ESTABLISHED 1841.

FRED. G. USILTON. WM. B. USILTON, JR

WM. B. USILTON'S SONS, PUBLISHERS.

SATURDAY, - - - JULY 14, 1906

H. M. BROWN was paying 75 and 76½c for wheat yesterday.

H. H. BARROLL, Esq., was on Saturday last named by Gov. Warfield one of the Commissioners to the Jamestown Exposition.

A WRIT of injunction has been signed by Judge Pearce restraining the commissioners of Queen Anne's from continuing their work of reassessment of real and personal property.

THE drydock Dewey weighing 11,000 tons and costing over a million dollars has been safely moored at Olongapo after a trip of 12,000 miles. It required just 193 days to tow the drydock from Baltimore. It is 500 feet long. This feat is another evidence of the ingenuity and skill of American workmen and navigation.

THE Attorney-General's office in the city of Wilmington shows that a marriage combine exists between clergymen, cab-drivers, magistrates and others. A prominent clergyman was arrested on Monday charged with marrying a couple without a license. He is known as the "marrying parson" and makes a living from this source. The fine was $30.

THE haste of farmers and threshermen to get the wheat threshed has caused some poor wheat to be sold. It does look foolish to carefully pitch a crop of wheat and then lose several hundred dollars because of undue haste upon the part of machine men in getting to some other farmer. The time to thresh is when the wheat is in condition, and the farmer should take the matter in his hands and see to it that it is not threshed until it will grade.

IT IS said the recent action of all the banks on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, at a meeting in Easton, in deciding to reduce the rate of interest from 4 per cent. to 3 per cent. beginning January 1 next, will not interfere with the Delaware movement. At the next session of the Legislature efforts will be made to enact a law compelling all banks in that State to pay interest. Heretofore the action of the Eastern Shore banks has been taken as a precedent. The Talbot Savings Bank refuses to enter the agreement and it is possible that other banks may not sign the contract. Until the agreement is signed there will be no change in the rate of interest.

IN this issue of the NEWS will be found a list of some of the improvements which have been made in Millington since the fire which occurred July 12th, 1904. Just two years ago the cry of fire was heard and it wasn't hushed until the business section and the whole of the eastern section of the town, including 80 buildings, was in ashes causing a loss of about one hundred thousand dollars with about one third insured. Although the people were dazed by such a heavy loss they faced the situation as only Americans do, and started again to regain at least something of their loss within the year's time. Much work has been done, between 40 and 50 buildings completed. The new buildings are up-to-date in every way, the streets have been widened and out of the ashes has sprung a new and prettier town than before.

Horse Notes.—The sale of Highflight, Capt. Samuel Walter's roan stallion, to Messrs. W. H. McKee and Cecil R. Atkinson, is reported.

Rev. A. H. Covey has sold his pacer, Rex, to a New York party, for $250.

The Horse Show has been postponed for good reasons.

W. H. Lingo's thoroughbred stallion, advertised for sale in this issue, may be seen at Mr. James Bramble's.

Mr. James Willis, of near Fairlee, has sold his fine pair of match horses to New York parties for $600.

Tolchester Fair.—Extensive preparations are being made for the Queen Anne's, Kent and Cecil Fair, to be held at Tolchester August 28, 29, 30 and 31. Secretary Geo. E. Noland is busy booking entries for the various races and as there are no races elsewhere for that week, a fine list of horses is expected to compete for the purses. Special efforts are also being made to have a creditable display in the Exhibition Hall and in the children's department, and the indications are that the fair will be one of the most successful in its history. The entries close Tuesday, August 21.

Big Shoot at Betterton.—Captain J. R. Malone has arranged to hold his 12th annual shoot at Betterton, on August 27, 28, 29 and 30. Several new features have been added. One is a 100-yard event for the antiques who have been shooting more than 20 years. There will be no entrance fee, except the price of the targets. The purse is $100, divided according to the number of entries. In addition to this event, there will be a team race of four men from any organized gun club, and $50 in cash goes to the three highest teams; no entrance fee except price of targets; 50 targets a man. Experts and paid representatives barred in the event. Several other attractions will be added.

Picnics.—Christ Church Sunday school held a delightful picnic at Queenstown Wednesday. There were 264 who enjoyed the occasion. Emmanuel P. E. Sunday school will visit the same place next Wednesday and the Methodist Episcopal school on Thursday. Mr. William H. Bosley, former president of the Queen Anne's Railroad, and his family moved to the Bolingly at Queenstown the first of the week, and will spend the summer there. It was through the kindness of Mr. Bosley that the schools enjoyed the privilege of spending a day there. Mr. William Bosley is justly considered the benefactor of the section of the country through which the former Queen Anne's Railroad and its branches, now the M. D. & V. pass, as it was his foresight, energy, perseverance and financial ability that the road was built and rapid and cheap transit furnished to Baltimore and to the ocean.

