Now who would suppose that an association arroga g to itself so much talent, dignity and respectability this does, could evince so much childishness as to ise all this fuss and noise about an occurrence of such rifling character. No one more than myself con- ms the act of cutting away their halyards, but it is torious that such things will be perpetrated during citing political contests, and in such things certainly Democratic party possess no advantage over the higs. There are men belonging to both political rties who can so far forget all sense of propriety as do such things, but in the many instances which ve passed under my observation this is the only one which any injury has been committed against the emocratic party. But the outrages perpetrated by t party upon the Whigs have been numerous, and an aggravated character. A few days since the lyards of the Whig flag in Easton were cut by me unknown person. A few weeks ago a Whig le was cut down in Montgomery county. A short ne since the flag of the Whigs of the 1st. ward in the y of Baltimore was stolen, torn to pieces and scat- red over the commons. And from the two subjoined ragraphs it will be seen that other outrages have ch committed in Baltimore city upon the Whigs, of ch a character that the perpetrators have been ferre- d out and no doubt will receive the punishment due their acts.

THE THIRD WARD FLAG.—William Statten d Alfred Blakney were arrested on Saturday night out 11 o'clock, by Captain McKinley of the Middle istrict night watch, charged with stealing the Amer- an flag and burgee, bearing the names of Clay, Fre- ghuysen and Pratt, from the beautiful Clay Pole re- ently raised by the Whigs of the Third Ward in Ash- nd Square. The stolen articles were found in the unk of one of the parties. Further examination was dered by Justice Shaffer, for this afternoon, at four clock, till which time the accused were committed to il in default of security.

THE ROBBERY AT "ASALAND SQUARE" OLE.—Robert Gamble, Wm. Harrison, and Wm. atten, were yesterday brought before Justice Schae- er, at the Police Office, on a charge of committing a reeny, by cutting the halyards and carrying off the g and burgee placed on the Ashland Square Pole, cently erected by the Whigs of the Third Ward. A rge number of witnesses were examined, and the tes- mony elicited was such as to justify the holding of obert Gamble and Wm. Statten to bail in the sum of 00, for their appearance before Baltimore City Court the first Monday of October, to answer the charge larceny. William Harrison gave security for his ppearance on Friday next before Justice Schaeffer, hen a further hearing will be had in his case. The stimony of the principal witness went to show that Harrison offered those engaged in the robbery ten dol- rs as a reward for cutting down and carrying off the g and burgee Benj. Milliss, one of the party im- icated, is still at large.

It will be perceived from the above that the immacu- te Democratic party is not exempt from such conduct s they are pleased to style "infamous" on the part of Whigs, upon the assumption that a Whig cut away e halyards attached to their flag pole. I hope the entleman who got up their indignation meeting, and gured so largely on the occasion, will hereafter "look efore he leaps" and be warned by the past from "rai- ing a tempest in a teapot" in future.

FOR THE CHRONICLE.

MR. EDITOR:- In my last communication I restrict- d my remarks to a theoretical examination of the great nd leading objection urged by our opponents to a pro- ective tariff—viz:—"That the duty is always added to e price, and paid by the consumer, whether the arti- le be of foreign or domestic manufacture." In that rticle I think I shewed conclusively that under the rotective system, the price even of such foreign articles s do not come in competition with similar articles of omestic production or manufacture, is cheapened to e consumer by reducing the profits of the importer nd foreign manufacturer. And I flatter myself also at I established beyond all question the fact that all dditions, in the shape of importations, of such foreign rticles as do come in competition with articles of do- estic growth or manufacture, instead of advancing e price either of the domestic or foreign article, neces- arily prevent an advance, according to the universal ule of supply and demand. It would indeed be a sin- ular thing if the addition of 10 millions of goods to the ock in the market could increase the price of the hole.

In continuation of this branch of the subject I will ow proceed to state some unquestionable facts in or er to shew that my theory is correct, and prove what have argued, that the effect of a protective tariff not nly cheapens the price of imported articles but also of omestic manufactures. And if I shall succeed in do- ng this I shall most effectually have silenced all the lang indulged by the orators and editors of the Loco foco party about the poor man's having to pay a tax, proportion to the duty levied, on the articles which nter into his daily consumption.

Under the present tariff, so bitterly denounced by our pponents, the duty on the lowest priced cotton goods upwards of 8 cents per square yard; these goods can e purchased any where for 6 cents, and often less than cents per yard. The duty on glass is $3 per box, a uty imposed when foreign glass was imported and old at $10 and $12 per box; now it is selling for $2.50 er box; the duty on nails is 5 cts. per pound, imposed hen the price was 10 or 12 cents, now they are made nd sold for 4 cents per pound. Such have been the ruits of the protective policy, by which the prices of uslin has been reduced from 10 cents to 6 cents per ard—glass from $10 to $2.50 per box; and nails from 0 cts. to 4 cts. per pound; and the same is true of pa- er, hardware, and an infinite variety of articles. Now, ow is it possible that the duty is added to the price, nd paid by the consumer, when the articles above numerated, and a great many others that could be ted, are sold for a less price than the duty imposed pon them? If a man can buy a pound of nails for 4 ents, does he pay a duty of 5 cents upon them? It is ll fallacious, and when our opponents assert that the uty is added to the price of the domestic article, and aid by the consumer, they are either ignorant of the acts, or they knowingly misrepresent them. If they re ignorant, they should not undertake to teach the eople upon a subject about which they know nothing; nd if they are not ignorant of the theory and operation f a protective tariff, and of the facts I have enumera- ed above, then the people should disregard their asser- ions and seek truth for themselves

Having thus satisfactorily refuted this first objection o a protective tariff, I shall next consider the second ading objection to a protective tariff, to wit: "That it educes the price of every thing the farmer has to sell, nd increases the price of every thing the farmer has o buy." And I flatter myself I shall be able to shew most conclusively that a protective tariff is not less beneficial to the agricultural, than the other great interests of the whole country—indeed that it is the only policy under which the farmer can hope to obtain a fair remuneration for the productions of his labor.

MAINE ELECTION.—Thirty-one towns and a few plantations are yet to hear from. These, in 1840, gave the whigs 959 votes, and the democrats 1460. If the returns this year equal those of 1840, the democrats will have a majority of 10,219 over the whigs, and 4,102 over all.—Clipper.

It is generally known that I have large demands to meet, and those demands will be expected of me punctually. It would be considered a favor on me by coming forward and settling immediately. There is a number of accounts on my books for the year 1843, yet unsettled. I have heretofore urged upon the people the propriety and even the necessity of an early settlement. I regret very much that I have been disappointed in the effects of the different appeals I have made to the people upon this subject, and hope they will no longer delay; to have to press those accounts that are due me would be repugnant to my wishes, and at the same time would increase the debt of the payer.
