cannot hope exemption from the lot of humanity, and all that remains to be done, when guilt has been made manifest, is to separate it at once from the sound body.

The minority in this case is composed of some of the ablest and most learned of our Bishops—and the fact of their non-concurrence with their brethren, will excite a strong desire in the Church, we apprehend, that the whole case be made public.

There are, we can well conceiva, considerations of delicacy against removing the veil of secrecy; but the greater claim is that of the Church at large, to be satisfied by its own deliberate examinatien, of the right of this painful. but most important verdict.

From the N. Y. Commercial of Friday afternoon.

TRIAL OF BISHOP ONDERDONK.

The presentment has been sustained and the Bishop adjudged guilty by the following verdict:—

Guilty—Bishops Chase, Brownell, Hopkins, Smith, McIlvaine, Polk, Lee, Johns, Eastburn, Henshaw, Freeman—11. Add the three presenting Bishops; Meade, Otey and Elliott—14.

Not Guilty—Ives, Doane, Kemper, De Lancey, Whittingham

The Court assembled to-day to pass sentence, agreeably to the provisions of the canon.

THE SENTENCE.

At half past 12 this morning the Court proceeded to take the vote on the sentence,

The vote was first taken by ballot, we believe on the higher penalty of deposition. The vote was lost by one.

The vote was next taken on suspension, which was carried by 9 to 8, the five Bishops in the minority voting for suspension.

At half past one the question was mooted as to time, or whether the suspension should be decreed indefinite. The Bishop's friends regretted the movement.

It is said a protest is to be presented, or has already been presented.

One of the Bishops expressed his belief that the vote would be considered as one of indefinite suspension, and he thought the friends of Bishop Onderdonk would do him disservice by trying to disturb that understanding.

Learn a Trade.—How often do we hear middle aged men say, "I wish I had learned a trade." Why do they express the wish? Because they see that mechanics obtain good livings and prosper, around them, while they and a thousand others barely get a support, Just look around your own neighborhood. Who are the best off? Who are suffering the least from poverty? Mechanics. Is not your wealthiest neighbor a mechanic? Yet, strange to say, many young men will not learn trades—they wish for more respectable business. They don't wish to gash their hands by edged tools, or lay bare their chins by machinery.—Nay more, if they go to trades, they will soil their hands, brown their skins and be obliged to wear coarse clothing. And some parents are unwise enough to permit their sons to live as they please and continually run themselves in debt. How frequently do too indulgent parents say, my boy is too weakly to work at a trade. The fact is, a little daily labor would help such a boy materially. This hatred of a hand-saw, a sledge-hammer, a printing press and a last, is not the thing. Unless more boys are put to trades, or on farms, in a few years, every city, town and village in the Union will be crowded with ruffled shirted and starched up clerks, doctors lawyers, ministers and paupers.—Now in all conscience, we have too many by one half of such characters, who are sucking the life-blood from the community.

A word to the young. Learn trades. Work at something—no matter what. Go into a tailor's shop, a printing office, or a sail-loft; do anything but study law, physic, or divinity. Then you will be happy if you live and always have within your reach the means of a good support. Rich or poor, no matter, do something useful and you will never repent it, even should you live to the age of Methuselah.

SALE OF VALUABLE WOOD LAND.

By virtue of competent authority I will offer at public sale, to the highest bidder at the Court House door in the town of Cambridge, at the hour of 11 (A. M.) on MONDAY the 13th of JAN. inst. 100 acres of woodland, to be laid off on the north side of Ennal's Indian Purchase. This property is highly valuable on account of the growth of wood and timber thereon, is well situated, and convenient to navigable water. To a person disposed to have the wood cut off for market, or to any of the landholders in the neighborhood, it offers great temptations to purchasers, as a safe and profitable investment. The title will be entirely satisfactory, and clear of all incumbrance.

The property is not far from Cambridge, and in the vicinity of Messrs. Elijah Hursts' Lewis Ross' and Dr. Phelps' premises. The terms of sale are one half cash on the day of sale, the residue in six months with interest.

CHANCERY SALE.

Pursuant to authority derived from the High Court of Chancery I will sell on Saturday the 8th of February next in East New Market at the hotel of Silas Collins Esq., at 2 o'clock P. M, all the Real Estate of which Peter Corkran late of Dorchester county died seized and possessed.

The said Beal Estate consists of the Farm on which the said Peter Corkran died and which has since been in the occupancy of his widow situated about three miles from Cabin Creek, and lies between the farms occupied by Mrs. Rowens & Algernon Corkran. The said farm is made up of the following tracts or parcels of land to wit:—Corkran's Beginning 72 acres; Payne's Regulation and Dean's Discovery 77 1-4 acres, and one third part of Corkran's Beginning 19 1-3 acres making together 168 5-6 acres. The buildings, on said farm consisting of the dwelling and out houses are in rather bad condition, but the land is said to be productive and very susceptible of improvemen.

The terms of sale as prescribed the Decree, are one fourth part cash, the balance in six, twelve and eighteen months from the day of sale, with bond and security approved by the Trustee, bearing interest from the day of sale.

On payment of the entire purchase money the Trustee will convey the said property to the purchaser, by a good and sufficient deed.

