Thomas Morgan
Cookstown } Dr Sir

I have yours with invoice of Tea, the Grocer is not yet arrived when she does, you shall be advised, but don't be tedious in remitting, which will save the Expence of the Tea going to the Office. I sold the Sugars I mentioned formerly by auction, by which I think yours is not worth more than the price formerly mentd. say 70/ c 72/ in this market, it stands you in about 80/ as the Duty is drawn back in England say 27/ Brl. ~~H~~ Cwt the Teas I have not yet sold, but shall as soon as possible the Gauger here says it is illegal to resumit Teas to the place where they were imported and that your Gauger was wrong in doing so consequently they are kept here however I think there will be no notice taken of it

Yours
Birnie

P.S. It is exceedingly awkward selling Teas without knowing the Character, if you send me your original Invoice or a correct copy I suppose I can have reference to the character
