Notice.

RUNAWAY from the subscriber sometime in the latter part of May in 1842, a white bound boy, named William Jones, the son of Betsey Jones.—The said boy was about 12 years old—he was low and tolerable large to his height—he had a very large head and long from his forehead to the back of his head—large fore teeth. He was born with a mark on one of his legs out of which grew some long hairs. Any person that will take up said boy and bring him to me or secure him so that I can get him again, or give me information by letter where he is or where he has been seen since he left, shall be amply rewarded. My reason for giving this notice is that I am accused of making away with the boy secretly.

I do heredy solicit parents guardians and masters that they have an eye over their respective charges and that they do not suffer them to violate the law prohibiting the using fire arms within the limits of the corporations; any one may see tha evil of so doing if they will take the trouble of examining the house of one of our most worthy citizens Mrs. Muir, on muir street, some boys I know not who having gathered at the back of her garden a few days ago with their guns and were so inconsiderate as to go so near her house and fire towards it, that the shot broke the glass and struck the opposite side of the room with such force that if any one had been in the range of the shot, that they must have inevitably suffered seriously.
