CHRISTMAS WEDDING.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. James M. P. Church at noon on Wednesday, Dec. 13th, the contracting parties being Miss Mary Owings Sheridan, the accomplished daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Sheridan, and Mr. Walter T. Morris, a well-to-do dairyman, of near town. The church was prettily decorated with palms and ferns and lighted with candles. Miss Caroline Fenby, of Baltimore, presided at the organ in a skillful manner. To the sweet strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin the wedding party composed of the ushers, the groom and best man, and the bride leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. J. Ridgely Sheridan, proceeded to the altar, where they were met by her father. Here in a very impressive manner the couple were pronounced man and wife, the ring service being used, and retired to the strains of Mendelssohn's march. The bride wore a becoming gown of amethyst messaline chiffon over taffeta and trimmed with lace and persian silk and wore a hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. The best man was Mr. John Aspril, of Sparrows Point, cousin of the groom, the ushers being Jarrett Sheridan and Harvey Morris. A wedding breakfast was given at the home of the bride's parents, only the immediate relatives and a few personal friends being present. The parlors and dining rooms were trimmed with holly. Her going away dress was of garnet broadcloth. After the ceremony the bride and groom took their departure for points north and will return next week to take up their abode on Mr. Morris' place adjoining his brother, Register of Wills Elwood Morris.

The presents were beautiful and useful. The groom presented the bride with a handsome gold watch and chain.

Reopening Of Wesley Chapel.

After weeks of delay Wesleyan Chapel was reopened for divine worship last Sunday. The inclemency of the weather prevented large gatherings during the day, but nevertheless we achieved a splendid success. Rev. L. F. Warner, pastor of Westminster Methodist Protestant Church was with us and did us splendid service. His sermons were clear, simple and forceful. In the afternoon a Sunday school rally was held when Capt. C. A. Leary addressed the meeting on the history and personnel of the church.

Of the $850 expended more than $700 had been raised before the day of reopening had dawned, so that soliciting money was a small matter, without any "begging" at all the full amount was raised and on Monday evening all bills were promptly passed. One who knew the church of a few years since could hardly realize that they were in the same building. A metal ceiling of paneled design decorated with a galaxy of soft, rich mellow shades of happily blended colors takes the place of the old stained cracked ceiling. The walls are frescoed in olive green with a freize in terra cotta extending downward from the cove some three feet and ornamented with scroll work in cream color. Art glass windows of beautiful design and appropriate shades take the place of the old plain ones. A large window of Gothic design has been placed behind the pulpit, new vestibule doors have been hung, the old unsightly gallery has been removed, the chairs varnished and the carpet has been cleaned. The whole interior now presents a scene of charming beauty and what makes us so rejoice is that every dollar is paid.

The Improvement committee, Messrs. E. E. Leary, C. A. Leary, Samuel Burgess, M. L. Maslin and Rev. Mr. Parris are worthy of the highest commendation for their splendid achievement which is a credit to themselves, an honor to God, the church and the community. A bounteous dinner was served at the parsonage and every friend and visitor, received a cordial invitation to dine there. The M. P. Society are a people of most happy socialism. Pastor and flock vie with each other as to who can best make every attendant feel perfectly at home among them. May their socialism be backed by the holy spirit so that a power for good in the salvation of men, may deepen and widen until hundreds shall be added to the visible church and thus become heirs to the Church Triumphant.

LIVE LOCAL NOTES

It is said that gambling is going on regularly in Chestertown not a hundred miles from the courthouse!

We invite the attention of our subscribers and readers today to the Christmas shopping and other general advertisements of the NEWS. They are all bona fide advertising statements of the very best business houses. We earnestly advise our readers to consult these advertising columns before making any purchases whatever. It affords us great pleasure to guarantee our advertisers that we are now placing their business before a larger body of readers than any newspaper in the county or on the Shore, as our lists will prove.

Conscience Money.—Deputy Treasurer Hadaway, of Kent county, was astounded on Wednesday when $150 was paid to him as conscience money! The bearer of the money stated that prior to 1986 the contributor had not been assessed as he should have been, but since that time he had been paying all that was due. The conscience stricken tax-payer is a resident of the second district.

We regret to lose him from the county and congratulate the city upon her acquisition. Mr. Judefind sends us a $5 note to make sure of the continued visits of his old newspaper friend the KENT NEWS. He states that he has been a reader of the NEWS since 1856 and adds: "We cannot do without the NEWS. My wife reads it very carefully and we will look for it at our city home hereafter, 2803 Parkwood Avenue."

