CHANCERY SALE.

BY virtue of a decree of the High Court of Chancery, I will offer at public sale to the highest bidder, at the Court House door in the town of Cambridge, on MONDAY the 31st MARCH next, between the hours of 11 & 12 M. the following Real Estate of which the late Edward Brohawn, died, seized and possessed to wit:—a tract or parcel of land, called "Sarah's Seat," containing 310 acres more or less. This tract embraces the Plantation whereon the dec'd. Edward Brohawn resided, in his lifetime and which is known as an excellent Farm. The land is kind and productive, and the situation healthy and pleasant. It lies on the road between New Market and Crotchers Ferry, and is distant about a mile from the latter place. The improvements consisting of a dwelling house and necessary outhouses are in tolerable condition. There are also two other small dwellings on the Farm; also a tract or parcel of land, called "Stanton's Purchase" containing about 42 1-2acres. This piece adjoins the aforementioned plantation, and is part cleared and the residue in wood. The terms of sale are one third cash the residue in six and twelve months, in equal instalments secured by bond with approved security and bearing interest from sale.

The creditors of the said Edward Brohawn are hereby notified to exhibit their claims with the vouchers thereof, in the Chancery Office, within four months from the day of sale

THE CHRONICLE.

CAMBRIDGE—MD.

SATURDAY MORNING March 8, 1845.

The Orphans' Court of Dorchester County will sit on Monday the 17th instant.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS.—We very much regret our inability to present the readers of the Chronicle with the Inaugural address of President Polk in this morning's paper, and as the same cause will exist for some time to come, we shall endeavour to furnish an Extra containing the Inaugural to each of our county subscribers in the early part of next week.

Although we opposed the election of Mr. Polk, we are willing to accord to him the merit of having furnished a document containing many patriotic sentiments, and sound political principles.—With the exception of the Texas portion of the address, a small attack against a National Bank, with a few flourishes upon the propriety of taxing the luxuries of the rich as well as the necessaries of the poor (which no one ever denied) one might easily imagine himself perusing a Whig document. Upon the Tariff question his principles as laid down in his address are precisely what the Whigs contended for in the late political canvass. In it we hear not a syllable of the Free trade heresy which was the burthen of all Loco Foco speeches made during the late struggle. We hear not a word against the odious tariff of 1842. No effort is made to prove that a "tariff raises the price of every thing the farmer has to buy and lowers the price of every thing he has to sell." But instead of all these Loco Foco doctrines we have the doctrine of the Whig party.—A Tariff for revenue so adjusted in its details, as to afford protection to home industry. If Mr. Polk's own political friends—those who have been so long and so loud in their denunciations against the tariff of '42, and so very vociferous in favor of free trade do not complain of this portion of his address, we are sure we shall not. The Whig party will cling to their own principles, let who will desert them or who will embrace them.

The address is plain and intelligible, and although it exhibits no glaring defects in stile or manner, yet we see nothing in it above mediocrity. The ideas generally are common, and expressed in common language.

THE POSTAGE BILL.—Prestdent Tyler, before the adjournment of Congress, sine die, on Monday night, signed the Bill providing for a reduction of the rates of Postage. It is therefore a law, and will go into operation on the 1st of July next.

Reports from Washington are that the Mexican Minister has demanded his passports.

MEXICO AND THE UNITED STATES.

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Express writes—

It is with deep regret that I inform you that Gen. Almonte, the Mexican Minister, is only waiting for President Tyler to sign the Texan annexation resolutions, and to make the usual proclamation, which will soon be done, to DEMAND HIS PASSPORTS AND MAKE HIS PROTEST, and to retire and break up all official relations with the Government of the United States.

Despatches were forwarded by the Mexican delegation, yesterday, by express, to New Orleans, to be sent to the city of Mexico, informing the Government of the passage of the Texan resolutions.

Private letters from the highest sources, from that city, state that the instant the intelligence is received there, the Government of Mexico will declare war and issue letters of marque and reprisal.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

Correspondence of the American.

