The Axe We Grind

Is to offer you BETTER SHOES than any other dealer. There isn't any doubt but what we are succeeding. Its not that merely good leather is used. The lasts are true to nature. The workmanship is unexcelled, so it would be strange indeed if such shoes did not prove more satisfactory than those made simply to sell.

Every cent you pay for our Shoes is fully represented by the value received. Fresh new goods on new models just from the makers. Dressy Shoes for all occasions. Staunch long wear shoes for hard usage.

Foot-form boys' and girls' shoes, all styles and prices are here all good value. The only place in town where you can get the Celebrated W. L. Douglas Shoes for men and boys.

Look in before buying elsewhere. My stock of Oxford Ties in white, tan and black can't be beat this season.

A CHEMICAL TRICK.

Changing a White Pasteboard Cat Into a Striped Tiger.

When we happen to witness a phenomenon which seems to violate natural laws we are not likely to forget its cause if it be explained to us. The following experiment, which I devised for my students, helped them to understand as well as to remember some chemical data:

A white cat, made of flexible pasteboard and imprisoned in a glass jar, is shown to the audience. The lecturer announces that without opening the jar or even touching it he will cause the cat to undergo a zoological as well as a chemical transformation. He takes the support of the jar and pushes it forward in full view of the students. The change occurs almost instantaneously. The cat takes a rich orange color on which black transversal stripes rapidly paint themselves. The cat has become a tiger.

The whole transformation is produced by emanations of hydrogen sulphide, which is generated in the jar itself without any visible apparatus. The cat has been previously coated with a solution of chloride of antimony wherever the orange hue was to be produced and with a solution of basic acetate of lead wherever the black stripes were to appear. Both solutions are colorless. After the coated cat has been introduced in his glass cage a small piece of pasteboard is placed under the wooden support so as slightly to incline the jar forward. A few decigrams of pulverized sulphide of iron folded in a piece of blotting paper are deposited behind the cat on the elevated side of the bottom of the jar. Two or three cubic centimeters of diluted sulphuric acid are dropped with a pipette on the opposite side. When the performer wishes the transformation to take place he takes the wooden support and pushes it forward as if he wanted everybody to see better what is going to happen. By so doing he suppresses the slight inclination which kept the iron sulphide beyond the reach of the sulphuric acid. The gas is evolved, and the formation of the orange sulphide of antimony and black sulphide of lead takes place in a few seconds.—G. Michaud in Scientific American.

MOVING IN PORTUGAL.

It Takes About Fifteen Women and Five Men For One Job.

Moving day in Portugal is a greater time of trouble than it is even in this country. A traveler tells about it: "Vans are unknown, the only means of wheeled transport being rough carts drawn by bullocks, these in turn proving so ruinous to furniture that only kitchen utensils, iron stoves, bedsteads and other unspoilable articles are sent by them. For the rest, the goods are carried often for many miles by women, only the heaviest things being taken by men, of whom four are employed to take pianos, wardrobes and other heavy furniture. They carry these on poles laid across their shoulders, to which they are tied by scarfs passing under the opposite arm. All lighter goods are taken by the women on their heads. Six dining room chairs form an ordinary load for one woman.

"She carries these by placing one on her head, to which chair the remaining five are tied, forming a sort of cage around her. Previous to starting the woman gives herself a shake, the chairs vibrate around her, and, with her hands on her hips, she starts off at a contented jog trot, covering six miles perhaps in an hour and a half and considering herself fairly and sufficiently well paid with 12 cents or 16 cents for the return journey there and back again for a fresh load. For long distances only two journeys are made in the day.

"The women are nearly always barefooted, except on the coldest days in winter, when they may perhaps wear sabots, but they often wear as many as fourteen or fifteen much gathered petticoats of all colors and materials tied with a sash round the waist, the bunch thus formed upon the hips making a rest for the hands. All the china and glass are carried in big round baskets on the head and very rarely supported by the hand. About fifteen or sixteen women are generally employed in an ordinary move and four or five men."—Chicago News.

The Whale's Mouth.

The whale's mouth is the largest institution of the kind in the animal kingdom, being capable of containing over two hogsheads of water. The whale's throat, however, is so small that an orange would scarcely pass through it, and he lives on the minute sea animals contained in the water. Drawing in a large quantity, he strains it through his whalebone sieve, retaining the animal organisms it contains and throwing out the water through circular holes in his head. Whales engaged in feeding are said by whalers to be "spouting."

