We are busy making Pale Ale & Porter, the former we have tryd, it is in every respect the nicest Malt Liquor I have ever seen, it is as fine as any Wine & of a beautiful Straw colour & the Flavour excellent, we intend going pretty deeply into the bottling Line, it pays well & there is no fear of consumption if we get a sufficient Quantity of Bottles to send it out, Mr Myers of B. more is now here, & I have engaged 240 dozen from him of the Stone kind, I find the people in the Country like them best on Acct of their Strength, I went up to Carlisle on Sunday & returned on Tuesday, all the respectable Tavern Keepers there agreed to take from us & were glad to find they could get a regular Supply as they had hitherto been much disappointed We propose making at least 150 Barrels that quantity would clear at least $1500, Profit, & as I have no doubt of getting the Bottles in Time, I dont fear sending that quantity out, I wrote to a Mr Holmes who keeps a bottling Cellar in B. more nearly opposite Alex Brown & Sons about Ale & Porter he bid me send him a Hhd of each for a Trial which we will do next Week, I have no fear about it pleasing him, Should any of your people be up soon, we could send the pony as we will not have occasion to use him in draft until about the Tim you will want him yourself, that when we begin to send out the porter he is fat & hearty, I thought we would both be drown'd going to Carlisle, the Water has not been so high for a long Time, the water came into my Boot Tops once or twice. As our Stock will be heavy about the first of April if you have any Thing to spare previous to that day, it would serve us much, & we could return it if wanted in the fall.— Worthy desires me to request you will send the Instruments to him which you mentioned.— Yours Sincerely A Thomson
