HUSKING BY MACHINERY.

A. M. Hollenbeck and Vernon McDo'e, of Janesville, Wis., say they have solved the cornhusking problem; for it has been the bane of harvester manufacturers for time and again to make a machine which would satisfactorily remove the husk from the corn, and each year has continued its same old human hands and the husking pin.

Eight years ago these two Janesville men started to seek a solution to the problem. They have in that time built and rejected six machines. The seventh has just been completed. The machine was given a practical demonstration this week.

The automatic standing cornhusker is operated by an 18-horsepower gasoline engine. The snapping rolls which take the ears from the stalk are upright, and constitute one of the distinctive features of the mechanism. The two "noses" with almost incredible rapidity and thoroughness seize the ears of corn and convey them to the interior of the machine where the husking process is gone through, and the cleaned ears are then delivered to the crib by the elevator. The inventors claim that the machine will take care of twenty acres of corn a day and perform the labor of thirty men

Farm and Garden Notes

For bumble feet make the roosts low.

Give the fowls a chance to scratch and waller.

The more pigs a sow has the more feed she needs.

On the average farm a separator will soon pay for itself.

Good butter was never made from old or very sour cream.

Cows at the Wisconsin station get an ounce of salt per day.

On the farm it ought not to cost over fifty cents to keep a hen a year.

You will have no mottles in the butter, if you get out all the buttermilk.

The older pigs grow the more food it will take to make a pound of gain.

Push the growing pigs and sell the young, thereby reducing the chances of loss.

Never give young chickens water before they have received their morning meal.

Slops made of middlings and skim milk are among the best foods for suckling sows.

Sorghum seed is excellent for poultry, and as it thrives well on sandy soil it may be grown for poultry food.

The surplus plants are weeds while above ground, but are so much fertilizer when turned under with a plow or hoe.

Sows can be kept in smooth, slightly condition, and yet fulfill all the requirements of abundant milk production.

An observing editor went to church and in his next issue said: "We attended church last Sunday and listened to a very good sermon, as sermons go. We enjoyed the singing and stood up with the brethen and sisters while they sang the good old hymn, "Shall we know each other there?" While the hymn was being sung we glanced about us and counted a dozen members of the congregation of the church who do not speak to each other when they meet on the street or elsewhere. The thought occured to us, why should they 'know each other there' when they seemingly don't know each other here?"

The new fall woolens are all here. Artistic care has been used in their selection and you will be sure to find your own particular desire among them.

Our well-known LOW PRICES reign supreme in this department and our constant effort is to give you "better goods for less money" than you can find elsewhere.

Our Millinery Exhibition

Medium Hats predominate ostrich plume and bird-of-paradise feathers are chief ornaments. But there are small hats a plenty. The fine clipped beaver felt varieties lead ; and they are preferably trimmed with pheasant tails, merle birds, wings and quills. But details are tedious and it is much easier to show you. Do not fail to look at our millinery when in need of your fall hat.

We have fortunately secured the services of Miss M. Kynast, of Baltimore, as trimmer, an artist who stands in the very front ranks of her profession and her work will speak for itself.

Schnapps Tobacco is Made ENTIRELY from Flue Cured Tobacco Grown in the Piedmont Country. The Imitation Brands Have Schnapps Quality Only On the Outside Of the Plug

Hundreds of imitation brands are on sale that look like Schnapps tobacco. The outside of the imitation plugs of tobacco is flue cured the same as Schnapps, but the inside is filled with cheap, flimsy, heavily sweetened air cured tobacco. One chew of Schnapps will satisfy tobacco hunger longer than two chews of such tobacco. The color, size and shape of the tags, plugs and packages of certain imitation brands of tobacco have been made so much like Schnapps that they have often been accepted by buyers under the belief that they were getting Schnapps. Sufficient proof has been secured to establish the fact that certain brands are infringements and in violation of the trade mark laws, yet the trade will continue to be imposed upon by these infringers until the suit already entered and now pending to protect Schnapps is decided. A great many of these imitations are claimed to be "just as good" as Schnapps, but there is only one genuine Schnapps. Be sure the letters on the tag, and stamped on the plug under the tag spell S-C-H-N-A-P-P-S and then you have it—the most wholesome tobacco produced, with just enough sweetening to preserve the mild, juicy, stimulating quality of the leaf tobacco. Expert tests prove that this flue cured tobacco, grown in the famous Piedmont region, requires and takes less sweetening than any other and has a wholesome, stimulating, satisfying effect on chewers.

If the tobacco you are chewing don't satisfy you more than the mere habit of expectorating, stop fooling yourself and chew Schnapps tobacco. Schnapps is like the tobacco chewers formerly bought costing from 75c. to $1.00 per pound; Schnapps is sold at 50c. per pound, in 5c. cuts, strictly 10c. and 15c. plugs.
