Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

Home of Swamp-Root.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

DAVID CLEMENTS.

David Clements' death was briefly noted in the NEWS last week. We are now permitted to touch upon the life history of a man who was for many years actively identified with the agricultural interests of Kent county, but who for many years had laid aside business cares and enjoyed the peace and quiet which rightfully should always follow a long, useful and honorable career. It was at the home of his honored son, Alday, that he spent his declining years, surrounded by all the comforts of life and the idol of fond grand-children. His life has been one of honest and earnest endeavor and due success has not been denied him.

Mr. Clements was born in Kent County, Del., in 1817, a son of Joel and Margaret (Roe) Clements, both natives of Caroline County, Md. The family was founded in America over two hundred years ago and many of its representatives are now living in the west. When a young man the father of our subject removed to Delaware, where he spent his remaining days extensively engaged in agricultural pursuits. He was the owner of about one thousand acres of land, which is now divided into several farms, and in connection with general farming he successfully engaged in fruit raising. As a Whig he took a very prominent and active part in political affairs and was twice honored by an election to the state legislature, in which he served with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of his constituents. He was a local minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he was a devout member, did all in his power to promote the cause of Christianity, and throughout almost the entire life served as a class-leader and steward in his church. He passed away at the ripe old age of eighty-four years. The mother of our subject died a number of years previous, and only two of the eight children born to them are still living, the other being Margaret A., now the widow of Henry Slaughter. The father was again married, his second union being with Miss Elizabeth Kearns, by whom he had two children: J. Richard, deceased; and John Fletcher, a resident of Philadelphia. The father was drafted for service in the war of 1812 but furnished a substitute.

The first thirty years of his life David Clements spent upon a farm near Camden, Del., and in the common schools of that state he acquired a good practical education. At the age of twenty-two he took charge of one of his father's farms, which he operated for eight years, and then, in 1844, came to Kent county, Md., making his home on Sassafras River for six years, on the farm occupied by B. J. McCauley. In the fall of 1850 he purchased the Spencer tract of land occupied by B. J. McCauley. In the fall of 1850 he purchased the Spencer tract of land. He owned about eight hundred acres of valuable and productive land divided into three different farms, which have been placed under a high state of cultivation and improved with good and substantial buildings. He was one of the largest stock raisers in Kent county, and before his death divided his property among his children.

In 1842 was solemnized the marriage of Mr. Clements and Miss Susanna Slaughter, a cousin of Henry Slaughter, well-known here and in Baltimore, as the founder of the Slaughter Steamboat Line. They had a family of three children: Thomas; Margaret, wife of W. E. Jarrell; and Alday. He married Miss Frances M. Merrick, by whom he has four children: Merrick, David A., Annie Aldie.

The democratic party found in Mr. Clements a most earnest advocate and stanch supporter, and although he never aspired to public office he has been often solicited by his friends to accept official honors, and for two terms he most creditably served as county commissioner. He and his family attended the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in which he served as trustee and steward for some time. By his upright, honorable life he gained the confidence and respect of all with whom he come in contact, either in business or social life, and is justly entitled to prominent mention among the valued and honored citizens of Kent county.

The funeral took place Sunday, Dr. Rood officiating. The bearers were: Messrs. David and Merrick Clements, James, John and Spencer Merrick and W. Frank Jarrell.

F. AMBROSE PRICE.

Ex-Sheriff F. Ambrose Price, one of the best known residents and a successful farmer of the First district, Cecil county, died at the Union Hospital, Elkton, on Wednesday night, after several months illness from kidney trouble, aged 54 years. The deceased was a son of the late Jeremiah C. Price, of near Earlville, and at the time of his death he owned and farmed the old Price homestead farm, upon which several generations of that family have resided. When a young man he went out West, engaging in the cattle business in Kansas City. Later he went to California and afterwards engaged in business in Michigan. There he married a Mrs. Carpenter. Soon thereafter he returned to Cecil county, engaging in farming near Earlville. Eight years ago he was elected sheriff of Cecil county on the Democratic ticket, defeating Philip M. Groves, of Elkton, who was the Republican opponent. In recent years he purchased several fine farms in the first district and at the time of his death was one of the largest landowners in the lower part of Cecil county. He is survived by a widow and four children—two sons and two daughters; also two brothers, ex-County Commissioner J. C. Price, of near Elkton, and Eugne Price and one sister, Miss Anna W. Price. His funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home near Earlville. Interment in St. Stephen's cemetery.

Our mill is running now on full time under the management of our bright and accomodating new miller, Mr. Allender, of Chestertown.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ernest entertained his sister, Mrs. Zill Staats, their daughters and his nieces, Mrs. Hart and children, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Pritchard and children, of Townsend, for the day Wednesday and the little ones expected to see alligators in Sassafras!

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Hodson have moved to Townsend, Del., and Mr. Hodson, one of our aged citizens, has been lying very sick ever since he left here.

Miss Agnes Clark, of Middletown, Del., visited relatives and Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Dreka the entire of last week at "Water Ledge."

LOUIS HENRY.

Louis Henry, a well known and highly respected colored citizen of Kent county, died at the home of his son, near Fairlee, Friday last and was buried on Sunday. He was for a number of years overseer of Tolchester farm for the late W. P. Crosby. He served a number of years as a member of the Republica Central Committee, for this county. He was one of the best colored citizens in Kent county and the NEWS today lays this tribute on the bier of the deceased.