JOSEPH R. ECCLESTON,
Dec. 28, 1844 tds Trustee.

CHANCERY SALE.

By virtue of a Decree of the High Court of Chancery, I will offer at public sale to the highest bidder, all the Real Estate of which the late Noah Dixon died, seized and possessed, consisting of the following treats or parcels of land to wit:—The Plantation in Caroline County, embracing the following tracts, "Sherwood's Friendship" and Loyds Regulation 130 3-4 acres, more or less, and known as the McGuire place—also attached to or adjoining the above lands, the Farm containing 100 acres, more or less, known as the "Old Dixon place." These lands have improvements upon them—are not very distant, from Denton and afford an opportunity for a good speculation.

In Dorchester, are the following lands to wit:—A parcel of land, on the South side of the road from Cambridge to Church Creek, called "Keens Outlet" 37 3-4 acres, and about half a mile from the village of Church Creek—this lot is covered with wood and umber. Also two lots of heavily timbered land immediately adjoining the suburbs of the said village, and containing in each lot about 25 acres and called "Keene's Enclosure"—on one of the lots, is a small tenament, surrounded by about five or six acres of arable land. Also a lot of timbered land, in the vicinity of Church Creek, on the South side of Williams new road, containing 26 1-2 acres, called "Colston's Hazard"—this property was bought of Mr. Lacey and on it is a small dwelling, and about five acres in cultivation. Also a timbered lot called "Colston's Puzzle" 42 acres, more or less, near Church Creek and on Williams new Road. Also a small Farm about 1 2 mile from Church Creek, and on the East side of the Road from said Church Creek to the Beaver Dam—there is a dwelling house on this property and all in good repair. Also a Farm on Church Creek, and opposite the old Episcopal Church. This plantation is a most delightful and healthy residence, immediately on the salts. The land is in a high state of cultivation—the dwelling house and other necessary out houses, are nearly new and in excellent order—there are also two good orchards on the premises—the property is well supplied with timber for the abundant use of the farm. Also adjoining Church Creek village, two Timothy lots, containing about five acres. Also a lot in the centre of said village called "Williams Resurvation 6 1-2 acres, more or less—on this lot are two dwelling houses one of which has two stories, carriage house, corn house, smoke house, stables, and other out houses—a store house, and all nearly new, comprising the late residence of Mr. Dixon. This property borders on the head of the creek, and to which there are also attached, a very convenient ship-yard and a convenient landing—all very valuable—this property will be divided into parcels and sold if desirable to suit the convenience of purchasers. Also "Buttons Desire, Turkey Point and Woolverton, not distant from Church Creek and chiffly covered with fine wood and timber. This property is known as that purchased from James A. Stewart, Trustee. Also 306 3-4 acres, more or less, purchased from John W. Martin, principally in wood and timber, and very convenient to navigation. Also the timber lot, purchased of Henry Page Trustee—very valuable. Also a dwelling house, store house, and lot in the village of Tobaccostick, near the residence of Dr. Turner. And all other lands of which Mr. Dixon died seized and possessed. There is not an opportunity in this place to give a more detailed description of the foregoing property. Persons disposed to buy, must examine for themselves. Any of the young Messrs: Dixons will afford every facility for an examination of the property and persons will call on them at Church Creek. Some portions of this property are very valuable, and any of it will be sold in lots to suit the views of purchasers.

The entire property will be sold free of Mrs. Dixon, widow of the late Noah Dixon, right of dower.—The property in Caroline County will be sold at the Court House door in the town of Denton, on between the hours of 11 & 12. The other property will be sold at Church Creek, at the store house of the late Noah Dixon; between the hours of 10 & 4, on Wednesday the 22nd of January, next.

The terms of sale are one fourth cash, the residue on a credit of 6, 12 & 18 months, with interest from the day of sale, to be secured by bond, with security approved by the Trustee.

CHANCERY SALE.

By virtue of authority derived from the court of Chancery, I will sell at public sale to the highest bidder on Monday the 13th day of Jan'ry 1845 between the hours of 11 & 2 o'clock, at the Court House door in Cambridge, the Real Estate of which William Rowens died seized and possessed, it being the farm on which the widow of the said William Rowens now resides.

The farm, it is thought, contains 349 3 4 acres,—is situated about 3 miles from Upper Hunting Creek, and about the same distance from Lower Hunting Creek. It adjoins the lands of John Rowens on one side and of the widow Corkran on the other, being from 1 1 2 to 2 miles from navigable water. The improvements are, two dwelling houses, both in good order, in different parts of the farm. Belonging to one of them, the principal residence, are a number of out houses, a good frame barn, carriage house corn houses, smoke house and other houses convenient for the use of a farm—these are all frame buildings, and in good condition. The farm itself is productive and very susceptible of improvement. There is also a large body of very excellent wood land connected with it, embracing oak, hickory, &c. which being convenient to navigation may be used to great advantage. The terms of sale as prescribed by the Decree are one fourth of the the purchase money cash, and the balance in two equal payments of one and two years, with interest from sale, to be secured by bond with security to be approved by the Trustee. On payment of the entire purchase money a clear and indisputable title will be given..
