Letters We'd Like To Write

Principal John Stenger,
Chestertown High School.
Dear Jack:

First of all, allow us to congratulate you upon your accession to the post of principal of the Chestertown High School, so-called. We are sincere in our hope that your reign will be a successful one, and we will strive in our small way to assist you in any endeavor if you but call us.

Herewith is a suggestion which occurred to us in one of our saner moments, and, though it sounds farfetched, it is not beyond reason or the bounds of impossibilities knowing full well, as you do, that nothing willbe done to improve conditions at the packery, we are of the opinion that an arrangement can be made with Doc Hines, through the School Board and the County Commissioners, for the use of the Armory here for physical training work in the afternoons.

A schedule could be worked out so that all pupils would have at least two periods a week in physical training, and further arrangements could be made, through the School Board, so that transportation could be provided by the busses which bring the country commuters to school.

Such a plan could be financed through an appropriation from the school board, which wouldn't be so excessive that they would scorn the plan, and the vision of revenue for his troop would help to persuade Doc Hines to fall in with the idea. His public-spiritedness, too, would make him see the tremendous advantage such a plan would give to our kids, how it would foster the development of basketball and other indoor sports.

This is just a thought, Jack, but if you think it merits consideration call on us. We'll be glad to help work it off...and it can be done.

Educationally yours,
The Old Meddler.

Robert Shallcross,
Clerk of Court,
Dear Sir:

We think it is to be regretted that the ill-advice of friends has persuaded you to attempt to buck both factions of the local Democratic Party, and run for Clerk on an independent ticket. It was these two factions which gave you your present position, and it is not unreasonable to assume that you would have been considered again in the future. But now, by jumping out on your own, you are burning down a lot of good political bridges. Why didn't you look far enough ahead to the time when you'll want to come back this way again, and decide to ride across those bridges in style, instead of making it practically certain that you'll be swimming alone in midstream?

Regretfully,
Bill Usilton.

"Cody" Loud,
The Original "Snowden,"
Dear Hot Shot:

Now and then you come out with a brilliant thought in regard to the local political situation, but there seems to be a connection between you and my Republican contemporary which gives him original "break" on your chatter. However, your blast, having to do with M. deK. Smith for State Road Commissioner, is not as silly and nonsensical as you meant it to be. In fact, there are those about town who are urging him for the post in the hope that it will take the woodpecker out of town.

Incidentally, "Cody," we would suggest that you do away with the practise of imitating the famous frog which hopped from bank to bank and croaked on both sides of the stream. Stick to one candidate, and, maybe folks will heed you more readily.

From,
East Of The Lehigh Valley.

Candidates For Sheriff,
All Nine If 'Em,
Gentlemen:

We humbly suggest that your tactics in the current political campaign might be a great deal improved, and the worthy citizens of Kent county more highly entertained, if you would but follow the example of Candidate Tamargo, of Cecil county.

For the amusement of the citizens of Cecil, Candidate Tamargo provides a parade, entertainment and music, and appears with his troupe in a different section of the county nightly. In contrast to this, you fellows here in Kent are letting yourselves to be taken for granted, affording no amusement to anyone but yourselves and expecting a lot for nothing. Break loose and give us some excitement!

From,
An Old Rattle-Twister.
