ROCK HALL NOTES.

There are only about a baker's dozen applicants for Sheriff Clayton's position on Rural Route No. 2 but they are making a lively scramble to get there. They are all good men, may the best win out.

That oystermen's rally at the Rennert last week seems to have been a cut and dried Hamanite affair. The practical oystermen of Kent and Queen Anne's were conspicuous by their absence. Guess they were not invited to be present. Wonder if they will be invited to attend the big get together meeting next month.

The dwellings of Messrs. George Ashley and H. Crew and the Jr. Hall have been freshly painted.

Farmers are pretty well through threshing and a number are plowing their fallow ground.

The Odd Fellows held a lively meeting on Wednesday evening, rousing speeches were made by Messrs. Wm. R. Coleman, Alex Taylor and A. A. Tolson.

Mr. R. S. Crew is home after his travels for a rubber company for the balance of the summer. He looks as fine as silk.

Mrs. David Moore, of Delaware, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Casey.

No fish, no crabs, and very little remunerative work is causing working men here to complain about dull times.

TRUTH BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

In the NEWS last year a few weeks after the rate of $1.85 was struck the claim was made that its purpose was to shoulder unnecessary burden on the taxpayers that year and that the rate this year would be very much less. Here are the words:

"WITH THIS RATE OF $1.85 FOR 1910, IN 1911 THE RATE WOULD FALL TO AT LEAST $1.20 AND IN 1912 TO $1, UNTIL SOON THE COUNTY WOULD BE ON A CASH BASIS!"

The rate declared Tuesday is $1.22, just 2 cents more than the NEWS figured, "Truth crushed to earth will rise again," and, as promised in the NEWS some months ago, the secret of the big tax of 1910 is now brought to light.

Statement of Facts.

Messrs. Editors of Kent News:

Gentlemen—As was expected in reply to the correct copy of expenses for the last 18 months of the clerk of the present board of County Commissioners as compared to 18 months previous under control and management of the old board, the public has again been entertained with the common and repeated occurence of the Barroll organ in dodging and floundering and a misrepresentation of the whole issue as charged and first presented by the Barroll organ.

They charge that the expenses under present control or management for the last 18 months was less by $142 than under the control of the old board and clerk for the 18 months previous. As the facts and figures of each item was presented by me as they appear upon the books, the Barroll organ seeing the position this correct statement placed them in, and not honest enough to admit it, they deliberately make the following statement, that add to amount given by my account for audit or examination of the books of the commissioners office in the spring of 1903 still makes their management a difference in favor of Mr. Hicks. $58.12, added to amount given by Mr. Hicks makes according to Dodd a difference of $72 94; add this to the $142 09 makes a difference of $215.30. This expense was incurred 8 months before the old board or organization came into control of affairs.

Why not charge the building of the Court House or construction of the State road? Would not there be just as much reason! Messrs. Editors, was there ever exhibited such floundering and dodging or a more dishonest, flagrant and premeditated perversion of truth and facts!

Unable to answer or refute the facts as given in my answer, and void of all honesty and fairness, throwing all decency and honor aside in the hope to obtain for their quenchless greed the spoils of office, they revert to the charge which they know well neither the commissioners or clerk of the old board had anything whatever to do with.

But Messrs. Editors, they hoped by this statement or reference of 1903 that some could be fooled and others had forgotten.

One of the greatest of public men recently in the U. S. Senate quoted the following: "Loyalty and courage and honor are things that are precious to honorable men." But he did not mean "Loyalty" to avarice, greed and pelf of office of which the Barroll organ seems to be, in its drunken greed and debauch for power.

Their reply that I had given Mr. Hicks credit for more than was given in his statement is the only honest admission made by them, and certainly I did.

That is just what I made the statement for to give the public the facts, and this was done by charging items of expense for trip to Baltimore for commissioners and amount paid after new board organized.

As to the statement of Mr. Kibler whom I have the profoundest respect and regard for as a citizen and friend, his statement does not change the facts as given by me one cent; his sole complaint was in the dates, and I assure him that such was not intended. What I tried to make plain was the comparison of expenses for the period of 18 months and this I did show and defy the Barroll organ to contradict.

In their utter failure to do this they deliberately stultified all self respect and honor by publishing what they knew well was not true, namely the expense of the examination of the county commissioners office books in 1903, stating add this to my account it still makes a difference, as it was not chargeable to the old board.