Reason Enough.

Benevolent Old Gentleman (rescuing one small boy from the pummeling of two others)—What are you hurting this boy for?

"Because he made so many mistakes in his arithmetic this morning."

"But what business was that of yours?"

"Why, he let us copy our answers from his."

A Strike.

Mrs. Nulywed—You don't love me any more; I know you don't! Nulywed—But, my dear, you're mistaken. I adore you. Mrs. Nulywed—No; you don't. No man could love a woman so badly dressed as I am!—Paris Rire.

Calmness under contradiction is demonstrative of great stupidity or strong intellect.—Zimmermann.

DO YOU KNOW

That Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine for women, all the ingredients of which are printed upon its wrapper and have the unqualified endorsement of the leading medical writers of the several schools of practice, recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Prescription" is advised. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet, and read the numerous extracts from standard medical authorities praising the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are made, and don't forget that no other medicines put up for sale through druggists for domestic use can show any such professional endorsement. This, of itself, is of far more weight and importance than any amount of non-professional testimonials.

The "Favorite Prescription" cures all woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements, thus banishing the periodical headaches, backaches, bearing-down distress, tenderness and draging-down sensations in lower abdomen, accompanied by weakening and disagreeable catarrhal, pelvic drains and kindred symptoms.

Dr. Pierce and his staff of skilled specialists may be consulted free by addressing as above. All correspondence is treated as sacredly confidential. By consulting in this way the disagreeable questionings and personal "examinations" are avoided.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains some very interesting and valuable chapters on the diseases peculiar to women. It contains over one thousand pages. It is sent post paid, on receipt of sufficient in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only, or 21 cents for a copy in flexible paper covers, or 31 cents for a cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R.V. Pierce, as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach liver and bowels. One a laxative, two or three cathartic.

FOR SALE.

STORE ROOM AND FIXTURES and SIX-ROOM HOUSE TO RENT, with Store. A good business stand. Apply at once. MRS. E. A. CRITTENDEN, jy7-3t. Chestertville, Md.

TO THE VOTERS OF KENT

I desire to offer myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the Senate of Maryland, to be selected by the County Convention of Kent in 1907, and to submit for your consideration my record in the past and to outline what I would attempt to do in the event of my nomination and election.

First, I desire to place myself on record as being opposed to the present wholesale barter and sale of votes that practically decides both the primaries and general election, which is harmful not only to the buyer by blunting his moral perception and rendering him more easy of access to the seductive manipulation of the legislative lobbyist, but is harmful to the seller in that it not only degrades his manhood but makes the seller an agent in bringing into existence the unjust laws of special privileges that are in most cases the cause of the poverty or lust that induces a man to sell a birthright handed down to him by the blood and sacrifices of his forefathers, but it puts out in the future and makes harder of attainment true Democratic conditions that will make privilege and plunder a nightmare of the past.

In offering myself as a Democratic candidate for the Senatorial nomination, I solemnly pledge myself not to use, or permit to be used, for the benefit of my candidacy, any money for unlawful purposes.

Second, while I believe that the laws under which we are compelled to live in Maryland are vastly more important than the mere selection of representatives in the United States Senate, I am and have been in favor of the election or selection of Senators by direct vote of the people, reserving the present proportion of County representation in the State, thus attaining direct control by the people and at the same time preventing the concentration of power in any section of the State. I pledge myself to do everything in my power to bring about the selection of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people and thus remove this disturbing factor from the function of a legislator, who can thereby apply himself fully to the enactment of proper laws and to the repeal of improper laws and special privileges.

I also pledge myself, if successful, to oppose whateyer legislation may be proposed that will favorably affect any individual or corporation at the expense of our people; and especially to investigate and devise a more equitable distribution of the heavy burden of taxation that Kent and other agricultural sections of the State struggle under by reason of the exemption or lightened share that certain corporations, coal land owners and the owners of large values in our chief city's real estate enjoy, and in all acts of legislation to submit to the expressed wishes of the constituency that I hope to represent.

Very respectfully,

CECIL R. ATKINSON,

Box 33, Chestertown, Md.
