Big Democratic Rally Packs Hall Here Saturday Night

John Carvil Sutton Presides, Introduces O'Conor, Radcliffe, Gordy and Goldsborough

Mrs. C. W. Whaland Opens Meeting With Talk

The Old Lyceum was well filled Saturday evening when Mrs. C. W. Whaland, Chairman of the State Central Committee, called the Democratic meeting to order. She introduced John Carvil Sutton as the presiding officer. He was on the Conley ticket for Legislature. Mr. Sutton made a most excellent introduction and introduced the speakers in appropprriate references. The Firemen's Band with Prof. Von Petten as leader furnished good music. The absence of Gov. Ritchie was regretted especially since it was caused by attack of laryngitis.

Herbert R. O'Conor was the first speaker and captured his audience from the start by his happy reference to the stalwart citizens of Kent, especially the ladies, and by his eloquence and intelligent grasp of the political situation.

Mr. O'Conor reviewed in an able manner the history of the Ritchie administration and pointed to the recent sale of State bonds which commanded the high price of 109. "Today," he said, "we, of the Democratic Party, are proud of the manner in which our administrations, both State and National, are functioning." "They are," he continued "upholding the traditional Democratic doctrine that a public office is a public trust." Following a resume of the advancement in all lines of Maryland as compared with many other States in the country, Mr. O'Conor called attention to the features of the Democratic platform, which he stated should commend itself to our people. Regarding the two outstanding measures, he named the adoption of the Old Age Pensions and Unemployment Insurance. "In connection with Old Age Pensions," he said, "it should be our pleasure to inaugurate and maintain a system of mandatory pension measures, which will guarantee to those old persons independence in the declining years of their lives. This will not be simply a gratuity,—it will be a discharge of an obligation of a State to its citizens who, in the productive period of their lives, made their contribution to the welfare of society."

Mr. O'Conor referred to Kent's candidate for Senator, Arthur Brice, State's Attorney Collins and others, who through the passage of two new laws passed recently, are saving approximately $120,000 a year.

The statutes in question provide for the automatic recalling of grand juries every nine weeks in the counties, and conferring upon justices of the peace the power to try and determine cases of larceny, where the amount involved is less than $25.00.

William S. Gordy, Jr., of Salisbury, candidate for Comptroller, referred to the State's finances and how the Teacher's Retirement Fund has been handled.

George L. Radcliffe, candidate for the United States Senate, praised the Roosevelt administration and the New Deal. He charged the Republicans in Maryland with attempting to steal the Democratic platform. He said they could find no fault with the Democratic national platform and adopted it in an attempt to fool the people of Maryland.

Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough, of this, the First Congressional District of Maryland, spoke on what has transpired in Washington, since President Roosevelt was inaugurated. He explained at some length how he participated in legislation which prevented a steal of $140,000,000 from the Federal government. He also referred to the old age pension and the bank deposit insurance bill which he was largely instrumental in passing.

NOTES ON SPORTS

Of course, the topic of general interest these days is football, and of particular interest is the debut of Washington College last Saturday, against Gallaudet, and the prospects for a victory today when the Shoremen engage Hopkins at Homewood.

In such a runaway game as was played on Kibler Field last week-end, with the final score 51 to 0 in favor of them, it is hard to judge just what Washington has in the way of good, first-rate footballers. It takes a good, stiff close game to really bring out football in a player. The result however of some of the boys' play was sufficiently pleasing to Coach Ekaitis. Wilmott, especially, ran that ball like he was going places, and there should be much heard of him before the season is ended.

The game today against Hopkins should give a fair indication, by its result, as to what sort of a season we can expect on the Hill.

Hopkins' great showing, seemingly, against Lehigh on Saturday defiates a bit on analysis. Though Lehigh has a 54 to 0 victory over Haverford, the manner in which Hopkins played them a 7 to 6 game Saturday doesn't necessarily mean that they are good.

It has always been one of Hopkins' fortes to be exceptionally good against Lehigh, a rival of long standing; and many great Lehigh teams have come down to Homewood when the Jays were mediocre, and barely got back to the hills of Pennsylvania with a victory.