Messrs. Editors, when they resort to such methods how can any self-respecting man credit anything they say not knowing it personally to be the truth.

Now the letter published by Black and Hunter, certainly they would make the statement made by them, surprised at Mr. Dodd making such a statement, my answer to this is, the amount was on record and charged to the county commissioners office where it properly should have been charged, and it is still fresh in the minds of the public. The whole expense was an unnecessary one and only done to do what they could not do of themselves and also for trying to poison the mind of the public, as you well remember how the Barroll organ's "underlings" frequently stated "they are finding out things, mind you"; and not one cent of the accounts was there a discrepancy in.

But the County Auditors did find errors made by "Black and Hunter."

We might go on and show you innumerable statements made by this reckless perverter of truth, the "Barroll organ," but Messrs. Editors we believe that a discerning public have long ago been satisfied of their purposes and have sized up the Barroll organ thus: that to obtain power and political graft at the public's expense they are willing to sacrifice all principal and honor and risk the esteem of all right minded people.

The mission of a newspaper in every community should be to publish the truth or to be a disseminator of truth and for the moral uplift of the community. But the Barroll organ has assumed the role of political piracy and the assassin of character and reputation which we deplore and pity such degeneracy, and all for political preferment.

That we firmly believe a righteous and just public will repudiate with an avalanche of votes and thereby declare that love of virtue, justice and truth shall abide in this county and that the Barroll organ shall not malign the dead and living whose virtues will long live when such defamers are in oblivion.

CHARLES L. DODD.

THE SUCCESSFUL PAPER.

What makes a newspaper great and in the highest sense successful? The foundation is plainly the confidence of its readers, the respect of the community to which it appeals. It comes of many renunciations, of withstanding the allurement of immediate advantage, of principles clearly formulated and unswervingly adhered to, of ideas religiously cherished and never abandoned. When a newspaper conforms to such principles, when it is guided by such ideals, when conviction goes every day into its making, and when brains are added, illuminating and vitalizing all these, the newspaper that is the fruit of this blending is by no sense to be characterized as commercial in so far as that term may imply that the highest ideals do not influence its course. These conditions by their nature mean absolute independence of any outside control or influence. If to such a newspaper come the rewards of great circulation, large volume of advertising, and substantial profit, as they have come to a few, may not the student of journalism say that this reward has been earned because the journal is a newspaper of principles, of ideals, of convictions, of brains, and of intelligence?

A SINGULAR accident occurred at Mr. Silus Weller's, near Pomona, this week While threshing wheat one of the horses belonging to Mr. Anthony got too close to the machine, and in switching his tail the machine caught it and cut it off, so that the animal looked as if he had been docked!

Accidents.—Mrs. Annie Massey, widow of Josiah Massey, residing near town, suffered a severe nervous shock and slight injury last Friday evening by being thrown from her carriage. Mrs. Massey was driving out of town and had just turned into Spring avenue from Calvert street when her horse became frightened by an automobile driven by Capt. C. E. Crane. The animal bolted and ran into a telephone pole in front of Dr. H. Benge Simmons' residence, and Mrs. Massey was thrown with much force to the ground. Capt. Crane instantly stopped his machine and assisted the unfortunate lady into the home of Dr. Simmons, who rendered medical attention. She sustained a deep cut over one eye and her arm and body was much bruised. She was cared for at the home of Dr. Simmons until to-day, when she expects to return home, and is reported as doing well at this writing.

Galena had several runaways last week. Early Friday morning Rev. R. H. Lewis' horse became frightened and ran a short distance, but soon stopped. Later a pair of mules hitched to a reaper became frightened at an automobile and dashed down the street. The reins broke, rendering the driver, Mr. W. C. O'Neil, helpless. In turning the corner by Mr. H. S. Dempsey's store the machine crashed into the team of Mrs. Scott Knight, which was hitched to the railing. Mrs. Knight's horse then dashed up the street, leaving broken posts, etc., in its path, and ran into the large lamp post, demolishing the buggy.

Saturday morning a stranger passing through town had his horse frightened by an auto and ran into a tree, and Sunday morning a team belonging to Mr. John Burns broke away from the Catholic church and ran to the school house, where it struck a tree, breaking the harness and damaging the carriage.
