SATURDAY, - - - - APRIL 21, 1906

THE "walking bar-rooms" of Chestertown got some pretty heavy blows at the present April term of Court. The grand jury did their whole duty, while the State's Attorney was earnest and effective in the many cases he was required to prosecute. The court also seemed to appreciate the great responsibility resting upon it to suppress the illegal traffic in "rot-gut rum" in this community. Judge Crothers said he had learned in his little experience here that there was a continual violation of the local option law and that he was determined to do his utmost to break up the wretched business.

Judge Crothers.

Hon. Austin L. Crothers, the newly appointed associate judge of this judicial circuit, had his first experience in the Kent county court this week. He arrived on Monday and for several days had the full responsibility of the court, sitting alone in the absence of Chief Judge Pearce at the Court of Appeals, and Judge Martin having returned to Talbot. Governor Warfield made no mistake in selecting Mr. Crothers. He is a fit successor of the lamented Judge Brown. His intercourse with our people socially during the week has impressed every one with whom he came in contact most favorably while his unostentatious bearing upon the bench and apparent fitness for the position he holds was clearly evident. We congratulate the Governor for giving us such a high toned and capable judge as we find in AUSTIN L. CROTHERS, the new associate for the Second judicial circuit.

MILLINGTON ITEMS.

Miss Mary Miller, of Philadelphia, was the guest of Miss Annie Bailey last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Bessie Hurlock spent the Easter holidays with her friend Miss May Heall, Centreville, Md.

Miss Mary Lells, of Baltimore, spent a few days at home last week.

Messrs. Howard and Lemden Loper, of New York, visited their mother Sunday and Monday.

Miss Elizabeth Lells, of Smyrna, Del., was the guest of Mrs. Jennie Lells, Sunday and Monday.

Mr. Robert Barnes and family, of Queen Anne's, spent the Easter holidays with Mr. John Barnes, near town.

Miriam, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gardner, is quite sick with measels.

Miss Allie Price, of Philadelphia, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Martha Price.

Easter services were observed at Asbury M. E. church Sunday morning, at Trinity M. E. church Sunday afternoon, and church of Holy Cross Sunday evening. These services were observed with appropriate sermons and extra music in the three churches.

Rev. Wm. Anderson, of Baltimore, Presiding Elder, preached a fine sermon Thursday at Trinity Church.

The Junior League will hold a handkerchief bazaar and tea next Thursday evening April 26 in Gillespie and Moffet's hall. The tea will consist of ham and chicken sandwich, mock terrapin, tea, coffee, and rolls. The sum of 20 cents will be charged. Tea at half-past five and later on in the evening the Junior League superintendent will greatly appreciate all help to make this a success. Proceeds for the repairing of the church.

Boys with slings should be careful how they throw stones.

John Stevens who died at his home near town Saturday, was interred in St. Dennis Cemetery, Galena, Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph Moffett, who has suffered for months with cancer, died Saturday at the home of her brother, Geo. Gordon, near town; interment at Galena.

Frank Rash, aged 23, formerly of this town, was killed in Phila. Wednesday morning while at his post of duty on a trolley car. Five minutes before his days work was done the trolley pole slipped off the wire, Rash jumped off to fix it when another car bumped into his crushing him. He died at the German hospital an hour later. The remains were brought to Milington Thursday evening, funeral services held in M. E. church, interment at Millington cemetery.

STILL POND NOTES.

Mr. Herbert Ford, of Chesterville, and Harry Ogden, of Baltimore, were guests of Mr. Chas. Ford, on Sunday.

Mr. Price Stanley, of Wilmington, visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stanley the past week.

Miss Daisy Herbert has been the guest of Mrs. J. H. Warren the past week.

Miss Katie Howard, of Baltimore, and Misses Avis and Marguerita Dodd, of Chestertown, have been the guests of Mrs. M. J. Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Jones, of Philadelphia, have been visiting relatives in our town.

Miss Minnie Medders, of Baltimore, and Miss Helen Harper, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are the guests of Mrs. William Medders.

Mr. Fred Schofield, of Baltimore, has been visiting relatives in and around our town.

Those on the sick list this week are Mr. J. C. Rasin and Mrs. Edward Schofield.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ireland, of Baltimore, were the guests of Mrs. Dr. Kelley on Sunday.

The Epworth League will be led Sunday evening by Miss E. M. Taylor, topic, Our Resources in Service.

Mrs. Hepbron and daughter, Miss Bessie, of Baltimore, have been visiting Mrs. Dr. Maxwell.

Mr. Ralph Robinson is visiting friends in Philadelphia.