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 24, 1845.

Bills were reported this morning, to regulate the sales of Tobacco at public auction; to repeal the 4th section of ch. 181, of 1809, relating to the Judges of the Court of Appeals and the County Courts.

Mr. Archer of Harford submitted resolutions claiming of the General Government to be reimbursed for one half of the expenses incurred by this State, in the construction of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. The resolutions lie over.

A bill incorporating the Trustees of the M. E. Church of Hereford Circuit, in Baltimore County;

A bill supplemental to the act for the extension of Belle-Air Market, in Baltimore;

A bill to provide for the extension of a certain Turnpike to Harper's Ferry;

A bill to authorise the subdivision of the shares of Stock in the Bank of Baltimore; were severally passed.

Mr. Purnell from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a bill to make coupons and certificates of interest receivable in payment of taxes, without distinction of years.

Mr. Poole reported a bill reducing the number of Delegates to the General Assembly, by taking one from each Delegation.

Mr. Gallagher reported a supplement to the act of 1834, extending the Baltimore Bank charters.

The House granted leave to Mr. Randall to report a bill to establish Religious freedom. Mr. Morsell obtained leave in relation to the salary of the Examiner General. Leave was obtained by Mr. Gallagher to report a bill to incorporate the Mutual Insurance Co. of Baltimore.

The discussion on the Stamp act commenced this morning, Mr. Biser's motion to strike the enacting clause pending. Mr. Johnson of Anne Arundel rose in explanation of the objects of the bill, and contended that this mode of taxation would raise sufficient revenue for the State's purposes, and advocated the measure on account of its certainty in accomplishing that end.

Mr. Graves followed Mr. Johnson, and opposed the measure, as a representative of a commercial community, upon which he conceived it would be peculiarly oppressive and on account of its inequality. Mr. G: holds the floor for to-morrow.

The Senate did nothing worthy rehearsing this morning, being still engaged upon House bills, most of which are of a private and the rest of a local character. The nominations of a few justices of the peace were also confirmed.

The motion made by Mr. Williams, of Baltimore city, on the night of the rejection of the Canal Bill, to reconsider that Bill, which motion was made with the avowed purpose of killing the Bill, gave rise to some difficulty between him and Mr. Sprigg of Alleghany. Apprehension was entertained by the friends of those gentlemen as to the result of the difference. But Mr. Johnson of Fred'k. this morning announced to the House, that the matter had been amicably settled, to the entire satisfaction of both.

ANNAPOLIS, March 1, 1845.

The debate on the bill imposing a tax upon Stamps, was resumed to day, and continued by Messrs. Graves and Williams against, and Calvert and Muse for the bill. The motion pending was that of Mr. Biser to strike out the enacting clause, which was negatived by the casting vote of the Speaker,—the vote standing 38 to 38. The question on the bill was demanded by calls from all parts of the House, and being taken, it was rejected by a vote of 37 yeas to 38 nays.

Mr. Kilgour's bill to alter the constitution and form of government, so as to substitute biennial for annual sessions of the Legislature, came up as one of the orders of the day. Mr. Gallagher moved to strike out the enacting clause, which without division was negatived. Several amendments were then adopted,—one reducing the term of service of the Governor from three to two years—and another, submitting the bill to a vote of the people at the next general election. In this form the bill passed by a vote of 57 to 19.

The message from the Senate, accompanying the bill for reducing the salaries of all State officers, was taken up for consideration. Mr. Morsell submitted a message combating the arguments of the Senate against the bill, and requesting them to pass it.

Mr. Johnson of A. A. submitted a substitute proposing the appointment of a joint committee to confer upon and endeavor to move the differences of the two Houses. The substitute was rejected, and the original message adopted, by a vote of 53 to 14.

A bill to allow Mr. Baden, collector in P. George's County, further time to complete his collections, was passed.

A bill was reported by Mr. Randall, for the establishment of Religious Freedom, which was ordered to lie on the table.

