THE CHRONICLE.

CAMBRIDGE—MD.

SATURDAY MORNING, January, 3, 1845.

The Orphans' Court of Dorchester County will sit on the 5th January.

V. B. PALMER,

No. 59 Pine st. Phila., and 160 Nassau st. (Tribune Buildings,) N. Y., and S. E. corner of Balt. and Calvert st., Baltimore, is our authorized Agent for receiving Advertisements and subscriptions to the "CAMBRIDGE CHRONICLE," and collecting and receipting for the same.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.—We have been enabled to give this document but a very hasty perusal, but we must admit that we never read a State paper with more satisfaction, or one which evinced more sound sense and patriotism. The nature of the subjects treated of in the message prevents us from giving a synopsis of it to our readers. We prefer spreading it entire before our readers in our next paper.

We will however gratify our readers by a few short extracts. The Governor after alluding to the facts stated in the last message of Gov Thomas, that the arrears of interest had progressively increased from $859,656 on the 1st of December, 1842, to $1,171,872 27 on the 1st of December, 1843; and to $1,450,961 51 on the 1st of December, 1844; and that in seven counties of the State the tax laws were not enforced, thus continues—"I have, gentlemen to discharge the more pleasing duty of informing you that the collectors of the State tax have been appointed, and that the direct tax is now being collected in every portion of the State, except in Calvert county, where the collector has been unable to obtain the assessment books from the tax commissioners.

I have still greater pleasure in announcing to you the fact, that during the last fiscal year, there has been received and applied to the extinguishment of arrears of interest, a sum greater than the accruing interest for that period." Again, upon the subject of fixing a time for the State to resume the regular payment of accruing interest, he says: "after providing for the future prompt and certain enforcement of the revenue laws, you will in my judgment, disregard public opinion, and the well ascertained will of your constituents, if you should omit to fix a day upon which the State shall resume the payment of the accruing interest on the public debt, and from which she shall continue to pay the interest as it becomes due. The honor of the State and the interest of her citizens imperatively demand your official action upon this all important subject. I need not ask you, gentlemen, in coming to its consideration to throw aside all views of party, or political advantage, and to look solely to the honor of your State and the welfare of your constituents; for I am persuaded that the political destruction of the individual or party is irrevocably sealed, that shall omit to purpose, or shall oppose, the passage of such laws as in the opinion of the people, will be certainly adequate to redeem and, for the future, preserve the credit of the State."

OUR RELATIONS WITH GREAT BRITAIN.—We have never been able to bring ourselves to believe that a war would be waged between two of the most enlightened nations of the earth, upon a question like that involved in our dispute concerning Oregon. All that portion of Oregon of any considerable value is conceded to us by Great Britain. All the remainder (barren and desolate) has been several times offered to Great Britain as a compromise. The free navigation of the Columbia river, (which seems now to be the bone of contention) has once or twice been offered by our government.—Such being the condition of affairs, it would be consummate folly to engulph perhaps the whole world in a war, for such a consideration. It is not the mode by which such contests should be settled. If every effort at negotiation should fail, compromise or arbitration would be much preferable to the "dernier resort." It is true that we think that our title is too clear to be questioned, but the statesmen of Great Britain make the same pretensions, on their part. War could never settle the question. After a mighty sacrifice of human life, and loss of property that could never be calculated to say nothing of the human suffering, that would be produced, and the effect upon the world in a moral and religious point of view, by the ravages of war, the subject matter of dispute, (if it at al entered into the arrangement for peace) would in all probability, be compromised. As the President has been willing, through courtesy to renew an offer fo an amicable arrangement, although he believed we had an unquestionable right to the whole territory, we hope through the same courtesy towards his predecessors he will not urge an immediate settlement, if that settlement should be by force of arms Although we think it the duty of our government to be fully prepared to meet any emergency, we shall never believe that there will be a war between this country and Great Britain for the Oregon Territory, until matters assume a much more threatening aspect.

LEGISLATURE OF MARYLAND.

Correspondence of the American.

ANNAPOLIS, DEC. 29, 1845.

Agreeably to the constitution, the Legislature of Maryland met to-day. There was a pretty general attendance at the hour of meeting.