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

Old Jupiter Pluvius was bent on a plan of despoiliation on Saturday night and Sunday morning but failed in large measure to dampen Easter enthusiasm. The Easter girls with their stylish hats and suits were prominent and numerous and more bewitching than ever. Fair congregations attended services at the several churches with pleasure and profit. Special Easter exercises were held in the evening at the M. E church, a very interesting program being finely rendered amid happy scenes and joyous hearts before a crowded house. The Easter offering for missions was very good; all effort is now bent for the success of the Japanese lecture on the 26th, then a long strong and altogether pull for Children's Day anniversary in June.

In the multitudinous organizations for missions and relief with their "fat billets" for the favored few, it is encouraging to note the heroic and self sacrificing efforts of the Christian Herald Relief Corps in behalf of famine stricken Japan which has just received a very generous message of commendation from President Roosevelt. This organization has raised more than $100 000, every dollar of which has gone to the Japan sufferers without the reduction of a cent for expenses. This work is international and non sectarian and is a "zeal service to humanity" in body saving and soul winning.

Mrs. Mamie A. Stilley, of Baltimore, spent a flying visit to the home of her brother, Joseph R Ryan, Jr., the past week.

Numerous swan were noticed passing down the bay last week which caused much surprise, as it is unusual for them to be going south so late in the season.

An oyster buyer from the lower bay struck this place last week and for several days caused a big boom to our tongmen by offering ten cents more on the bushel than our home buyers could pay. He runs the oysters through to Jersey planters and promised to be back in time to buy another cargo ere the season close.

There seems to be much interest among our oystermen as to the composition of the shell fish commission to be appointed by the board of public works. It is a conceeded fact that the selection of Capt Howard will be detrimental to the oystermen. Oystermen generally, have lost all confidence in the brave Captain of former years.

Our fishermen are some what discouraged by the very low price of fish and scarcity of shad with the drifters. The weather now is fine, and nature is doing her utmost to make a beautiful landscape, and farmers among us are happy on the outlook as to work and crops.

Mr. Wm Apsly met with a severe accident on Wednesday morning at about 2 o'clock. He was on board of the gasoline boat of Frank Davis, proposing to go fishing, the engine was out of trim somehow and in attempting to fix it while a lighted lantern was in the boat, the flame ignited the gasoline causing quite a fire. Apsly was badly burned about the face. The sails and other tackling were also burnt up.

The happiest little woman in all the town on Saturday evening was Mrs. Annie Alexander, our popular milliner who is now the picture of perfect health, when asked the reason for her improved physique she replied "Easter prosperity." She has sold during Easter week between 25 and 30 ladies hats, besides lots of other feminine fancies all of which were paid for in spot cash.

Ernest Hersch one of our popular young men had a very close call on last Saturday. He with others were plying their vocation in a gasoline boat when suddenly the boat struck a stake with such force as to shave her bow so rapidly that the young man was taken from his feet and dropped into the cold water of the bay, the other members of the crew grabbed him by the clothes as he went over holding on to him while the boat was still plowing through the water much to his discomfuture. He finally succeeded in shaking himself loose from their grasp when he was enabled to look out for himself until the boat was backed to him and he was hauled on board.

Misses Nannie and Ethel Taylor and Edna Downey spent Easter at their paternal homes here.

Mr. Wm. T. Harrison represented the I. O. O. F Lodge of this place at the annual session of the Grand Lodge held in Baltimore this week and Mr. C. S. Porter performed the same duty for the Jr. O. U. A. M. at their state convention held in Westminster.

Miss Edna Ruth Downey who is attending Washington College, spent the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Downey.

Miss Bessie Stoner Ford, of Baltimore, spent the Easter holidays here as the guest of Miss Edna R. Downey.

Mr. Max. Alexander, gave a reception on last Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Bessie L. Ford of Baltimore, and Miss Edna R. Downey, of Chestertown. Among those present were Mrs. Alexander, Misses Clara, Lula, and Helen Downey, Messrs Irvin and Olin Ashley, Clarence Greenwood and Chas. Baker. Features of the evening were, music, dancing and singing refreshments served at 10 o'clock, and later the crowd disbanded after having spent a pleasant evening.

WORTON ITEMS.

We are glad to state that Mrs. P. B. Rasin is much improved after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Annie Spear is no better at this writing.

Mrs. Chas. Crowding is very little better.

By the death of our beloved doctor, J. H. Hessey, this vicinity is without a doctor. We hope one will soon settle in our town, as a doctor is greatly needed here.

Carpenters are busy in this neighborhood. The new Station house is underway. A new dwelling house and out buildings are being erected by Chestertown carpenters on Sandy Hill farm. Mr. Richard Moffett's home near I. U. Church is being remodeled by Stavely & Bowers.

Miss Alice Wood and sister spent the Easter Holidays with Miss Mabrey and Ethel Rash.

Mrs. Alice Wendling and sister, of Wilmington, are at the home of their brother, Mr. Wm. Campbell, for a few days.