The Canal bill reported yesterday differs from the previous bill in exacting another mortgage upon the Canal, from the Company, and in requiring a guarantee from the mining companies to deliver annually 150,000 tons of freight, at the basin in Cumberland. It authorises the issue by the Company of $1,700,000 in stock.

The Senate spent the morning in the disposition of bills received from the House.

FROM WASHINGTON, BY THE ELECTRO-MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.

The following items in relation to the Inauguration were communicated from Washington to Baltimore yesterday morning.

WASHINGTON, March 4, 1845.

9 o'clock; 45 minutes, A. M.

At this time it is raining here; and if it continues to rain, the ceremony will, agreeably to arrangement, take place in the Hall of the House of Representatives.

Ten o'clock, 45 minutes.—Thousands are now assembled in front of the Capitol.

Eleven o'clock 22 minutes.—Two trains of cars from your city have just arrived.

Eleven o'clock, 27 minutes.—The procession is just passing the Capitol gate. Another train of cars from Baltimore has just arrived. There is such a cloud of umbrellas as I never saw before.

Eleven o'clock, 34 minutes.—The procession is just entering the yard which surrounds the Capitol.

Eleven o'clock, 39 minutes.—Mrs. POLK is now on the Capitol front. She has a very handsome bouquet in her hand.

Eleven o'clock, 48 minutes.—The President elect has taken his stand on the platform. The air is rent with shouts.

Eleven o'clock, 51 minutes.—The President elect has just commenced reading his Address. It is now raining fast.

Twelve o'clock, 24 minutes.—Mr. POLK has finished his Address, and is now taking the oath of office, amidst the shouts and cheers of the immense multitude.

JOINT RESOLUTIONS.

Declaring the terms on which Congress will admit Texas into the Union as a State.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That Congress doth consent that the territory properly included within, and rightfully belonging to, the republic of Texas, may be erected into a new State, to be called the State of Texas, with a republican form of Government, to be adopted by the people of said republic, by deputies in convention assembled, with the consent of the existing government, in order that the same may be admitted as one of the States of this Union.

SEC. 2. And be it further resolved, That the foregoing consent of Congress is given upon the following conditions, and with the following guaranties, to wit:

First. Said State to be formed, subject to the adjustment by this government of all questions of boundary that may arise with other governments; and the constitution thereof, with the proper evidence of its adoption by the people of said republic of Texas, shall be transmitted to the President of the United States, to be laid before Congress for its final action, on or before the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six.

Second. Said State, when admitted into the Union, after ceding to the United States all mines, minerals, salt lakes. and springs; and also all public edifices fortifications, barracks, ports and harbors, navy and navy yards, docks, magazines, arms armaments, and all other property and means pertaining to the public defence, belonging to said republic of Texas, shall retain all the public funds, debts, taxes, and dues of every kind, which may belong to or be due or owing said republic; and shall also retain all the vacant and unappropriated lands lying within its limits, to be applied to the payment of the debts and liabilities of said Republic of Texas; and the residue of said lands, after discharging said debts and liabilities, to be disposed of as said State may direct; but in no event are said debts and liabilities to become a charge upon the Government of the United States.

Third. New States, of convenient size, and having sufficient population, may hereafter, by the consent of said State, be formed out of the territory thereof, which shall be entitled to admission under the provisions of the federal Constitution. And such States as may be formed out of that portion of said territory lying south of thirty six degrees thirty minutes north latitude, commonly known as the Missouri compromise line, shall be admitted into the Union, with or without slavery, as the people of each State asking admission may desire. And in such State or States as shall be formed out of said territory north of said Missouri compromise line, slavery, or involuntary servitude, (except for crime) shall be prohibited.

SEC. 3. And be it further resolved, That if the President of the United States shall in his judgment and discretion, deem it most advisable, instead of proceeding to submit the foregoing resolution to the republic of Texas, as an overture on the part of the United States for admission, to negotiate with that republic, then.

