Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. E. Timanus will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary on Thursday evening, October 19th, at their home on 1307 Maryland avenue, Baltimore. Mrs. Timanus is well-known here as Miss May Zimmerman and spent many happy days at Washington College. Her husband is one of Baltimore's foremost business men.

Mrs. F. E. Fitch, who has undergone a delicate operation at Md. University Hospital, Baltimore, was able to visit her sisters, Mrs. Ford and Miss Ruby Ahern, in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Brown, of Baltimore, visited friends in town this week.

Mr. John T. Sweeney, of Wilmington, paid a flying visit to Chestertown Wednesday. His son, Charles, since his accident, has been employed in the railroad yards.

Miss Rhetta B. Warfield has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. V. Hines, 2214 N. Calvert Street, Baltimore.

Mrs. W. D. Swan, of Washingtow, D C., is the guest of Mrs. S. M. Usilton on Mill and Cannon streets.

Rev. James E. Mitchell, rector emeritus of the Episcopal Church at Centreville, was carried to Baltimore on Wednesday and taken to the Church Home and Infirmary, where he will undergo an operation for stomach trouble. Accompanying him were members of his family. Rev. Mr. Mitchell is 70 years old, and has been rector of the Centreville Church for about 30 years.

Prof. Galen Vansant, of Hurlock public school, spent Sunday in town with his parents on Mill street.

Frank Fox, Esq., and friend, of Baltimore, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fox on Kent Circle.

Miss Nan M. Price, of "Stoneton" near Betterton, is the guest of friends in Baltimore.

Miss Ethel Bacchus, of Chestertown, is the guest of Baltimore friends.

Mr. George Rash, who was bitten by a mad dog at his home near Worton, is getting on finely undergoing the Pasteur treatment by going to Baltimore weekly.

Mr. Jere Miller's son is in Baltimore and at last reports was getting along nicely.

Mrs. W. B. Coleman, who has been quite sick for several weeks, is very much improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Ivens, of Camden, N. J., are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a fine boy.

Mr. A. L. Sparks spent several days this week in Baltimore on business.

Vacancies Filled.—The Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College on Wednesday elected Messrs. Curtis E. Crane and H. W. Vickers, Jr., of Chestertown, and ex-Senator Clarence W. Perkins, of Baltimore, as members of the board to fill existing vacancies.

The board also elected Mr. Massey Hines, of Chestertown, to a foundation scholarship.

Accident.—Mr. Leslie Bowers, son of Mr. J. Raymond Bowers, met with a singular accident last Monday. While driving along the public road near Mr. Jere Miller's Flatland home, an automobile scared his horse, upset the carriage and threw Mr. Bowers out. The carriage was left some distance down the road, but the horse has not yet been found. Mr. Bowers fortunately was not injured.

Will Move Monday.—Vansant & Newsome will move to their up-to-date new store next Monday, and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 19 21, will have a representative from the Hopkins Tailoring Co. here to take measurements for suits, etc.

LOCAL NOTES.

The Brown house was not sold Tuesday. Only one bid of $2500 was received. It can be bought cheap of Lewin W. Wickes, Esq.

The Charles Crew farm near Kennedyville, was sold at public sale Tuesday to Mr. Frank Crew, of Wilmington, for $5,100.

J. W. Russell has sold for L. D. Knight 100 acres near Deep Landing to Roland Mephan of Baltimore.

The Chestertown Volunteer Firemen gave a jolly "stag" oyster scald at Firemen's Hall on Wednesday evening.

A pocket book containing $50 in cash and $20 in checks was lost on Tuesday by Mr. Arthur Prettyman, of the Prudential Insurance Company.

It is proposed to organize in the Wilmington Diocese, of the territory of which Kent county is a part, a local branch of the Catholic Young Men's National Club, organized in 1895, whose motto is "God and our Neighbor." Bishop Monaghan strongly commends the work of the National Union, as deserving general support and encouragement.

The Hill farm, near Tolchester, was offered at public sale on Wednesday but withdrawn at a bid of $10,000.

The new primary school will open in "Hubbard's Custom House" next Monday morning with Misses Fannie Stuart, Miriam Leaverton and Edith Harley in charge. There are about 85 scholars to attend.

