CHANCERY SALE.

BY virtue of authority derived from the Hon. Theodoric Bland, Chancellor of Maryland, I will expose to public sale on Saturday the 31st. of August inst. between the hours of 12 and 4 o'clock, at the Store of Muir & Wrightson in the Neck District, all the Real Estate of which James Hubbard died, seized and possessed, consisting of a valuable little farm lying in Casen's Neck and upon Hudson Creek, containing about 60 acres of land more or less. This farm has upon it all the necessary buildings, and a due proportion of wood land. The situation is such (being immediately upon the salt water or in the vicinity of the Choptank Bay) that it would be a desirable residence to any one who is desirous to combine in one spot, beauty of location, good health and all the necessaries of life. It is useless to deal in words of praise—all those who wish to purchase will of course call and view the premises for themselves. The terms of sale will be one third in cash, the balance of the purchase money in six and twelve months, with interest from the day of sale.

Notice.

RUNAWAY from the subscriber sometime in the latter part of May in 1842, a white bound boy, named William Jones, the son of Betsey Jones.—The said boy was about 12 years old—he was low and tolerable large to his height—he had a very large head and long from his forehead to the back of his head—large fore teeth. He was born with a mark on one of his legs out of which grew some long hairs. Any person that will take up said boy and bring him to me or secure him so that I can get him again, or give me information by letter where he is or where he has been seen since he left, shall be amply rewarded. My reason for giving this notice is that I am accused of making way with the boy secretly.
