Shoremen Expect A Victory Over Hopkins

Homewood Battle Holds Local Interest Today Mt. St. Mary's Tilt Next Saturday

With high hopes and the best chance in years to come through with a victory, Washington College's gridders and most of the student body, are to assemble at Homewood Field, Baltimore, this afternoon in an effort to turn back Johns Hopkins in the first "big league" game on the Shoremen's schedule.

Having performed creditably last week, when Gallaudet was licked. 51 to 0, Washington College goes into the battle this afternoon against a Hopkins team which last Saturday showed great defensive strength by holding Lehigh to a 7 to 6 shoestring victory.

The Washington grid squad has been spending the last few days in drills against a team using the Hopkins style of defense and offense, and Coaches Ekaitis and Kibler have their squad at fighting pitch. Evans, who was not in uniform against Gallaudet, will be on the field this afternoon and will probably be in the starting backfield. Huffman, Nicholson and either Berry or Young will complete the secondary quartette for Washington.

Word has been received here that Mt. St. Mary's requests a change in the date for its game with Washington College, and this contest will be held next Saturday, Oct. 27th, at Emmitsburg.

A special boat, leaving Baltimore tonight at eight o'clock for Tolchester, will accommodate many of the students and other fans who are in the city for this afternoon's game. Many other fans are driving around to Baltimore today.

Nice Too Heavy For The Platform

Stand Breaks At Rock Hall Nice Slightly Injured

The platform arranged to hold the Republican speakers at Rock Hall Monday night did not prove sufficiently strong to hold up under the weight of Mr. Nice and his associates. It fell, but fortunately no one was seriously hurt.

The next day, Mr. Nice, carrying his arm in a sling, as the result of breaking it several weeks ago, and limping from strained muscles in his leg, received when the speaking platform at Rock Hall fell with him on Tuesday night, the G. O. P. standard bearer made light of his injuries. He said: "One leg and one arm is all that is needed in this fight, for I shall be the next Governor of Maryland.

Not if the Democrats are able to get to the polls, Mr. Nice. Ritchie grows in popularity every day as the two men are compared. The Baltimore Sun in a two column editorial says, "The people will serve their interests by re-electing Ritchie. We find nothing in Mr. Nice's career that equips him for the Governorship."

All, Candidates Present At Rock Hall Meeting

For the first time in many years the Republican party of Kent county held an open rally Monday night. The meeting was held on the public square in Rock Hall.

At 1.30 p. m. the State candidates, Harry W. Nice, candidate for Governor, Fred P. Adkins, candidate for State comptroller, former Senator Joseph I. France, candidate for United States Senator and other candidates were met at Chester River bride and escorted by members of the Republican State Central Committee and local candidates They made a tour of the upper section of the county, returning to Chestertown at 6 o'clock, where the State candidates were entertained at a church supper in the M. E. Church. At eight o'clock the State candidates spoke at a largely attended meeting in Rock Hall.

The county Republicans are making an aggressive campaign for the election of their ticket this year. Headquarters have been established in Chestertown and plans have been completed for the pre-election campaign.

$44,000 Loan For Plant Here

Council To Take Action On PWA Disposal Loan

A loan of $44,000 has been granted the Mayor and City Council of Chestertown by the Public Works Administration for the purpose of erecting a sewage disposal plant in this town.

That information came to S. Scott Beck Wednesday morning in the form of a telegraph from United States Senator Millard E. Tydings. Mr. Beck notified Mayor Charles N. Satterfield.

The granting of the loan, after more than three months came as a surprise to the Mayor and members of the City Council.

Mayor Satterfield said that upon official notice of the grant that the Mayor and Council would probably consider the matter at their next meeting, November 5.

He could express no official opinion but felt that work on the project might not be started until spring since weaher, such as that experienced locally last winter, would seriously handicap the work.

This loan came thru the office of our industrious Congressman Goldsborough.

Ritchie's Proposal Is Favored By Oystermen

Would Remove Earle As Supervisor Oyster Industry---To Have Commission Of Three Practical Watermen For Job

Separation of the State's oyster industry from the Conservation Commission and a plan for expending at least $500,000 to rehabilitate the dwindling oyster supply in Maryland waters was revealed at Cambridge Tuesday night by Governor Ritchie, before a crowd of about 3,000.

Picturing, to an audience composed mostly of watermen, the drastic reduction in production by the Chesapeake oyster beds over a period of years, the Governor asserted, that the only salvation for the industry lies in boosting the annual crop of the State to at least 5,000,000 bushels.

After hearing the Governor's proposal, Wallace Quinn. former anti-Ritchie leader and a number of other Somerset countians interested in the oyster industry asserted that it "will mean 5,000 votes for Ritchie on the Eastern Shore."

The plan advanced by the Governor for increasing the production to the annual output of 5,000,000 bushels is the immediate planting of at least 3,000,000 bushels of seed oysters throughout the Chesapeake Bay.

If Maryland's seeding areas cannot provide the necessary 3,000,000 bushels of seedlings, the Governor's plan would be to acquire them from other States where the seed oysters are suitable. Also Federal aid may be asked for carrying out the project.

"In this connection. it seems to me" said the Governor, "that the quite different functions of the conservation of commercial sea-food, on the one hand, and of game and inland fish on the other, which are now combined. could be separated to the mutual benefit of both, as I understand is already done in Pennsylvania, Virginia, Delaware, North Carolina and other States. It is in this way that a practical superintendent or commission of three watermen would be named to take over the oyster conservation, etc."

Kent Democrats Announce Series Of Mass Meetings

Plan Meetings At Five County Towns During Next Two Weeks. Goldsborough will Address Rock Hall Gathering On November 27th.

The Democratic campaign committee announced today that a series of mass meetings has been arranged throughout Kent county during the next two weeks, which will bring to a close the campaign prior to the election on November 6th. With Galena, Rock Hall, Still Pond, Cliff City and Millington picked as the tentative spots for these gatherings, Democratic leaders are arranging to have outstanding speakers address the various gatherings.

The mass meeting for Rock Hall has been definitely set for Saturday night, October 27th. At that time Hon. T. Alan Goldsborough, whose address in Chestertown was accorded a fine reception, will speak to the Democrats of the Fifth District. Goldsborough, long looked upon as a friend of the watermen in Congress, is expected to tell in detail just what cooperation the State government of Maryland, with Ritchie at its head, has given his efforts in Washington.

Several other speakers of note will also be present for the Rock Hall meeting, as well as the entire local Democratic ticket.

On Saturday afternoon, before the Rock Hall mass meeting, an oyster scald will be held at Cliff City, at which the public is cordially invited to attend. No speakers will address the audience at this gathering, it being defoted entirely to the business of food and sociability.

An effort is being made to obtain outstanding speakers for meetings at Galena, Still Pond and Millington, and, until that point is settled, no definite date can be announced However, it is fully expected that arrangements for these meetings will be definitely approved before the week is out.

No Jury Impaneled In Brief Court Session
