ROCK HALL ITEMS

One of the finest properties in our town is now being offered for sale. Mr. William Wilkins is owner.

Mr. S. J. Davis, after a long absence and severe illness is again in our midst among his relatives and hopes to be O. K. in a week or so.

Capt. J. B. Boyer has been sprucing up of late. His dwelling has been dressed with a coat of paint and the lawn has been placed in good trim.

Old Sol and his pal, Gen. Humidity, has been on a rampage and gave us all a sweltering seige. They also caused a big influx of city folks to the numerous boarding houses of our section of the county. "Its an ill wind that blows good to no one."

The M. E. Sunday-school will hold its annual picnic at Wilkinson's landing on the 18th inst. It is proposed to make it an all-day affair and for all the members and friends of the school. The features of the day will be a parade, prayer and song service, luncheon, cake, ice-cream and barrels of lemonade, boating, bathing, ball game, wrestling and sparring, &c.

Mr. M. L. Maslin is one of our farmers who has a strong faith in the bright future of peaches. He has been zealously attentive to his orchard this season and his trees are roping full of fine fruit; so much so that many of them are breaking down. His plum trees are also crowded with fruit; the trees all along the rows resemble huge parachutes. Mr. Frank Wilkins, another of our young farmers, has one of the finest growing corn crops in this section. Frank knows how to "get there" in corn tilling.

The "weather man" tried hard on Wednesday to dampen the ardor of the patriotism of "we uns" but failed in large part to keep us home bound. Almost everybody went up to Tolchester of course, those not going there spent the day appropriately in various modes with pleasure. Old Glory and bunting was flung to the breeze all along the line. One thing to mar the sentiment of the day was the abundance of beer and buck in certain parts of our community, but no disturbance was manifest.

Notwithstanding the terrific heat, churches and organizations here have maintained the even tenor of their way On Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Burr had quite good assembly and he preached a splendid sermon on the life and conversion of St. Paul, putting strong emphasis on modes of conviction and the importance of recognizing them. He also forcefully set forth the duty of obedience as the price of success in the new life. The evening subject of the reverend gentleman was "Partiotism and Thanksgiving," as appropriate topics for this American Independence Anniversary.

Mr. E. H. Apsley, of the Colorado mining region, is spending a season of simple life at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Apsley. Ned is chock full and running over with gold mining and has a splendid selection of specimens of the precious "stuffs." He will return to Colorado in the fall. The young man says that Colorado is the paradise of the world. 350 days of the year is bright sun shiny and pleasant weather, the nights are generally cold. Farmers have a sure thing in crop planting when they place the seed in the soil, they know just about the product will be, because of the fine weather and regular irrigation. There is no guess work, no worry and everybody is happy.

SASSAFRAS ITEMS.

Miss Tressa Dreka has been visiting friends near Georgetown for the past several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Griffith are entertaining her sister, Mrs. John Howarth, of Chester, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sylvester are entertaining Miss Dora Penell, of lower Kent, for the past fortnight.

Mrs. Frank Battle and little daughter, Elizabeth, returned home on Saturday after a visit to Baltimore relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Biggs and children, of near Middletown, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnston, from Saturday until Monday.

Judge Shepperd Morris and wife are entertaining their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Singleton and three children, of Wilmington, and a gentleman friend, their guest, of Wilmington.

Our farmers are all through cutting wheat and many are through with their hay harvest. Mr. Isaac Gibbs is busy threshing wheat and Mr. Harry Griffith will begin as soon as Mr. Gibbs is through. Our farmers here in Kent are all wide awake and up-to-date.

Children's Day was most beautifully observed in the old brick M. E. Church on Sunday evening last. The singing was of a very high order. Our bright organist Mrs. John F. Ernest, and her brother, Mr. Andrew Reynolds, assisted in the singing. The children did most excellent and too much praise cannot be given the lady members and all of them. Over $9 was realized. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Smoot, made a most pleasing address. The old edifice was most beautifully decorated with potted plants and flowers. A large audience witnessed the beautiful entertainment.

The anniversary of the marriage 50 years ago of Mr. and Mrs John Johnston was most beautifully celebrated by their children and many relatives on Saturday last. The day surely was a bright and golden one, and under the auspices of so much brightness, surrounded by their devoted children and relatives, this aged, happy couple looked radiant. The grounds surrounding their beautiful home reminded one of a fairy picnic. Over 75 chairs were placed on the lawn and surely it was a lawn fete. Their happy children and grandchildren, down to the wee little babes, all took in the mirth and gladness. There were over 65 guests and an elegant two-o'clock dinner was served to all, consisting of all the delicacies of the season, and in the evening ice-cream, ices and cakes were served in abundance. Their children from Philadelphia and lower Kent were all present. The presents were many and beautiful, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnston fully appreciated all such loving kindness. A great many of the relatives remained until Monday, all seeming loath to leave their dear aged relatives. May Mr. and Mrs. Johnston live to celebrate many more such delightful hours is our fervent prayer. Their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. F. S. Cain, were also in attendance. The day was truly a charming one.

A NUMBER of small farms are advertised for sale in another column. Two have fine bay frontage and are on the main road in sight of Tolchester. Purchasers can improve with buildings, etc., to suit themselves. Little cash money required.

START MADE AT LAST.

The Shellfish Commissioners met in Annapolis and appointed ex-State Senator Thomas H. Robinson, of Harford county, as counsel to the board The commission will also appoint Mr. W. Gibson Emory, of Centreville, Md., as assistant to the hydrographic engineer, Mr. Swepson Earle, at a salary of $1,080 a year.

Engineer Earle has made an actual start toward the work of surveying the oyster grounds of Chesapeake bay. This work was of a preliminary nature, consisting of the establishment of signals, and was conducted from the State steamer Governor McLane. The operations were at the mouth of Severn river, at the entrance to Annapolis harbor. Mr. Earle states that in this vicinity 18 signals will be necessary, and that they can be fixed at the rate of two a day, so that this work will be completed about the latter part of next week. With these signals completed, the work of surveying the waters contiguous to Anne Arundel county, beginning at Hackett's Point, about seven miles from Annapolis, will then be under way.

The steamer Thomas L. Worthley has been purchased, machinery removed, and will be fitted up as a house boat for the commissioners.

MILLINGTON ITEMS.