Of course all we know is what we read in the papers, but to the mind of this humble observer Washington has its best opportunity to defeat Hopkins.

With H. S. Are adding his voice to the chorus which is singing loudly for the use of the local armory as a basketball court, the cause is strengthened considerably. We have this to report for the edification of the faithful few. Doc Hines has plans drawn for the erection of baskets in the building—which is no mean job, considering the altitude of the cross-beams—and, an estimate is being submitted this week.

We must again mention, in connection with basketball and the armory, our hopes for a county league this winter. It would provide grand amusement, and a small membership fee for each club would defray expenses of lights for practice sessions; while games should draw a few dollars. Three nights of play a week could be instituted, with the other three nights devoted to practice; two teams using the court in one evening at different hours. This system is far from being new. for in some cities as many as four clubs use the same court in an evening. The only requisite is a schedule.

Sometime it will be my pleasure to wander off to an unmolested spot and spend hours jotting down all the games we have played, or have been forced into in our time—short though it is. One of the silliest, though hardest. is the boisterous "Cardinal Puff," where, as Dick Collins so aptly remarked, the winner is the loser.

ONLY SEVEN INDICTMENTS BY GRAND JURY

With only seven indictments the the October term of the Circuit Court for Kent County, which convened on Monday, will present the lightest criminal docket in the memory of local court attaches.

The Grand Jury, which completed its work Tuesday afternoon, warned violators of the slot machine laws and recommended to the Court and future Grand Juries the indictment of all people charged in the future with possessing these devices.

Clarence Newsome, Betterton business man, was foreman of the Grand Jury with Charles H. Brice as clerk and Olin S. Davis as assistant clerk. Besides these three other members of the jury were: Arthur M. Lusby, Charles J. Reiche, Charles H. Hudson, William F. Gale, S. Herbert Lusby, George W. Plummer, Wroth Stavely, Harvey B. Moore, Rollison Baxter, John R. Dowling, B. Neal Willson, Thomas S. Toulson, William A. Hyland, William B. Cleaver, Julian Jones, Walter T. Bramble, T. Ringgold Jones, Andrew P. Toulson, Thomas W. Trew and James F. Hurtt.

The report of the Grand Jury, which was submitted to Associate Judge Thomas J. Keating, was as follows:

"We, the Grand Jurors of Kent County, with your selection of Clarence Newsome as our forman, do make this our formal report:

"We have been in session two days, have examined 42 witnesses had seven presentments and found seven true bills.

"We have visited the jail and found same in good, clean and sanitary condition.

"The Grand Jury has indicted in slot machine cases which present certain exaggerated features. This jury wishes to recommend to the Honorable Court and to future grand juries that all persons who have slot machines in their possession be indicted after this warning. They also recommend that the officers continue to seize all slot machines in the county and arrest the violators and be especially diligent in arresting those who place slot machines in the county. They also recommend that the sheriff confiscate the slot machines which has been seized and turn over to the county the money which they contain.

"This Jury extends its appreciation to the Honorable Court, the State's Attorney, the Sheriff, the Clerk of Court and all other officials for their courtesy and assistance during this session."

As court convened on Monday J. Cordray Loud was appointed bailiff in the place of Charles W. Ryckman.

Drawn for service on the petit juries were: Harry C. Cacy, Walter B. Harris, Thomas J. Davis, John A. Kelley, Carroll K. Dulin, Samuel C. Emory, R. Bradford Johnson, Robert A. Bowers, Fred G. Usilton, W. Melvin Warner, W. Tilden Brice, Jr., Edward M. Wilkins, W. Leo Gale, Herbert S. Ford, Joseph M. Norris, J. Hydie Thompson, J. Abner Bryden, Charles P. Jones, George M. Glenn, James G. Beck, C. Bradley Kerr, James B. Stevens, C. Lee Gill, George E. Bramble, Noble M. Moffett.

Indictments were brought in against the following: Ernest Robinson, larceny; William W. Graves, breaking and entering; William W. Graves, larcency; Godfrey Ricketts, breaking and entering; Julia Graves, receiving stolen goods; Godfrey Ricketts, receiving stolen goods; John Pierce, violating slot machine law.