Miss Sarah Jamsey has been spending some time with Mrs. Jack Jester, Queen Anne.

Mrs. Margaret Merritt has returned to her home here, after spending the winter in Baltimore. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Archer Hepbron.

The Epworth League will hold a business and social meeting at the home of Mr. G. N. Cooper, Friday evening.

Mrs. Chas. Joiner, of Hanesville, is visiting her daughter, Mrs Edward Jones.

THE election of a town commissioner will take place in Chestertown next Monday. At the solicitation of friends Mr. John W. Hirons has consented to be a candidate for re-election. He has made a faithful officer. Mr. George D. Lofland's friends are also urging him as a candidate as are also the friends of Mr. James W. Coleman.

A GREAT DISASTER.

San Francisco Shocked by Earthquake and Nearly Destroyed by Fire—Loss of Life Remarkably Small—Property Loss Over $300,000,000.

The scenes which marked the transformation of the gayest, most careless city on the continent, into a wreck and a hell, it is difficult to describe. That the day started with a blind, general panic goes without saying. People woke with a start to find themselves flung on the floor. In such an earthquake as this is the human instinct to get out of doors, away from falling walls. The people stumbled across the floors of their heaving houses to find that even the earth was swaying and rising and falling so that sidewalks cracked and great rents opened in the ground.

The three minutes which followed were an eternity of terror. Probably a dozen of more persons died of pure fright in those three minutes, when there seemed no help in earth or heaven. There was a roar in the air like a great burst of thunder and from all about came the crash of falling walls. It died down at last, leaving the earth quaking and quivering. Men would run forward, stop as another shock, which might be greater any moment, seemed to take the earth from under their feet, and throw themselves face downward on the ground in an agony of fear. Then followed the fire which destroyed building after building.

SUMMARY OF THE GREAT DISASTER.

There were three shocks, first at 5.13 a. m. Nearly one-half of San Francisco is destroyed by the earthquake and fire.

At least 500 persons have been killed.

It is estimated that over 2,000 persons were injured.

The property loss is placed at over $200,000,000.

Earthquake shocks broke the water mains, so that there were no means of combating the flames.

Dynamite was used to blow down structures, in hope of checking the flames.

The entire business section along market street, from Ninth to the water, was laid waste by the flames. Many of the finest buildings in the city were wrecked.

Only one building of the Leland Stanford University, at Palo Alto, withstood the shock, and two persons were killed.

Many buildings were destroyed in San Jose 50 miles south of San Francisco, and from 15 to 20 persons were killed.

Boston merchants promptly called a meeting and telegraphed $25,000 as a starter. The Government has appropriated a million and generous donations are being sent from all cities.

Thirst and famine now cause of suffering.

It was in 1901 that we last visited this city of San Francisco and among the notable buildings seen there, all of which have been destroyed, we recall the Palace Hotel, 7 stories and one of the best equipped hotels in the West.

The offices of three morning papers, the Chronicle, the Call and the Examiner, are situated within 100 feet of each other. The Chronicle Building, at Market and Kearney streets, is a ten-story steel-frame building and is one of the first buildings of its character put up in San Francisco. The Spreckles Building, in which was the business office of the Call, is 16 stories high. It stands at Third and Market streets.

Just across Third street the Spreckels Building is the home of the Examiner, seven stories high, with a frontage of 100 feet in Market street.

The postoffice is a fine gray stone structure. It covers half a block on Mission street between Sixth and Seventh street. The ground on which the building stands was of a swampy character and some difficulty was experienced in obtaining a solid foundation.

The City Hall, which was wrecked, is a mile and a half from the water front. It was an imposing structure, with a dome 150 feet high. The building covers about three acres and costs more than $7,000,000.

The Chinese quarter where thousands like like rats were the first to go, but later the palatial homes on Nob Hill were destroyed by fire. The Cliff House, located on a solid rock, looking over at the Pacific, and from which we watched the hundreds of seals disporting in the sea, was washed away, together with scores of other noted buildings.

San Francisco has nearly 400,000 population and is called the Ideal City.

It is located like New York, ferryboats running continually from the city of Oakland across San Francisco Bay to the city. All passengers entering the city from the North or West have to take the ferry. All of this traffic has ceased and today there is death and destruction where a few days ago all was life and business activity.

Miss Ida Bramble, of Kent county, is at Santa Barbara which city was not seriously affected by the earthquake. Miss Martha Loud, of this county, is also near Los Angelos. Rev. W. L. White has two brothers in the city of San Francisco and he is worried about their fate. Capt. R Earle Fisher, a graduate of this college, is near the fated city. Mr. S. W. Wright, of "Riverside," has a brother in that place, while Mr. Geo. B. Westcott, Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., and others have relatives in the city.
