FARMER'S INSTITUTE.

Meets in Chestertown This Week—Good Talks on Corn, Alfalfa, Cattle Breeding, etc

Director Wm. L. Amoss, accompanied by Mr. C. M. Lewelling, of Beaver City, Nebraska and Mr. Jared Van Wagenen, Jr., of New York, conducted a Farmers Institute in Chestertown Wednesday and Thursday and in Galena yesterday.

Mr. Lewelling talked on corn for an hour and impressed his audience with the importance of selecting fine seed. It is essential to big crops.

He also told of his experience in growing alfalfa, the finest hay in the world. He cuts his crop three times and has no trouble curing it because of the dry climate. He spoke of the danger to cattle in eating too much. He said it caused hoven in cows, but that in his country some fellow had devised an automatic contrivance which remedied the disease. To cure hoven penetrate the side of the cow with a trocha and the gas will rapidly escape, thus relieving the cow. This wound, however, would heal and the same process would have to be repeated. An ingenious farmer devised a silver whistle which he placed in the incision and then when the animals got too full the whistle would blow, the dogs would hear it and chase her from the field!

Mr. Van Wagenen, Jr., talked in an interesting manner on cattle. He advised the farmers of Kent to restrict their herds to one of these four breeds, viz., Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein and Ayshire.

Among those present were the following: E. Thomas Massey, I. R. Leaverton, R. Irving Walker, Arthur M. Brown, Samuel Wright, W. T. Crow, Jos. Trew, B. F. Rash, P. A. M. Brooks, C. G. Hadaway, C. C. Brown, H. P. Skipper, Edw. W. Hepbron, W. T. and Earle Nicholson, John E Smith, John E. Hadaway, Walter Harris, Wm. Meeks, W. D. Pennington, Clements Jester, Bartus Trew, Walter Morris, J. T. Anthony, Albert Story, Elwood Morris, G. W. Smith, W. E. and Frank Jarrell Charles Willis, J. W. Lambert, W. W. Baldwin, George Rash, Rumsey Anthony, Spencer Biddle, Hyland P. Smith, Barrett C. Smith, Howard Anderson, Chas. McKee, Samuel Vannort, Wm. E Towsend, C. H Hurlock, Wilbur Eliason and others.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mr. Samuel Kilbourne Sr., died at his home in Broad Neck on Mondey aged 61 yrs. He had been in delicate health for a number of years but in his death illness was confined to his bed four days.

Mr. Kilbourne was engaged in the mercantile business until the last few years he had lived retired.

He leaves a widow who was Miss Mary Barkley Vickers and three sons, John Vickers and Samuel of Edesville, and T. Barkley, of Fairlee.

Funeral services were conducted at his late home on Wednesday 11 a. m. by Rev. Mr. Paris, interment at St. Paul's. His three sons and three grandsons Vickers, Harvey and Wallis Kilbourne were bearers.

Casey Bros. had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Miss Geraldine S. Vickers, aged 91 years, 643 W. Lafayette avenue, Balto., died Tuesday at her home. Miss Vickers was for many years vice president of the Union Protestant Infirmary, and was the daughter of the late Mr. Joel Vickers. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. McIlvain, Interment in Greenmount Cemetery. The deceased was an aunt of Mrs. C. V. Newman, of Chestertown, and received every attention from her.

Mrs. Francis A. Sapp died at the home of Mr. Robie Toulson at Lynch on Monday of general debility. Funeral took place from her late residence in Lynch on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock; interment at Kennedyville M. P. Cemetery. Undertaker W. H. Krusen in charge of funeral arrangements.

After a long illness, Mr. Wm. T. Lane died at his home in Kennedyville Monday, aged 63. The deceased has been a patient sufferer and has had the devoted attention of a loving wife and friends. He was a lover of horses and has driven some of the best raised in this county. He was a cool, careful trainer and has always held the confidence of the people.

Funeral services were held at Kennedyville M. P. Church Wednesday, Rev. R. S. Rowe officated.

CHURCH TIDINGS.

Interesting Tidings from the Religious World Three Churches Dedicated by a Former Kent Countian.

Three Methodist Protestant churches will be dedicated at Cumberland Sunday, February 18. They are all under the pastorate of the same clergyman, Rev. William A. Melvin, namely, the Bedford Street Church, which cost $12,000; Mapleside Church, South Cumberland, and Melvin Chapel, East Cumberland. Rev. Mr. Melvin will be assisted by Rev. T. H. Lewis, D. D., president of the Western Maryland College, Rev H. P. Elderdice, of Westminister, and Rev. J. M. Gill, of Washington, D. C. The pastor of these churches is well known in Chestertown being a graduate of Washington College and having married Miss Minnie Peregoy.

Dr. D. L. Greenfield received nine probationery members into church Sunday last.

The Song Service Sunday evening in Christ Church was lead by Miss Flora Wheatley who read a strong paper on "Sympathy." The musical features were a sweet solo by Master Paul Groves, a well-rendered solo by Miss Addie S. Hurlock, male quartette by Messrs. A. M. Culp, J. Hydie Thompson, Fred G. Usilton, J. P. Parrott, and choruses by the large congreation.

