Paint Will Enhance Value Of Home

Interior Decoration Need To Add Attractiveness And Save Properties

"Save the surface and you save all" is a slogan that has a ring and a value to it. Thousands of home-owners have learned the value of having a good coat of paint on their property. Not only does it mean much to the life of the home, but it adds to its attractiveness and to its value. In the course of the Modern Housing program, paint will will have a large share towards the factor of modernization.

The following check list for the property owners contemplating remodeling is suggested by the national code authority for paint, varnish and lacquer manufacturing industry:

1. Repair exterior, giving special attention to metal work, roof, window and door frames, porch floors and steps.
2. Have exterior surface of home carefully prepared for repainting before coating begins.
3. Refinish bath room, kitchen and laundry ceilings walls and walls and woodwork, using gloss paint to repel steam and grease.
4. Re-coat linoleum floors with lacquer or wax.
5. Decorate walls and ceilings of rooms other than kitchen, bath room and laundry with dull-finish surface coating, using pale tints on ceilings to reflect all possible light.
6. Refinish trim, windows, and doors with paint, enamel stain or varnish.
7. Scrape clean and refinish badly marred floors using products manufactured for that purpose.
8. Paint lighting fixtures and switch plates to match trim or wall.
9. Coat cellar walls and floor to repel moisture and modernize basement.
10. Paint basement stairs light color so that they will be clearly visible.

Businessmen Prepared To Cooperate With Data

Through the Federal Housing Administration in Washington the business men whose ads appear in this eight-page supplement have been supplied with plans and pamphlets covering the facts of the Modernization Loan plan in every detail, and these pamphlets are readily obtainable by any person who is interested, or who might be contemplating improvements.

Besides this information, the firms are also cooperating in the planning of improvements and will assist anyone in making a complete estimate of the cost of the work to be done. They will also assist you in getting your loan.

Queen Bee Called Upon to Perform Big Task

The most important bee of the swarm (the queen), easily distinguished by her general appearance, is constantly engaged, during the honey season, in laying eggs. As she goes round and round over the surface of the comb, she is accompanied by special attendants, often likened to a royal escort, whose duty it is to feed her.

There may be 50,000 or 60,000 brood cells in the hive which need to be gone over once in twenty-one days, that being the time it takes for an egg to develop into a bee and leave the cell vacant; and such constant production of eggs would be impossible without a constant supply of food.

When she comes to the mouth of an empty cell she thrusts her head into it as if to satisfy herself that it is in proper condition; and then she bends her body and deposits an egg in the bottom. And this routine she keeps up with the monotonous regularity of a weaver throwing his shuttle, or a woman taking stitches in a taboret.—Charles D. Stewart in the Atlantic Monthly.

UMBRELLA AND STICK RACK

UMBRELLAS, canes and sticks are always in the way in most closets. They fall over, get tangled up in the outer garments and become damaged. Here is a solution to remedy that situation.

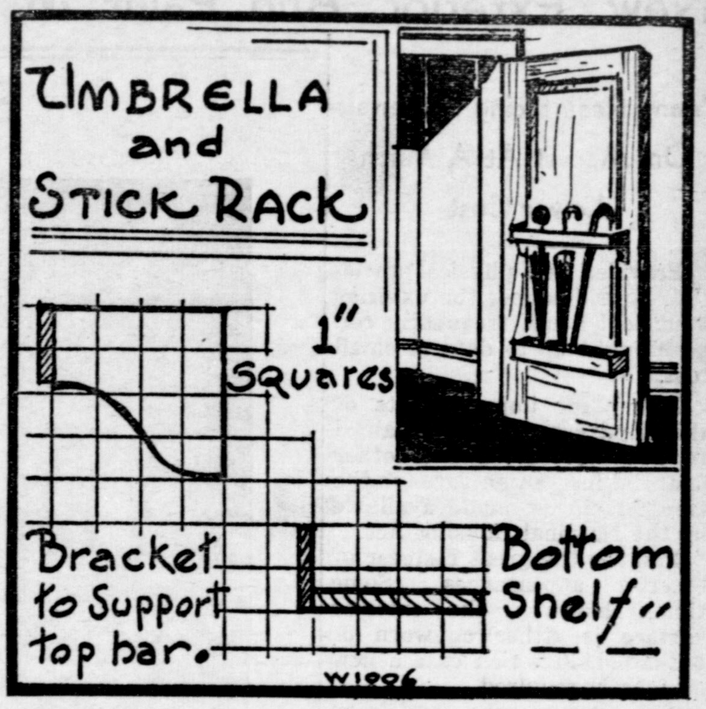

Take the back of any closet door, the side that swings into the closet, and attach a bottom shelf which has front and side pieces nailed to it. Note the section of the bottom shelf on the above drawing. You can fasten this shelf to the doors by means of light metal angles.

The top bar consists of two wooden brackets which are fastened to the sides of the door.

Now nail to the front edge of the brackets a piece of wood about ⅝ inch thick.

The length of the bottom shelf and the top bar must be the same, but the length may vary with the width of the door.

Decorate the rack to match the door.