The SENATE met at 12 o'clock, and was called to order by JOSEPH H. NICHOLSON, Esq the former accomplished chief clerk. Upon calling the roll, the following gentlemen answered to their names:

John Beall, of Allegany County.
Wm. D. Bowie, Prince George's.
Jacob Charles, Caroline,
Wm. S Constable, Kent.
Hugh Ely, Baltimore County,
Wm. Frick, Baltimore city,
Saml. Hambleton, Jr., Talbot,
Hiram McCullough, Cecil,
John Mathews, Charles,
James Moores, Harford,
John Newcomer, Washington.
John Palmer, Queen Anne's,
Francis P Phelps, Dorchester,
Casper Quynn, Frederick.
Wm Roberts, Carroll,
John S Sellman, Anne Arundel,
Teagle Townsend, Worcester,
Wm Williams, Somerset,

The following Senators did not answer to the call of their names,

Wm L Gaither, of Montgomery, but arrived since,
John Parran, of Calvert,
James T Blackistone, S. Mary's,

On motion, the Senate proceeded to the election of a presiding officer, when Dr Wm. Williams, was unanimously re elected President,

The Senate, after some unimportant preliminary business, adjourned until 12 o'clock to-morrow.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

The late chief clerk, GEO. BREWER, Esq. at 12 o'clock, called the body to order, when 74 members appeared, qualified by taking the usual oath, and took their seats. This body thereupon adjourned.

There were seven members elect of the House absent. To night will settle the disposition of the officers. THOS. F. BOWIE, Esq. of P George's is most prominent for the Speakership. WM. S. Waters Esq. of Somerset, will be strongly urged. JAMES D. CARPINTER, of Charles, is also spoken of, GEO. G. BREWER, the former chief clerk, will no doubt be re-elected.

ANNAPOLIS, DEC. 30, 1845.

IN SENATE.

The Senate met and was called to order by the President, the Hon. Wm. Williams.

Joseph H. Nicholson, Esq. was re elected chief clerk.

John N. Watkins, Esq. was also re-elected Assistant clerk,

Messrs. Gibson and Gordon, committee clerks of the last session, were re-elected,

Mr Andrew Shicer was re-elected Messenger

No door-keeper was appointed

Messages were sent to the House relative to the organization and waiting upon the Governor

Mr Phelps submitted a proposition inquiring into the propriety of establishing biennial sessions

Nothing else of interest done

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

The House met at 12 o'clock, agreeably to adjournment of the previous day, and was called to order by George G Brewer, Esq., chief clerk of the last session.

Several absent members appeared, qualified and took their seats.

The delegates then proceeded to the election of officers

Wm S Waters, Esq. of Somerset county, and Daniel S Biser, Esq of Frederick county, were put in nomination for Speaker

The members proceeded to a ballot, which resulted as follows:

For Wm S Waters, 40 ballots
Daniel S Biser, 37 "

William S Waters, Esq. having received a majority of the whole number of votes cast, was declared duly elected Speaker of the House. He was conducted to the chair by Thos F Bowie, Esq. and Daniel S Biser, Esq.

The Speaker, upon taking the chair, said he felt the weight of the responsibility which the kindness of his friends had imposed upon him. Subjects of vital importance, involving the credit and honor of the State, would likely be presented for consideration, making the duties of the chair most arduous and difficult. To enable the chair to discharge its duty, he craved the co operation of members, assuring them that he should lay aside all party predilections and follow the strict line of duty and propriety.

The following officers were elected:

George G Brewer, Esq. chief clerk
Eli Dorsell, Esq Assistant clerk
J J Bomgardner, G W Dawson, James Mccormick, c Hardcastle, T W Rider, committee clerks
Benjamin L Gantt Sergeant at Arms
Samuel Wilmington, door keeper

A message was sent to the Senate announcing the organization of the House

On motion of Mr Biser, the committee on the constitution hereafter to be appointed, were directed to report a bill for the call of a convention to reform the constitution of Maryland

Mr. McLane of Baltimore city voted against this order assuming the ground that it was premature. The question of Conventional Reform received his most hearty approbation, and at the proper time he would be found firm and zealous in its advocacy. His objection was only as to the impropriety of the order while the Legislature was yet in the course of organization. The order was laid on the table.

Mr. Ware submitted an order in favor of the slaves of Robert R. Richardson, late of Baltimore county. Adopted.

Mr. Berry offered an order directing a bill to be reported to repeal the 5th section of the Act of December session 1841, ch. 309, in relation to illegal voting. Adopted

On motion of Mr. Johnson it was ordered that a committee be appointed to wait upon the Governor, and apprise him of the organization of the House, and of their readiness to receive any communications he might be ready to make. [The annual message will be delivered to morrow—It is quite long, and full of important suggestions—so I learn.