An Interesting Person.—A large audience attended Christ M. P. Church Sunday evening and listened attentively to an address delivered by Mrs. Badara a native of Bethlehem, Judea. The little woman told of the interesting places in her country, of the customs and manners, &c., and proved a popular speakerr She is a teacher in an orphanage at Bayreuth and is now raising funds for its use. Vannort, to which Dr. Greenfield made a ready response. Mr. Wm. H. Blakeney sang "Blest be the Tie that Binds," in an impressive manner and the whole occasion was one of enjoyment.

Fine Work.—Alfred L. Davidson has recently placed in the cemeteries of Kent some very notable work. One of them being a sarcophagus to the memory of the late Archer Kerr Hepbron. This tomb is a memorial stone that has been erected in the Hepbron lot at Still Pond cemetery. It is of the celebrated dark barre granite. The face of the tomb bears the inscription in large raised polished letters set in a panel, also the quotation "God looked upon the young man and loved him." The level on the die contains the words "Our Son" in large polished lettering in a panel making a handsome substantial memorial.

The beautiful and elaborate tomb to be set at his grave in Shrewsbury cemeterv in the Merritt family burying ground to mark his last resting place is being made and will be erected in the spring.

Another fine memorial erected is a handsome mansoleum erected in Chester cemetery to the memory of the late Josiah Lusby. It is of light barre granite and of massive dimension. The family name Lusby is on both sides in large round raised letters. It is a worthy testimonial to a grand man.

Farm Sold.—Mr. Philip D. Spaeth of Philadelphia has bought of J. A. Stauffer his farm of 140 acres in Morgnec. Mr. Frank Ivens will be tenant. J. Waters Russell negotiated the sale.

They were blown across the bay to Swan Point, where they landed. On Monday night, after the boat had been brought around to Mr. C. C. Strong's wharf, some one robbed the boat of everything on her but the engine.

Subers, who left Philadelphia about a year ago and was reported by one of the Philadelphia dailies as being killed in a car strike in Cleveland, Ohio. The young man wanted to see the country, and writes that he has been in California and dates his letter from Ramsey, South Dakota. He expects to reach home by Christmas.

Local Witnesses.—The investigation of the big insurance companies is creating quite a sensation all over the country. Payments made to Mrs. Harper, widow of Edward B. Harper, former president of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company, were gone into last week in the insurance investigation. The will of Mr. Harper directed such payments.

J. A. Hyland, a well-known citizen of Kent County, book-keeper, testified that the total amount paid to the widow was $134,067, and she is still being paid one-third of 20 cents on each, $1,000 insurance in force prior to 1895.

George D. Eldridge, vice-president of the Mutual Reserve, was recalled and asked if he had not previously testified that the total amount paid to Mrs. Harper was $48,609, and to the Harper family $35,000. The witness said he did not intend to have given such testimony.

He was asked why he had not opposed such payments, as having been made under an illegal contract, as the company had once contended in a suit brought by one of the heirs. He said he understood the courts decided it was legal in the previous suit. Mr. Hughes said the point was never adjudicated, as the company's answer alleging illegality was withdrawn.

Fatally Injured.—Dr. Peter Henry Reiche, one of the best known physicians of Baltimore, was struck by a north-bound York road car at 11.42 o'clock Saturday night at Chestnut Hill avenue and York road and fatally injured. He was removed to the City Hospital, where he died at 12.30 o'clock Sunday morning. The jury exonerated the car crew of blame.

Dr. Reiche was born in Lippstadt, Westphalia, Germany, May 18, 1837. He came from one of the oldest and most prominent families of Westphalia. His mother was Caroline von Sommer, daughter of Baroness von Brausen and Colonel Sommer, of the Prussion Army. When 16 years of age Dr. Reiche came to this country, and settled in Baltimore. He graduated from the Medical School of the University of Maryland. He married Miss Emily Fendall Duvall, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Beale Duvall.

For eighteen years Dr. Reiche was a vestryman of St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church. He was also a charter member of the Royal Arcanum, Order of the Golden Chain, and Knights of Honor. In politics he was always a democrat. He is survived by five daughters—Miss Fannie Kyle Reiche, Caroline von Sommer Reiche, Emily Duvall Reiche, Mary Crawford Reiche and Louis Duvall Reiche.

Deceased was a brother of the late E. C. Reiche, of Chestertown, and an uncle to Mr. C. J. Reiche, and Mrs. J. E. Ferguson, of this town.

THE lecture delivered in Emmanuel Church Wednesday by Bishop Coleman was enjoyed by a large audience. The venerable divine is a pleasant speaker and his wide experience gained in travel and study gave him a fund of interesting notes.

THE Adam's Express has been removed to the new Fowler Building on Cross street near Chapman & Lambert's shops.

A YOUNG BLIZZARD struck Kent county yesterday and the ground is covered with snow.

THERE are 427 miles of roads in Kent County.

LOCAL buyers have been paying 46 cents for corn this week.

