Mr Saml Taylor

Have your's of the 14th recapitulating the Dublin Contents of my former letter by Mr Talbot it was unnecessary — The 2/- first charged was for copying Catalogues previous to Sale, attending the Auction & copying returns for the Ex Officio & charge was certainly very moderate and not for many you advise copy of the Sale the 2/- that astonishes you was for that act & the postage was paid for your letter ordering it to be done — Subjected to Mr Talbot the propriety of having it done at the time in your case would have made the charge — but he not knowing it was necessary is no good reason why it should not be paid — I was sorry very unprecedented to find me to make out such an instrument without charging I therefore think it quite unnecessary to reconsider the matter for I am sure if I should consider aught on the subject I shall not consider it right or necessary to hand over to Miss Atkinson £2 6 0 for your acct as assignee to Miss Kennedy — I am really at a loss to know what may follow but on that head I feel perfectly at ease — being &c &c

N.B. I find by your letter of the 15th that Mr Dublin Fleming has made a great Row about his dirty Brushes, I had a deal of trouble with them — they at length sold them — on the 10 Inst I furnished him sales & enclosed half bill Bank for the Amt £26 2 9 & intend remitting him the other half as soon as I get his receipt —
