HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From this Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the womb, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, leucorrhœa, dizziness, flatulency, displacements of the womb or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the ovaries or womb, and if not heeded the trouble will make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

The following letter should bring hope to suffering women. Miss Luella Adams, of the Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"About two years ago I was a great sufferer from a severe female trouble, pains and headaches. The doctor prescribed for me and finally told me that I had a tumor on the womb and must undergo an operation if I wanted to get well. I felt that this was my death warrant, but I spent hundreds of dollars for medical help, but the tumor kept growing. Fortunately I corresponded with an aunt in the New England States, and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was said to cure tumors. I did so and immediately began to improve in health, and I was entirely cured, the tumor disappearing entirely, without an operation. I wish every suffering woman would try this great preparation."

Just as surely as Miss Adams was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address, Lynn, Mass.

PHYSICIANS recommend "Pepsimint," he new granular, effervescent remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, and Mental Exhaustion. Guaranteed harmless. Pleasant to take. 10 pua 25

WHITE GIRL WEDS NEGRO

Katie Obinger Becomes Wife Of James Z. Jefferson—Her Parents Heart-Broken.

Katie Obinger, white, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Obinger, 1315 Stockton street, Baltimore, changed her mind about not marrying James Z. Jefferson, a negro, who, on October 23, secured a license for their marriage in Washington, the laws of this State not allowing the intermarriage of whites and negroes.

According to Jefferson's stepfather, Geo. W. Kennard, 708 Ensor street, she sought Jefferson and denied that she would not marry him, with the result that last Sunday she and the negro met in Washington, went to the home of the colored pastor of the Second Baptist Church, W. Bishop Johnson, and were married, after which they left for Philadelphia.

While the negro notified his mother of his marriage, his white wife refrained from sending to her parents the news of the wedding, they learning it last night from another source. The mother wept when told her daughter had married the negro, and the father vented his wrath, saying he would kill both if he could. While he was speaking the mother tried to soothe him without success.

Mrs. Obinger said:

"She is no longer our daughter. She broke her promise to us and left, after we brought her home. Our doors must be closed against her forever."

"I told her I would kill them both if they married, and I would now if I could," said the father.

Two weeks ago, as soon as the news of the issuance of the license was published in the Sun, the girl's parents went to her place of employment, on Eutaw Place, and took her home. Her mother said she promised she would not wed the negro, but would remain with her family. The next morning she left the house, bought a trunk, packed her wearing apparel and personal effects and rented a room on West Lexington street, to which she moved. Since that time her parents have heard nothing from her.

Jefferson told Kennard, the latter says, that at the request of the girl he went to Washington and secured the license to be used the following Sunday. The minister who was to have officiated left the city for 10 days and on his return, after notifying the girl of the fact, the wedding was arranged for last Sunday.

It was at the stepfather's institution, the training school of "Christs Medico-Chirurgical and Theological College," that the couple met. The white girl was one of a class of whites and blacks taking the course for trained nurses. Kennard, her instructor, was extremely "generous" in his praise of his white pupil.

"She had seemingly," he said, "a natural talent—was gifted—and at the end of eight months stood No. 1 in the Latin class, for which she received a gold medal. When she called in reference to the whereabouts of Jefferson I asked if she thought she was taking the proper step and she said: 'It is none of your business.'"

The negro is 23 years old and his wife 19.

An Ohio Town Will Not Harbor A Negro Over Night.

In Syracuse, Ohio, on the Ohio river, a town of about 2,000 inhabitants, no negro is permitted to live, not even to stay over night under any consideration. This is an absolute rule in this year 1905, and it has existed for several generations. The enforcement of this unwritten law is in the hands of the boys from 12 to 20 years of age, while the attempt of a negro to become a resident of the town is resisted by the residents en masse.

When a negro is seen in town during the day he is generally told of these traditions, if he is so ignorant as not to know of them already, and is warned to leave before sundown. If he fails to take heed he is surrounded at about the time that darkness begins, and is addressed by the leaders of the gang in about this language:

"No nigger is allowed to stay in this town over night. Get out of here now, and get out quick."

He sees from 25 to 50 boys around him talking in subdued voices and waiting to see whether he obeys. If he hesitates little stones begin to reach him from unseen quarters, and soon persuade him to begin his hegira. He is not allowed to walk, but is told to "get on his little dog trot." The command is always effective, for it is backed by stones in the ready hands of boys none too friendly.

So long as he keeps up a good gate the crowd which follows just at his heels, and which keeps growing until it sometimes numbers 75 to 100 boys, is good-natured and contents itself with yelling, laughing and hurling gibes at its victim. But let him stop his "trot" for one moment, from any cause whatever, and the stones immediately take effect as their chief persuader. Thus they follow him to the farthest limits of the town, where they send him on, while they return to the city with triumph and tell their fathers all about the function—how fast the victim ran, how scared he was, how he pleaded and promised that he would go and never return if they would only leave him alone.

Then the fathers tell how they used to do the same thing, and thus the heroes of two wars spend the rest of the evening by the old campfire, recounting their several campaigns.

The cause of this extraordinary race prejudice is hard to discern. The majority of the inhabitants are not from the South, but, strange to say, are of New England stock.

Since the town was founded, about 1815, not a single negro family has lived in it. About the year 1855 two negroes were employed as domestics by a family in the extreme lower end of the town, practically in the country, but they did not stay long. Since the Civil War two attempts have been made by the negro families to settle in the town, but both families were summarily driven out.—Baltimore Sun.