Wilbur Hammond, a farmer near Milford, has made his farm into a nut farm and this year has raised a large crop of paper-shell pecans, English and Japanese walnuts, chestnuts and black walnuts and chinquapins, which are bringing big prices and which, he says is a better-paying crop than wheat, corn and stable crops.

The autumn can furnish its quota of strange stories and can match any other season of the year in that respect. Two of them have just come in, one from the North, the other from the South. Providence, Rhode Island, tells of the march of an army of potato bugs over the tracks, stopping the street cars, while Austin, Texas, sends in a yarn about a plague of crickets, with the night songsters piled up five inches deep in the streets, stopping all car traffic and doing other funny things. Those will do for a starter as autumn is still young. Surely this is a great country and many strange things come along every day.

The Chestertown Grange will resume their weekly meetings next week.

The date for the "Flower Show and Luncheon" to be given by the ladies of Christ M. P. Church will be Wednesday.

To prove that the firm of Graham & Clements, or its senior member Harry R. Graham, is well-known—a letter addressed to him with simply, Eastern Shore, as the place came straight to him without delay from outside the State!

"Take that adv. out," was the message which came to the News Wednesday, "I've rented the farm and had about a score of applicants." Nuf sed.

A large caravan of gypsies have been encamped near Church Hill. They have about 40 horses and the band number close to a hundred.

Moody & Lusby, the Clothing House of Chestertown, tell you in this issue they are good and ready with complete lines of winter suits and overcoats. As this house always fulfill their promises, you can expect to find their merchandise as they tell you.

The Washington College eleven and Rock Hill team played a scoreless game on Washington Field last Saturday. Washington is scheduled to play the strong Mt. St. Mary's team at Emmittsburg, Saturday. "Mike" Thompson, an ex-Washington coach, is in charge of the Mountaineers this year and a hard game is expected.

Recognizing the liability of post-masters and their assistants to make mistakes in distributing mail to the lock boxes, the Postoffice Department at Washington has fixed a penalty of $200 on persons taking mail out of the office other than their own and not returning it at once, even though it may have been placed in their box. This law provides the same penalty for removing newspapers as well as letters.

At a meeting of the Town Commissioners of Centreville Mr. George A. Whitely was appointed town bailiff to succeed Thos. H. Plummer, resigned.

A non-resident was arrested in Chestertown last Friday by Officer Wilbur on the charge of killing squirrels without a license. His gun and squirrels were taken in charge until Saturday morning but the non-resident left for his home in Baltimore leaving the gun and game in hands of officer. The gun has been claimed by Mr. Chas. Perry!

All indications, weather prognosticators say, point to a long and early winter, with many heavy snows and freezing weather generally. The prospect for a heavy crop of nuts, the thickness of the bark on young trees, the early falling of leaves and other signs are what the predictions are based upon.

The prosperity of a town is not gauged by the weath of its inhabitants, but the uniformity with which they pull together when any important undertaking is to be accomplished. A man with a few thousand dollars at his command and love for his town in his heart can do more than a millionaire who locks up his capital and snaps his fingers at home progress.

According to a report issued Monday by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., the total operating revenue of the P. B. & W. Railroad in August amounted to $1,683,351, a decrease of $153,814, as compared with the preceding month, while expenses amounted to $1,233,364, a decrease of $116,078. For the period since January 1st the operating expenses amounted to $12,416,857.

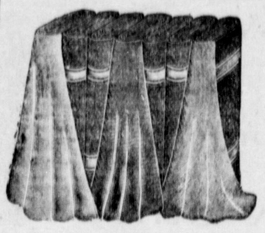

An Unusual Sentence.—Mr. Charles H. Crew, a well-known farmer of near Kennedyville, was given a hearing before Justice David Nickerson at Kennedyville on Tuesday on the grave charge of whipping his wife. The evidence was positive and strong, so much so that the Justice sentenced him to 12 months in the House of Correction and to be given twenty lashes by the Sheriff of Kent county. This law has been on the books for some time, but there has never been a case of public flogging in this county. Mr Crew took an appeal to court.

New Store.—A new store has been opened at Coleman's Corner by Mr. James T. Ireland, who will keep a general provision store.
