee on Federal Relations of the House of Delegates of Virginia, and which will be found in another column, is now pending before that body. The idea emanated from Mr. Pryor, a member of Congress from Va., and has received the cordial endorsement of Messrs. Crittenden, Douglas, Breckinridge, Rives and other distinguished gentlemen. Similar movements are expected to be made in the Legislature of Missouri, N. Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky.

These propositions, which have no doubt been passed unanimously by the Va. Legislature, before this, evince a spirit of compromise united with a firm determination to stand by, defend and maintain the rights of the South, that cannot fail to show the Black Republicans that immediate action on their part, based on compromise is required to produce conciliation. If it be denied the denial will widen the field of revolution, and make two confederacies of our once happy and still beloved Union.

☞We see a mass meeting of our citizens has been called for the 4th of February, "to frown upon all acts disloyal to the General Government, whether originating in the North or in the South."

Although the meeting has been called by a few individuals who have great loudness in reading letters about Lincoln's conservatism, and take particular delight in denouncing the South, and who have called this meeting with the evident intent of finding out how far their views are accorded with, and how many submissionists they can number with themselves; we hope they will be gratified.

We hope our citizens will turn out and while they express their devotion and affection for the federal Union under the Constitution as adopted by our fathers, and are willing and ready to make every effort and proper sacrifice for its preservation, they will demand full recognition of the rights of the South from the North as the only means of producing peace between the sections and the continuance of the Union.

THE PENNSYLVANIA COMMISSIONERS AT ANNAPOLIS.—Governor Hicks Talking Out.—We learn directly from Annapolis that a "board of Commissioners," under the appointment of Governor Curtin, of Pennsylvania, have actually visited Annapolis, and sought an official interview with Governor Hicks. The Governor, however, very properly declined to receive them in his official capacity, intimating to them that Maryland was an independent sovereignty, and could manage her own affairs without the interposition of Pennsylvania. He treated the gentlemen with all proper courtesy, but told them that he was a Southerner and a slaveholder, and that his whole feelings and interest were indentified with the South. He further stated that from the present unpropitious aspect of affairs, and the unyielding spirit manifested by the republicans, he was seriously considering the adoption of some suitable method for an expression of the popular will.

The commission is spoken of by the correspondent of the Philadelphia North American as a "confidential mission" to Gov. Hicks.—It consisted of Robert M. Palmer, Speaker of the Senate; Gideon J. Ball, of the House of Representatives, and Morton McMichael, the editor of the North American. It seems to have been in every respect a very ill-considered and improper episode, and speaks by no means favorably for the prudence and sagacity of the newly inaugurated Governor of Pennsylvania. An officious, meddlesome spirit in public men at such a time as this can be productive only of mischief.—Baltimore Sun.

We know of no greater insult that could have been offered our State than such an insolent proceeding on the part of the abolitionists of Pennsylvania, within whose borders some of Maryland's noblest sons were brutally murdered, while in pursuit of their rights, and the recovery of their property, and murdered too by members of the very party that sends these ambassadors to our Executive. Aside from the humiliating fact that the course Gov. Hicks has pursued, and the endorsement given to that course by a few citizens of our State, have impregnated the northern mind with the idea that Maryland was ready to embrace Abolitionism, and which influenced Gov. Curtin to send three Black Republicans, to express his sympathy with, and approval of the course our Governor is pursuing, and to pledge the Black Republican cohorts of Pennsylvania to aid him in keeping Maryland quiet until she shall be thoroughly bombarded and bound hand and foot,—it is yet consoling to know that the insult tendered, was met in the true spirit by our Executive.

Local and Personal.

Our citizens will be gratified to learn that orders have been received from the Post Office Department at Washington, directing a change in the arrival of our mails from Bridgeville. Hereafter they will reach here at 9 o'clock, P. M.; and will now be brought direct through from Bridgeville.

A large number of our citizens met at the Court House on Monday last to form a Cavalry company for this county. Col. Wm. A. Sullivane presided.

