Too Small.—Vaudeville Funmakers gave a first class show at Centreville on Saturday, Oct. 13th, they had a right nice house with a number of ladies but the gentlemen, rather ones who consider themselves gentlemen behaved so badly that the ladies had to go from the hall before the entertainment was over. The stage was entirely too small, they had to cut out one of their plays on that account, they say they think the new hall will be large enough for them. They will give another nice one in Stam's Hall soon consisting of new plays, jokes, etc.

LIVE LOCAL NOTES

A SWARM of bees settled upon horses of parties attending a sale at C. W. Clark's near Earleville, last Thursday. One animal reared and fell and Miss Nellie Clark promptly sat upon his head despite stings from the angry insects, till help came.

THE failure of Kidwell Bros. has caused considerable uneasiness in Kent among the farmers. Mr. C. W. Kibler, their agent here, says he believes everyone will be paid in full as the firm's assets in his opinion are sufficient to meet all indebtedness. One farmer has shipped 934 baskets of pears and says he needs the money.

Bitten.—Mr. Thomas V. Simpson was bitten on the side of his face one day this week by a brood mare. He was petting the colt which came to the stable door and the mare evidently took offense as she deliberately grabbed Mr. Simpson in the cheek. We are glad the well-known citizen escaped with no greater injury.

Sale Authorized.—The Orphans' Court for Kent county on Tuesday authorized James E., Andrew W. and J. F. M. Woodall, administrators of Andrew Woodall, to sell at either public or private sale the personal property of said deceased. It was further ordered that they be authorized to sell at private sale to the heirs at law such of the personal property as they may desire to have at not less than the appraised value thereof.

Hog Cholera Plays Havoc — The terrible hog cholera is doing its deadly work in various parts of Kent. Mr. Clay Lusby, near Chestertown, has lost 56 shotes and 23 hogs; Mr Wilber Eliason has lost 13 hogs and 25 shotes; Mr. Harry Nichols has lost all but 6 hogs. Other farmers also have lost many. Many farmers have sold off all their swine for fear the cholera would get into them. One gentleman says he has had the cholera on his place five successive years and has tried every remedy he has ever heard of, but without finding a cure.

Laundry Company Organized.—The Family Steam Laundry, of Chestertown, which was incorporated some weeks ago, as told in this paper, was formally organized last week and officers elected as follows: President, Col. W. J. Vannort; vice-president, Jno. C. Davis; secretary, Sidney P. Townshend; treasurer, James T. Anthony. The company has a capital stock of $5,000, which is being subscribed by residents of Chestertown. Arrangements have been made to take over the plant of the Chestertown Laundry, conducted by Mr. Wm. H. McKee, and negotiations are in progress for the purchase of additional new machinery to make the plant complete and up-to-date.

Spelling in 1846 and To-Day.—Prof. Milton Melvin, Kent's progressive school examiner, has just made a most practical test comparing the schools of 1846 with those of to-day. He obtained a complete set of examination questions in spelling and arithmetic and gave them to the 9th grades in the Rock Hall and Chestertown schools. In the Rock Hall school the average in spelling was 75⅔; in arithmetic 90. In the Chestertown school the average in spelling was 74⅓; in arithmetic 93⅓. Now the average made by the schools in 1846 in Massachusetts, with the same questions, was in arithmetic 29.4, and in spelling 40.6. This leads us to the inevitable conclusion that the school to-day is vastly superior to the school of our grandfather's time.

Climbing Up.—An official circular has just been issued by Mr. D. B. Martin, manager of passenger traffic of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, announcing the appointment of Mr. John P. Dugan as general baggage agent, with headquarters at Baltimore, filling the vacancy created by the recent death of Mr. B. E. Peddicord. Mr. Dugan was traveling baggage agent, and this position has been abolished.

Mr. Dugan started in the service of the B. & O. as a mail messenger when only 14 years old, and by faithful and efficient work is considered to have well earned this promotion He filled various positions in the railroad's postoffice until May, 1900, when he was made assistant postmaster, and in February, 1901, he was appointed postmaster. In September, 1901, he was promoted to a clerkship in the general baggage agent's office. In March, 1903, he was appointed traveling baggage agent. Mr. Dugan was born at Chestertown, Kent county, Md., and is 26 years old. He is a son of Mr and Mrs. A. I. Dugan and well-known in Kent where his friends are pleased at his success.

Late Peaches.—Col. S. A. Wallen, the Mayor of Rich Neck, brought to the NEWS office Saturday a basket of Wallen's late peaches off six-year-old trees. The fruit, though small, was of fine flavor and proved ready sale.

THE woman who appreciates a pair of good shoes should take a look at Jefferson's line.

THE Frank A. Robbins shows will be in Chestertown on Thursday, Oct. 25th, on W. W. Hubbard's lot.
