THE DISCOVERER

Of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the Great Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacement of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

It has cured more cases of Backache and Leucorrhœa than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development.

Irregular, Suppressed or Painful Menstruation, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility quickly yield to it. Womb troubles, causing pain, weight and backache, instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it invigorates the female system, and is as harmless as water.

It quickly removes that Bearing-down Feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, Dizziness, Faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues" and headache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, or some derangement of the Uterus, which this medicine always cures. Kidney Complaints and Backache, of either sex, the Vegetable Compound always cures.

Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes.

FARMERS IN SESSION.

Delegates Representing 800,000 Farmers in Session at Atlantic City.

More than 800 000 farmers in twenty-eight States are represented by the delegates to the 39th annual convention of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, which began there on November 16. The executive body consists of the masters of the state granges and their wives, 59 in number, but there are in attendance about 2,000 members of the organization. During the sessions, which will continue until Saturday of next next week, matters of importance to farmers in all sections of the country will be discussed.

The opening session was presided over by Aaron Jones, of Indiana, national master, who in his address enumerated the national laws which the organization had been instrumental in having passed and defeated and advocated the passage of various national and state laws, among them the following:

Permanent free delivery of mails in the rural districts; providing for postal savings banks; providing for the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people; granting the power to congress to regulate and control all corporations and combinations, preventing monopoly and the use of their corporate power to restrain trade or arbitrarily establish prices; enlarging the powers and duties of the inter-state commerce commission; pure food laws.

Sham at Every Turn.

The above heading was the subject of Rev. William F. Sheriden at Mt. Vernon Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore, last Sunday night. Among other things he is reported to have said:

"To pretend to be what one is not is a common temptation with humanity, but it is especially the temptation of the city. First, it is because the city is the goal of the ambitious. Those most anxious to reach the top, both socially and financially, are apt to find their way thither, and as the ambition to seem to lead is greater even than the ambition to lead, sham leadership is the result.

"Hence the reign of King Sham. It is thrust on us at every turn. Shamstone—tin painted to look like stone—confronts us in houses. Sham flowers look out at us from windows. Sham furniture—not the kind of wood that is pretended—awaits us within. Sham gowns rustle in the halls—not silk, but made to look like silk. And sham conversationalists affect a culture that is not theirs. In the stores the appeal is constantly made to the sham quality in purchasers.

"The curse of the cult of appearances is that it gets into character and eats out the inner integrity. Insincerity is a cancer. It may have a small beginning, but it continually grows until the victim dies. It is weakening and degrading for the Sham family are always afraid of being found out. It is living a lie; and lies, in the long run, are social as well as moral anarchy. It is destructive of reputation, for people whose good opinion is worth cultivating soon learn the inwardness of the Sham family and despise them accordingly.

A Cold Winter Indicated.

According to popular superstition, if St. Martin's day is clear and cold, the winter is sure to be a hard one, and as Saturday was clear and St. Martin's day, the superstitious now propose to buy coal. That the old superstition will hold good this year, however, is doubtful, especially in view of the fact that on November 11 last year the day was stormy, but the winter, instead of being mild, as it should have been, according to the adage, was long and severe. Some of the legends, however, have enough believers in them to arouse general interest.

Never Ask Questions.

This little story comes from the south: The first slice of goose had been cut and the minister of the Zion church looked at it with as keen anticipation as was displayed on the faces around him. "Dat's as fine a goose as I ever saw, Brudder Williams," he said to his host. "Where did you get such a fine one?" "Well, now, Mistah Rawley," said the carver of the goose, with a sudden access of dignity, "when you preach a special good sermon, I never axes you where you got it. Seems to me dat's a triv'l matter anyway."

Explained.

An old Scotch lady who had no relish for modern church music was expressing her dislike of the singing of an anthem in her own church one day, when a neighbor said: "Why, that is a very old anthem! David sang that anthem to Saul." To this the old lady replied: "Weel, weel! I noo for the first time understan' why Saul threw his javelin at David when the lad sang for him."

Encouraging Her.

Stationer—What do you do with all the lead pencils you buy, Mr. Smith? You average about three a day, Mr. Smith—Oh, that's all right. My wife is taking whittling lessons.—Columbus Dispatch.

Few enterprises of great labor or hazard would be undertaken if we had not the power of magnifying the advantages we expect from them.—Johnson.