The following named gentlemen were elected as officers of the Troop. Capt.—Geo. E. Austin; 1st Lieutenant, Greenbury Holt; 2nd Lt. Wm. T. Vickers; 3d Lt. Lazarus Powell; Cornet, John Paul; Quarter Master, Wm. H. Grace.

The company adjoured to meet on Monday next.

We regret exceedingly the proceedings of the meeting at Taylor's Island on the 12th inst., came too late for last week's issue. This meeting cordially endorsed the Crittenden amendments and requests a county mass meeting, to be held at an early day, that the voice of our people may be heard in this crisis.

The Steamer Pioneer, which was obliged to dispense with her trip to this place on Wednesday last, in consequence of the ice in the bay, has had her bow thoroughly sheathed with heavy iron. She resumed her route on Saturday last, arriving here at the usual time, and will continue her semi-weekly visits to this place during winter. She leaves Cambridge at 9 o'clock, A. M. for Balto.

Maj. Earl Van Dorn, of the second regiment of U. S. Dragoons, who has several relatives living in this county, has tendered his resignation to the War Department, and offered his services to the Governor of the "Republic of Mississippi." He was brevetted for gallant services at the battles of Cerro Gordo, Cherubusco, and Contreras.

Hon. Anthony Kennedy, U. S. Senator from Maryland, will accept our thanks for pamphlet copies of important speeches made in the Senate.

The Circuit Court for this county commences its January session on Monday next.

BY YESTERDAY'S MAIL.

SECESSION OF GEORGIA.—Milledgeville, Jan. 19.—The State Convention to-day passed the ordinance of secession from the United States, by a vote of 208 yeas to 89 nays.

Florida was expected to make an attack on Fort Pickens.

Col. Hayne is still in Washington. His visit has been productive of great good in the interest of peace.

Mr. Holt's nomination as Secretary of war has been confirmed.

The Missouri Legislature has called a convention of the State.

Five commissioners with Hon. J. Tyler, chairman have been appointed by Va. Legislature to meet commissioners from other States in Washington, on February 4th.

The Mayor of Boston has refused to protect the anti-slavery society in its meetings to be held this winter in that city. He also refused to grant protection to Wendell Phillips during the delivery of an anti-slavery lecture.

The National Crisis.

Virginia to Mediate between the North and South for the Settlement of the Pending Difficulties.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—A plan is now before the committee on federal relations of the House of Delegates of Virginia which is regarded with much interest in political circles here. The idea emanated with Mr. Pryor, of the federal House of Representatives, and has received the cordial endorsement of Crittenden, Douglas, Breckinridge, Wm. C. Rives and other distinguished gentlemen, embracing all shades of Southern and conservative opinions. The plan is a series of resolutions proposing—

First.—That there must be some definite and conclusive settlement of the slavery question between the two sections of the country, or a separation will be inevitable.

Second.—Proposing that the Crittenden compromise, as amended by Senator Douglas, is a basis for a fair and honorable adjustment, and the least Virginia feels she could take as a settlement.

Third.—The appointment of a commissioner to each of the States of the Union, representing the action of Virginia, and inviting a response to this measure of conciliation.

Fourth.—A strong appeal to the federal government to stay its hand, and avoid all acts which may lead to a collision pending the mediation of Virginia.

Fifth.—An appeal to the seceding States to preserve the existing status, and also to abstain from all acts which may precipitate a collision.

A dispach received from a distinguished source in Virginia, received here to-day, says there is little if any doubt that the above plan will pass both Houses of the Legislature of that State. Similar movements will at once be made in the Legislatures of Missouri, North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky, arrangements being now in progress for that purpose.

Message of the Governor of Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 17.—The extraordinary session of the Kentucky Legislature met at Frankfort to-day.