Mr. Carroll submitted an order directing inquiry into the propriety of preventing the holding of Camp meetings of colored persons, in Baltimore County. Adopted.

Mr. Harrington, of Caroline, announced the death of Thomas H. Wheeler, Esq. one of his colleagues, in a few remarks Resolutions directing the wearing of crape, &c. were adopted.

The House adjourned

The Treasurer's Report will not be ready before next week. It will, I learn, show the most happy results from the revenue laws.

TWENTY-NINTH CONGRESS—First Session.

PROCEEDINGS OF YESTERDAY.

Correspondence of the American.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.

U. S. SENATE.

IMPROVED ASPECT OF THE OREGON QUESTION.

Rumors have become facts in regard to Mr. CALHOUN'S opinions, and to day he has spoken for himself, both by word of mouth and the introduction of a series of resolutions which have been prepared in opposition to those introduced by Mr. HANNEGAN of Ia. Against these resolutions Mr. CALHOUN has committed himself by the strongest possible language. He regards them as an actual and intended censure upon the President of the United States for offering to negotiate upon the line of the 49th degree of north latitude, and as a threat that he must not do so again—Mr. HANNEGAN admitted in the debate of to day that the resolutions presented by him were intended as a warning to the Executive not to renew the offer, or accept it if offered by Great Britain, which the British Minister recently declined.

Against opinions like these Mr. CALHOUN has, under advice from friends, and from his own convictions of public duty, committed himself at once. The following Resolutions were submitted by him immediately after Mr. HANNEGAN had called from the table those of a totally opposite character which he had yesterday presented for the consideration of the Senate;

Resolved, That the President of the United has the power by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties provided two thirds of the Senate concur.

Resolved, That the power of making treaties embraces that of fixing and settling boundaries between the territories and possessions of the United States and those of other powers in cases of conflicting claims between them in reference to the same.

Resolved, That however clear their claims, in their opinion, to the country included between the parallels of 49° and 54° 40' north latitude, and extending from the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific Ocean, known as the territory of Oregon, there now exist and have always existed conflicting claims to the possession of the same between us and Great Britain.—the adjustment of which has been the subject of negotiation between the respective Governments.

Resolved. That the President of the U S has rightfully the power under the constitution by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, provided two thirds of the same concur, to adjust by treaty the claims of the two Governments to the said territory by fixing a boundary of their present possessions.

Resolved, That the President of the U S in renewing the offer in the spirit of peace and compromise to establish the 49th degree of north latitude as a line between the two countries to the said territory, did not abandon the honor, character or the best interests of the American people or exceed the powers vested in him by the constitution to make treaties.

The debate upon these and the previous Resolutions was commenced by the Senator from Indiana, who in all his remarks held the most extreme and radical opinions as to our right to the whole of Oregon, and the limited power of the Executive in acting upon a question like this.

Mr. CALHOUN chose not to be drawn very far into the discussion, but in addition to the views expressed in the Resolutions above quoted, he said that Oregon had no truer friend than himself—that the Resolutions of the Senator from Indiana would operate as a censure upon the Executive—that he was well satisfied to leave the whole subject in his hands—that he approved entirely of the President's offer of the 49th degree—that war ought not to be talked of until negotiations were hopeless, and that the Executive was competent to make treaties and to decide the question.

In these opinions Mr. HAYWOOD, of N Carolina, concurred, except that he was more direct in his rebuke of Mr HANNEGAN in censuring the President thus early for what he had done. He was opposed to the whole subject embraced in the abstract Resolutions, and to any discussion of these questions at this time, unless they should be conducted with closed doors.—Like Mr Calhoun, he wished to know what the President would be able to do by treaty before running wild in debate. It would be time enough for the Senate to deliberate when the President had ceased to act. He for one, had confidence in what the Executive would do and in what he had done.

Mr. ALLEN of Ohio remotely insinuated that all this war cry now heard in the country was got up by property holders who were afraid of their shadows.—He was for giving the one year's notice and extending jurisdiction over the whole territory.

Mr. CALHOUN said upon this subject he meant to be understood. The question now before the Senate was one as to the power of the President and his right to to negotiate. If we became he should be found at his post and doing his duty; but that was not the question before the Senate. When the Resolution of the Senator from Ohio came up before the Senate (to put an end to the Joint Occupancy) he should offer a substitute for that also.