Baseball.—Millington was scheduled to play Betterton last Saturday, but late that morning telephoned that it would be impossible for them to be on hand. So the Betterton club immediately telephoned for the Chestertown team, and they, knowing what a sad disappointment it was to lose a scheduled game, hustled together and journeyed here, hoping to give Betterton a pleasant and interesting game; nor we retheir expectations in vain, for although they proved an easy victory the game was greatly appreciated, not only by the team, but by the spectators. White was touched up freely by the Betterton boys, while Horsey proved an enigma to the Chestertown batters, allowing them only two hits, and not a single man reached third sack. Hoover and Gentry's fielding was superb. Score—Betterton 10, Chestertown 0. Batteries—White and Rolph for Chestertown, Horsey and Cooling for Betterton.

Justice to Whom it is Due.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—With the Democratic star in the ascendency and the tendency of the times to true Democracy and towards real Democratic leaders, like Bryan, Johnson, Folk, Towne and Hearst, and away from such false prophets and profit sharing politicians as Cleveland, Belmont et al, it must be gratifying to all Democrats and other lovers of good government to read and study the manly and modest letter of Mr. Bryan to ex-Chairman Jones, defining his position and proclaiming his desire to see the successful enactment into law of the political principles he believes will be of public benefit, rather than the attainment of personal advancement. This letter is practically a letter of acceptance of the next Presidency of these United States and will be so labelled in the near future.

And while giving the full meed of praise to our peerless leader for his honesty, ability and modesty, Democrats throughout the nation should accord to Congressman Hearst full credit for his manly letter of withdrawal and pledge of support to Bryan if nominated on a Jeffersonian Democratic platform, as well as to give Mr. Hearst full credit for the manly fight he made in 1904 to prevent the corporate control of our national convention.

The writer has been a believer in and follower of Mr. Bryan since his first nomination, and cannot claim to have ever served under the Hearst banner, but such acts as the above cannot fail to meet the approval of all Democratic Democrats and redound to Mr. Hearst's credit and benefit. C. R. A.

ORIGIN OF NEW YORK NAMES

New Dorp Replaced a Town Thrice Destroyed by Fire.

There are some names of places in Greater New York common enough on the modern tongue, but the origin of which is not so generally known. New Dorp, on Staten Island, was so named by the Dutch to distinguish it from Oude Dorp (Old Dorp), the first Dutch settlement on the island, which was thrice destroyed by the Indians. Old Dorp stood to the northwest of Fort Wadsworth, about where Arrochar now stands. Two miles to the west of the ruins of Old Dorp the persistent Dutch built their New Dorp.

The northeast section of Staten Island, which until the formation of Greater New York was known as Castleton, and is still generally so called, takes its name from the fact that it once formed Governor Dongan's "manor of Castleton." Dongan—the Dongan hills are named from him—was of the family of the Earl of Limerick, and the seat of the earl in Ireland was Castletown, in the County Kildare. Many of Governor Dongan's descendants still live on Staten Island, some of them occupying and owning houses on the land of the old manor. At first Governor Dongan merely had a hunting lodge on Staten Island, and it is significant of the state of that portion of New York city at the end of the seventeenth century that at a meeting of the colonial council the governor was entered on the minutes as "absent, being engaged at his hunting lodge on Staten Island killing bears."

Bedlow's island, on which the statue of Liberty stands, was purchased in 1716 by an Englishman named Bedlow, who had amassed a large fortune in the East India trade and was an acquaintance of the then governor, the notorious Lord Cornbury. Bedlow received from Cornbury the privilege of victualing the British fleets which frequented New York. It was a most profitable monopoly, having in it great possibilities of graft. Cornbury is supposed to have "stood in" with Bedlow. When Bedlow died suddenly Cornbury seized all his papers, collected all the outstanding debts due the contractor, and kept everything of Bedlow's he could lay his hands on, leaving Bedlow's widow and children in poverty. Bedlow's island was bought and used by the contractor while he victualed the fleets as a depot for his stores.

Corlear's Hook takes its name from Jacob Corlear, the city trumpeter in the old Dutch days. Governor Beekman bought it from him. The governor also bought a country estate, the site of which is commemorated by Beekman street.

The true meaning of the word Manhattan, originally spelled variously as Mana-ha-ta, Manhattoes and Manhattan, is hid in mystery. It is not even certain whether it was the name of the place or of the tribe which inhabited it, or of both. The old idea that the word meant Place of Drunkenness has been satisfactorily confuted, but what does the word mean?—New York Press.