Gov. Magoffin's message asks the Legislature to express their approbation of Mr. Crittenden's resolution. He says that eight States will have seceded before their deliberations close; that Tennessee has referred the whole subject to her people, and Virginia and North Carolina are discussing the propriety of a similar course. Missouri seems likely to adopt a similar policy. He submits to the Legislature the propriety of providing for the election of delegates to a convention, to assemble at an early day, to determine the future inter-State and Federal relations of Kentucky. In the meanwhile he would leave no experiment untried to restore the fraternal relations between the States.—He recommends a convention of the border slave States, to meet early in February, at Baltimore.

The Governor says that the hasty action of the seceding States does not meet with our approval, but that Kentuckians will never stand by with folded arms while those States are struggling for their constitutional rights and are being subjugated to an anti-slavery government.

The Governor asks the Legislature to declare by resolution the unconditional disapprobation by Kentucky of the employment of force in any form against the seceding States.—He also asks an appropriation for arming and equipping volunteers and the militia.

MOVEMENTS IN TALBOT CO.—An adjourned meeting of the citizens of Talbot county, composed of men of all parties, was held on Tuesday week last, when the committee appointed at a previous meeting to wait on the Governor and request him to call the Legislature, reported that the Governor refused to grant their request. Resolutions were thereupon passed requesting the voters of Talbot to meet at their respective places of voting on 4th of February next, and proceed to elect delegates to a constitutional convention, to be assembled on the 3d Monday of February next.

They were to meet again on yesterday to nominate a ticket.

Hon. Samuel Hambleton, I. C. W. Powell, A. P. Jump, R. C. Holliday and M. T. Goldsborough, were appointed an executive committee to carry into effect the resolutions passed at the meeting.

Senator Kennedy assured the Senate on Thursday that the vote on Senator Crittenden's resolution decided the Status of Maryland; vote them down and Maryland will accept the issue presented. After the Senate adjourned, he told Hon. Preston King that Maryland was ready for civil war if Senator Crittenden's resolutions were defeated by the Republican vote.—Balt. Republican.

H. Ford Douglas, agent of the Massachusetts Anti Slavery Society, attempted to foist an ultra abolition harangue upon the people of Lancaster, Mass., last Tuesday evening, but the marks of disapprobation were so strong that the lecturer was compelled to withdraw, and the meeting ended.

The Ohio House of Representatives has indefinitely postponed by a vote of 58 to 31 a bill to repeal the Bill nullifying the fugitive slave law.

The Arkansas Legislature has unanimously passed a bill submitting the Convention question to the people on the 18th of February. It a majority favor the Convention the Governor to fix a day for it to assemble.

THE SECEDED STATES.—Four States have passed ordinances of secession, viz:

South Carolina, on the 20th of December.

Mississippi, on the 9th of January.

Florida, on the 11th of January.

Alabama, on the 11th of January.

The population of these States, according to the census of 1850, is thus stated;

	Whites.	Total.
South Carolina	274,563	668,507
Mississippi	295,718	606,526
Florida	47,202	87,545
Alabama	426,514	771,623
Total	1,043,998	2,134,201

Edward Payton Weston, of Hartford, Conn., is going to walk from Boston to Washington, in payment of a bet lost by the election of Lincoln. The distance is 470 miles, and the contract makes it incumbent on Mr. Weston to perform his journey in ten days, and to arrive at the inauguration. He will leave the statehouse, in Boston, at noon on the 22d day of February, and will be obliged to walk forty seven miles a day until he reaches the capital. A man is to accompany him in a carriage to see that he fulfills his agreement.

The negroes in Washington (there are about 15,000 free negroes in the city) are very much elated of them. A lady who had hired a free negro girl from her mother, wished to engage her services for the next year, but was informed by the mother that Lincoln having been elected, her husband expected to get a clerkship, and then she would send her daughter to a northern boarding school for young ladies.

Rev. H. W. Beecher lectured at New Haven on Friday night. He was hissed during his lecture, when he came out a volley of rotten eggs was fired at his carriage. He drove off amid the groans of a crowd of boys, who afterwards followed him to his hotel and repeated the compliment of hearty groans.