Mr. HANNEGAN here intimated his willingness to lay his Resolutions upon the table until the whole subject was brought forward for debate.

Mr. BENTON, with a meaning in his remark, said that he would vote to lay the Resolution upon the table without this qualification.

Thus ended the debate The other business done was of no importance.

The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser has the following interesting letter under date of WASHINGTON, Dec. 27th—4 P. M.

It gives me great satisfaction to inform you that measures are in progress here which will certainly lead to a happy termination of all difficulties with Great Britain as to the Oregon question.

Mr. Calhoun, seeking peace in the spirit of peace, has interposed his offices, with success, between the British Minister and M. Buchanan. The negotiation is not resumed, but, what amounts to the same thing, measures are taken for its renewal, at a future time, after hearing farther from the British Government.

The prospect is that the British Government will renew the negotiation on the basis of the 49th parallel of latitude.

Through Mr. Calhoun's address, conference were held yesterday and to day between the leading Whig and the leading Democratic members of both houses on the subject, at which the following conclusions were reached, viz:—

1. That there should be no war until compromise and arbitration were exhausted.

2. That no rash measures should pass Congress.

3. That Mr. Doughlass's joint resolutions, assigned for Tuesday, Jan. 6th, should be postponed.

I may add that Mr. Webster's information is that the British Government will accept the offer of compromise made by Mr. Polk.

Mr. Bates, the American Banker iff London, has expressed that opinion.

DIED.

At his residence in this county, on Thursday the 25th ult after a short illness, Mr. Samuel Dunnock.

In this town, on Sunday evening last, after an illness of 24 hours, Verma Delia, eldest daughter of W. D. and Ellen L. Glass.

When our Heavenly Father sees proper to afflict us by the death of a relative or a friend; it is quite as natural for us to speak of his character, as it is to grieve at his departure. Having by a late dispensation of Providence, to lament the loss of our worthy friend & fellow citizen, Henry M. Phillips, who, after an illness of several days, departed this life in the city of Baltimore, on the 24th of Dec'r last. We are induced from this solemn impression made upon our minds by this deprivation, to ascribe to him the character he so justly merited. He was an obedient and affectionate son, a kind and loving brother, and a warm hearted friend but the deep felt sorrow evinced by his acquaintances generally will sooner convey to our minds, the great loss his relatives and friends have sustained in the death of one who was ever ready to share with them the cares of life, and whose hand was never withheld from those who asked his aid. Being endowed by nature with a reasonable share of intellect, and a good disposition, he did not neglect to acquire those qualifications, and practice those virtues which enabled him to pass with ease and comfort through the world, and which did not fail to secure the love and esteem of all who knew him.

But while we sympathise with his relatives in their sad bereavement, we would comfort them and console ourselves with the cheering reflection, that though death has caused us to grieve, it has been to him a passport from earth to heaven, where he was received by angels is made conversant with the holy congregation, and realizing the joys of everasting life.

Jan 3, 1846.

Friends and Fellow-Citizens,

I come before you as a tried servant but before I unfold to you my future course allow me to allude to the past. I have been engaged actively, diligently, yet honestly, for the few years past in an effort to purchase that most inestimable of all blessings, freedom. In that effort I have been aided by the kind patronage extended to me in my line of business, by many citizens. To particularise, when all have been so kind, would be invidious, but my feelings of gratitude will not permit me to let this opportunity pass, without thanking the ladies of Cambridge for their patronage and punctuality, I have never called upon them, and departed from their doors, empty handed; and I hope the time may speedily come when these ladies all, and these gentlemen and their children, and their generation out, will all stand in the first frontier of pleasure without end, forever; and my feelings tell me that such will be the destiny of those who have acted such a good and noble part. I am sorry however to be compelled to say, that there are a few gentlemen who have been so delinquent in paying, that had all acted like them, I should not only now be a slave, but involved in a heavy debt.

I have changed my Oyster establishment to the Office lately occupied by Mr. Daniel M. Henry, opposite the Store House of the Messrs. Straughn, where I intend to keep a peaceable, calm and decent House, and I hope no person will come to my house, who is not willing to conduct himself peaceably and quietly, to be satisfied with my best exertions to please, and to pay as he goes. The kindness I have heretofore received from the ladies and gentlemen will cause me to redouble my exertions to give satisfaction. My house will be open from 8 (A. M.) to 10 1 2 (P. M.) The Public's obedient servant,

JOHN HAWKINS.