THE fire escapes on the Chestertown High School were completed this week. A gentleman connected with the school says it is a useless expenditure as they will not be used once a year! It is to be hoped that they will never be used, but it is a wise expenditure.

THE Baltimore elevators have been taxed to their utmost capacity this month and vessels have been delayed for days. The Corsica was compelled to make a trip with a load of corn in the hold because of inability to get grain in elevator.

MURDER ON KENT ISLAND.

Joseph R. Price, A Former Resident of Kent County, Killed in His Cornfield—J. B. Lane Held For The Murder.

Joseph R. Price, a farmer of Kent Island, was found in his cornfield in an unconscious condition last Wednesday evening shortly before 7 o'clock with his skull fractured in several places. He died at 12.18 o'clock at night without having regained consciousness.

J. B. Lane, a tenant on Mr. Price's farm was held by a coroner's jury as the murderer and placed in jail to await trial. During a dispute over the distribution of some corn the fatal blow was struck which caused Mr. Price's death. The deceased formerly lived in Millington and for some time worked in Chestertown.

There were no witnesses to the altercation between Mr. Price and Mr. Lane, and consequently, we give Mr. Lane's confession in the matter.

Mr. Lane stated:

"I tilled a field in corn on Mr. Price's farm this year and Wednesday afternoon was hauling the corn in. Mr. Price was also in the field hauling fodder. A dispute arose between us as to the distribution of the corn, and Mr. Price told me not to haul any more away. At that time I had a load of corn on my wagon and Mr. Price told me if I undertook to leave the field with it there would be blood shed; at the same time he drew a knife. Finally Mr. Price got his cane, with which he walks, and threatened to strike me with that, and later undertook to take the corn from the wagon."

Mr. Lane further states that when he again got to his wagon Mr. Price approached and undertook to strike him with his cane. He had, he said, picked up a stick from the ground and laid it beside him on the wagon and with this he struck Mr. Price over the head. "Mr. Price fell, and my horses started up," said Mr. Lane, "and about the same time the team belonging to Mr. Price started up, and when I looked back I saw the hind wheels of Mr. Price's wagon pass over his shoulders."

KENNEDYVILLE W. C. T. U.

It was the pleasure of the W. C. T. U. of Kennedyville, to greet an unusually large and appreciative audience last Thursday evening, Dec. 12, at their regular meeting held in the M. P. Church. With Miss Lula VanDyke at the organ, the meeting opened with a short song service and the song "we are coming, dear leader, to answer thy call," prayer by Rev. Mr. Holt, of Still Pond. A scripture reading by Mrs. Jarrell, Romans 12, and a fine solo by Miss Annie Dryden, of Baltimore, "The Glory Song." Report of meals served on Election Day was given by Miss Shafer, who reported a net gain of $41 to be added to our treasury. Mrs. Jarrel stated that she would be very glad if all subscribers to the White Ribbon Herald would renew their subscriptions by handing her the amount required or send the same to the publishers and report to her that she may credit same. A beautiful solo was rendered by Miss Clara Reese. "We are building for Eternity." After this the president introduced as the speaker of the evening, Rev. W. L. White, of Chestertown, who chose as the basis of his remarks Exidus, 21: 28-29, "If an ox gore a man or a woman, that they die, then the ox shall be surely stoned, and his flesh shall not be eaten, but the owner of the ox shall be quit." Miss Dryden favored the audience with another solo, "Ship Ahoy." A canvas for members resulted in one new member. After a few pertinent remarks by the president the choir sang "Shine On" and the meeting was dismissed with the benediction by Rev. Albert James of the Presbyterian Church.

THE following of William T. Valliant, a former and well-known citizen of Chestertown, is taken from a recent issue of "Camp News":

"W. E. Valliant, National Vice President of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, is a native of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, his family being one of the best known in that section of the State and prominently identified with it, socially and industrially. He was born November 29, 1868, in Talbot county, was educated in the public schools, followed by a two years' course at a private academy, after which, at the age of 17, he entered his father's office.

In May, 1890, he accepted a position with the firm of W. & J. Sloane, New York city, and in 1899 returned to Maryland to enter business with his father and brother. At present he is secretary and treasurer of the Marvil Package Company, Laurel, Del., manufacturers of fruit packages, a firm conducting an extensive business through the operation of five establishments.

In 1898 he became a charter member of Washington Camp, No. 13, Church Hill, Md., and later transferred to Camp No. 34, Chestertown, Md., of which he is still a member. Owing to the record he made locally, in the Order, he was elected State Master of Forms in 1900, State Vice-President in 1901 and State President in 1902. His efforts in behalf of the State Camp were so signally energetic, thorough and enthusiastic that they naturally earned recognition, not only in Maryland but in the National Camp, with the result that he was elected National Master of Forms in 1903, and this year National Vice-President without opposition.