The bank will be a State institution with savings features, capital stock $10,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $50,000. Every business man in Church Hill, with exception of one, is a stockholder. The directors will be E. S. Valliant, J. K. Brown, E. B. Walls, E. G. Coppage, J. E. Meredith, W. E. B. Faithful, W. J. Massey, J. H. Newnam, J. B. Newnam, Levi Pippin, J. Frank Temple.

RICH NECK FARMERS

Hold Monthly Meeting at Home of C. N Jefferson—Distinguished Guests and an Interesting Meeting.

The Rich Neck Farmers Club, unlike many of the fruit trees bought, are true to name in many ways. First, they are the owners of one of the richest sections in Queen Anne's, secondly, their meetings are rich in edifying discussions and thirdly they are rich in hospitality.

The February meeting was held Thursday afternoon at the elegant home of ex Judge and Mrs. Charles H. Jefferson, near Chestertown bridge. Mr. R. Irving Walker presided with adeptness while Mr. H. P. Skipper efficiently kept up his end as secretary. For an hour the question of growing clover occupied the attention of the members, then the growing of vegetables, &c.

Prof. W. Amoss, director of Farmers' Institute, accompained by Mr. Jared Van Wagenen, Jr., of New York, and Mr. C. M. Lewelling, of Beaver City, Nebraska, were the special guests of the club and gave delightful talks and information on various lines. Mr. J. T. Anthony voiced the sentiments of all present when he offered a resolution commending Prof. Amoss and his excellent selection of speakers and of appreciation of farmers for the work done at the Institute held in Chestertown. Mr. Van Wagenen said he could go back home and tell his people that down in Maryland they not only sorted the fruit and cattle but that when he walked into a railroad car he found they even sorted the people by color! Mr. Lewelling picked out the best ears of corn to plant from a basket of select corn and gave his reasons therefor. He says the seed corn should be pulled off the stalk before the corn is cut off as the stalk has very much to do with the selecting.

"Don't take seed corn from a high stalk; don't take it when the ear is pointing to the sky, but when it hangs down &c."

At 6 o'clock, the company was invited to partake of a "rich" supper prepared in a style that was simply perfect and served in a delectable manner by the charming waiters. The menu was as follows: roast turkey and dressing, fried oysters, chicken salad and cold slaw, hominy and gravy, sweet potatoes, Jefferson-cured ham and pickles, celery, jelly, Maryland biscuits and light bread, coffee, tea, &c. During the afternoon and evening sweet music was skillfully rendered by Miss Katie Catlin on the piano.

Among those present: were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jefferson and three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. R. Irving Walker, Mr. and Mrs. S. Dewberry, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hurlock, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Skipper, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter and pretty daughter, Messrs. John McRochester and daughter, Elmer S. Jarman, Charles Baxter, Josiah Massey, Jr., Chas. McKee, Rumsey Anthony, Fred G. Usilton, Miss Spear, Miss Catlin and others.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE NOTES.

Two new students matriculated this week: Mr. Tull, of New York City, and Roberts Greenfield, of Chestertown.

Our accommodations are inadequate, in some rooms three are living.

Prof. E. J. Clarke, Miss Townsend and Physical Director Halbert have been on a short vacation.

Examinations are past and the agony will soon be over.

The Mt. Vernon Society will hold their annual reception on Friday, Feb. 23, in Normal Hall. On Washington's birthday the Mt. Vernon will celebrate with appropriate exercises.

Capt. Wilson and Manager Morris, of the base ball team, have commenced to make arrangements for the coming season. Eight games are scheduled to be played on the home grounds. Arrangements are trying to be made whereby a steamer can be chartered and depended upon to convey base ball teams to and from Baltimore.

The Glee Club at a meeting this week elected the following to membership: Messrs. Pilchard, Cain, Moody, George, Gill and Huey. The Mandolin Club also elected the following: Dixon, Matthews, Barroll, Toulson, Corddry, Pilchard and Breeding. The annual concert will take place after Easter.

Misses Merriken and Sapp are at home with sickness.

The young ladies are anticipating giving a public exhibition of indoor athletics at early date under the direction of Miss Townsend.

CREEPING TO BED!

A Young Lady in Kent Comes Near Causing a Disastrous Fire—Alarms the Whole Household.

A charming young lady who lives on one of Kent's most productive farms entertained a young gentleman one evening recently who was so well pleased that he stayed a little longer than he intended. The young lady, after bidding her friend good night, was surprised to find the hour later than she thought. She therefore determined to get to bed without disturbing her parents or allowing any of the home folks to know the hour.

She started up stairs with lighted lamp in hand and stepping as softly as possible but suddenly the chimney came in contact with an obstruction! Down it fell with a crash, the lamp tumbled down the steps and in a moment there was oil over everything and danger of serious trouble. The family were awakened and devoted all their efforts to checking the flames, but did not succeed until three coats were ruined! The reader can imagine what followed.

THE steamer Bertie E. Tull, of Buck Neck, is being equipped with a new 85 horse-power Globe engine and a propeller. The side wheels will be removed. This boat netted the owners a fine income last year under the good management of Mr. M. M. Rasin & Son.
