WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.—take the advice received and be well.

Potent Facts About Mr. Gorman

The Hon. Arthur P. Gorman is well-known to the people of Maryland. For nearly eight years he has been a member of the State Senate and has served faithfully through four sessions. For the past two years as president of the Senate, he has occupied the official position next to that of the Chief Executive and if during that time there had been a vacancy in the office he would have been the Governor of the State. It is to that office that he now aspires and he is asking the Democratic party for the nomination. The only way in which he can get the nomination is by the free votes of the members of the Democratic party and that is the only way he wishes to get it.

Mr. Gorman is a young man but he has a record and upon that record he is willing to stand. It is a record of achievement and of service to his people in which any man might take a just pride. At the State Democratic Convention in 1907 the Democratic party first took position in favor of a great plan for the improvement of the public roads. The party platform of that year contained this clause:

"The work of construction and improvement of our public roads already so well begun should be steadily kept up until, as the result of regular and judicious expenditure, there shall exist in Maryland a system of public roads as good as that to be found in any of our sister states."

Senator Gorman wrote that plank and by his influence it was put into the party platform. The subsequent work on road improvement was its outcome. As Chairman of the Finance Committee Senator Gorman held a place of great power. In that place he was ever faithful to his people and stood firmly against all demands for appropriations which were not well and completely justified. And the record will show it.

More than this in order to afford some relief to the heavily taxed property owners Senator Gorman considered it no more than just to put a larger proportion of the burden upon the more wealthy corporations. He introduced and had enacted a bill which increased by 20 per cent. the tax upon the gross receipts of railroads earning over $2,000 per mile. This increase made a large addition to the revenues of the State amounting to over $130,000 a year.

But the largest measure of relief to the taxpayers of Maryland grew out of the investigation of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company. The State owned 5,500 shares of the capital stock of the Washington Branch of the par value of $550,000. Since the failure of the road in 1896 the Washington Branch had ceased to pay dividends although Senator Gorman was convinced that dividends were earned and that the State was not being fairly treated. He therefore introduced resolutions appointing a joint committee of the Legislature to investigate the earnings of the Washington Branch. He took a prominent part in the investigation that followed and the result of it was that the railroad company paid the State $2,500,000 for an unproductive asset and one which, in view of the new Washington station and the changes it made, would probably never have become productive. This sale cancelled $2,500,000 of the State's debt and the people were relieved of the annual tax for interest and sinking fund. They owe that relief to Senator Gorman's investigation.

In the senate, Mr. Gorman being chairman of the Finance Committee was naturally more occupied with revenue measures than with other legislation. Yet he did not neglect laws looking to fair elections and the right of the people to manage their own affairs. He was the author of the primary election law of 1908, being the first law for a legalized primary in the counties ever passed by the Maryland Legislature and also the Senatorial Primary Election Law.

The best evidence of the value of Mr. Gorman's service in the Senate next to the record, is the testimony of a careful and ever observant eye witness. Such a witness we have in the Baltimore Sun's Annapolis correspondent. We find the following estimate of Mr. Gorman's work at Annapolis in a dispatch to the Sun referring to the railroad investigation.

"From the first move in the affair down to the present time (March 22, 1906) Senator Gorman, Jr., has pursued his course with admirable judgement and self poise and without any suspicion of ulterior or improper motives and without any taint on politics. One of the conspicuous features of Mr. Gorman's is his intense earnestness. When he undertakes anything he does it with all his might and with singleness and honesty of purpose. To this is to be attributed largely his success at this session of the Legislature. He has made some mistakes here but upon the whole his record is good. His introduction of a drastic and effective corrupt practices act and his advocacy of changes in the Election law which will eliminate some of the worst features, show a breadth of view which has gratified his friends.

"As chairman of the Finance Committee he has given heed to the interest of the taxpayer without any undue parsimony. To all applicants for appropriations he has been firm and courteous and above all things his course here has been clean and honorable."

In his speech withdrawing from the contest for re-nomination Governor Crothers said that the Legislatures of 1908 and 1910 had given the State more progressive legislation and propelled it further along progressive lines in four years than any other State had advanced in the same time. The Governor named the important laws enacted at the session of 1908. Mr. Gorman was floor leader of the majority and in 1910 he was president of the Senate. At both sessions he exercised a powerful influence and he took a leading part in all the great bills the Governor enumerated and against his opposition, if he had been opposed to any of them, they could not have passed.

The training and experience which Mr. Gorman gained by his service in the Senate has equipped him admirably for the office of Governor.

Typhoid Fever

How to Prevent Its Spread

—ISSUED BY THE—
State Board of Health
OF MARYLAND.

When TYPHOID FEVER appears in a family the source of the infection must bo looked for in drinking water or food taken within the preceding twenty days. The patient may not have been infected at home, but if a second case occurs this second infection will in all probability be traceable in some way to the first patient. In a majority of instances the drinking water has become infected. Your first business, therefore is to find out the quality of your drinking water.

You can do this by asking your local health officer for instruction about shipping us samples of your drinking water. In about a week we will be able to report on the drinking water, but in the meantime the members of the family must not use the raw water. The daily supply of drinking water must be boiled.

The infectious material of typhoid fever is produced in but one way. It grows always in the bowels and sometimes in the bladder. It therefore escapes from the sick person in the stools and urine. If we kill the germs in the stools and urine as soon as they are passed, there can be no spread of typhoid fever. These discharges should, therefore be disinfected as soon as possible. You will need a large quantity of a good disinfecting solution.

RECEIPT FOR A GOOD DISINFECTANT.

To four gallons of water add enough salt to make a strong brine. Put this in a five-gallon demijohn or jug and add a quart of crude carbolic acid. Shake it up well and you will have a good disinfectant for stools and urine.

The crude carbolic acid, known as U. S. P. 90 per cent. is very good and a quart will cost about 50 cents. There is a cheaper grade, known as a 36 per cent. acid, which is nearly as effective.

About a pint of this solution should be put in the chamber or bed pan before it is used, so that the discharges will begin to be disinfected as soon as they leave the body. There must always be at least as much of the disinfecting solution as there is of the discharges, so that more of the disinfecting solution may need to be added after the discharges are passed. If the stools are thin and watery their disinfection will be accomplished in half an hour or so, but if the stools are thick or formed very much more time will be required. On that account it is best to have a covered jar or bucket into which the bed pan can be emptied, and to empty this jar only once in 24 hours. If the discharges cannot be finally thrown into a sewer, they should be buried in the soil at a convenient spot where is no chance of their fouling a water supply. The discharges should never be thrown upon the surface of the ground, for you will hardly be successful in killing all the typhoid bacilli, and you must not place them where those not killed by the acid may be blown about in the dust or carried away by flies to infect other people.

In spite of every precaution those who wait on the sick person will get their hands infected, and it is therefore necessary to wash the hands every time one does any service about the patient's bed or body. Whoever waits on the patient must not prepare food or drink for other persons in the house, or if it is impossible to mind this rule one must most carefully and thoroughly cleanse the hands before performing any household duty outside the sick room. Good scrubbing with soap, water and a brush, and then rinsing well in fresh water will suffice for cleansing the hands.

If any one else in the house falls sick within two weeks after the first patient, the probability is that the infection was lodged before the precautions were taken in regard to drinking water and the disposal of discharges. But if the second case occurs more than 20 days after the first case, that will signify that we have made a mistake somewhere in our precautions.

Secretary Local Board of Health of Kent county, Chestertown, Md. aug13-tf.
