C & Mollan
Dublin } I have yours of the 9th & observe what you say of the Insurance wh in fact I consider as no Insurance as it is a rare thing for a vessel from this to Dover to go totally to the bottom & in no other case can redress be had besides they have 2/8½ ℔ Ct Duty wh shd be but 1/3 wh they charged me — With respect to the Sale of the Trial serving as a precedent — I considder there is no analogy in the first instance — to the nominall purchaser of the Trial there are about £200 due and every one here was satisfied that a satisfactory settlement wd be obtained as soon as the Deeds of Sale was signed — of this there was great reason to doubt on Mr Swan's part who in the first instance to obtain the Johns stated a — & followed it up with every simptom of ill humour however as it appears that the people with you are stiff on the occasion & they people here have declared their dislike to the mode of conveyance I think there will be no Sale at present. I wd therefore recomend you to take possession of the Johns & let them run as as usual