Be it resolved, That a State, to be formed out of the present republic of Texas, with suitable extent and boundaries, and with two representatives in Congress, until the next apportionment of representation, shall be admitted into the Union by virtue of this act, on an equal footing with the existing States, as soon as the terms and conditions of such admission, and the cession of the remaining Texian territory to the United States, shall be agreed upon by the government of Texas and the United States; and the sum of $100,000 is hereby appropriated to defray the expenses of missions and negotiations, to agree upon the terms of said admission and cession, either by treaty to be submitted to the Senate, or by articles to be submitted to the two Houses of Congress, as the President may direct.

THE CLOSE OF THE SESSION.

Both Houses of Congress were in session when this day's paper was made ready for the press, and much business before them then remained in an incomplete state.

There is reason to believe—though we are by no means certain of it—that the Annual Appropriation bills all passed, and received the signature of the President.

Almost every other bill depending in either House may be considered as having failed of passing in consequence of the impossibility of acting upon them in the few hours left of the seesion.

Among the bills lost is that in which the character of the country is so deeply implicated, for the satisfaction of claims of American citizens for French spoliations prior to 1800, defeated by Mr. MCDUFFIE's bitter opposition to it a few days ago, when it seemed to be a matter of course that it should pass.

In striking contrast to the course of Congress in regard to this class of claims, a provision was passed in the General Appropriation law for paying to our citizens the instalments of the Mexican indemnity received by the agents of the United States, and alleged to be misapplied, or not duly accounied for by them.

The bill to establish the Smithsonian Institution fell through, owing to the lateness of the period of the Session (yesterday) when it was proposed to be taken up, and the indication of determined hostility to the bill of the Senate, and the proposed amendment of it on the part of Mr. ADAMS.

Among the miscellaneous items in the Civil Appropriation bill is an appropriation of thirty-eight thousand dollars for paving Pennsylvania avenue, in this city.

An interesting part of the proceedings in the Senate last evening was the passage of a Resolution directing the allowand to the Hon. W. P. MANGUM, President of the Senate since the death of President HARRISON, of a compensation equal to that which the Vice President, had he remained in office to pischarge the duties of that station, would have received. This is a compliment justly due to that gentleman for his assiduous faithful, and impartial discharge of the duties devolved upon him, and has been paid in a manner which cannot but be most grateful to his own feelings and to those of his friends.—National Intelligencer.

MARRIED,

By the Rev. R. E. Kemp on Tuesday the 4th inst. Mr. NATHANIEL MITCHELL to Miss MARY ANN LOWE.

On Sunday evening last by the Rev. Mr. Whitworth, Mr. E. R. COOK, to HENRIETTA R. WINGATE, all of this county.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.

Providence permitting, there will be preaching at the Methodist Protestant Chapel on next Sunday (to morrow) in the morning. Services to commence at half past ten o'clock. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

GROCERY AND COMMISSION STORE.

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public that they have commenced the Grocery and Commission business at No. 100 Dungan's Wharf Baltimore, under the firm of D. H. BARROW & SON. Merchants and others can be supplied with any articles in their line at the lowest prices.

The sale of grain, or other produce will be especially attended to by the senior partner, who from his general acquaintance with the purchasers of country produce, flatters himself that he will be enabled to obtain the highest market prices.

For Sale.

I am authorised by competent authority to sell at private sale two farms belonging to Dr. Devereux Traverse—one of these farms is beautifully situated on Great Choptank River about 2 miles from New Market and adjoining the lands owned and occupied by Jas. Thompson Esq. It contains about 260 acres and is considered very healthy. The soil is good, and I understand 1000 cords of wood may be spared and leave enough for all necessary purposes. The other is also situated on Great Choptank in Talbot County and the lands on east side of it belong to Wm. Hughlett Esq. This farm is generally known as the Canner farm, is healthy, and beautifully situated, and has shells enough on it to cover it all over, with timber sufficient to support the Farm, and some lay to spare. It is not often that such situations can be had, they are in every respect either for speculation, or as permanent residences well worthy of attention, and great bargains can be had. Title indisputable and a short credit will be given. Apply to
