Harlow Praises Kibler, Ekaitis

Cites Football As Builder Of American Ideals

DICK HARLOW

Before the Rotary Club and the Washington College Football Team last Monday night Richard "Dick" Harlow, head coach of the Western Maryland football team and rated one of the greatest grid masters of the nation, praised highly Coach J. Thomas Kibler and George Ekaitis in the course of his address to the undefeated Shoremen.

The Chestertown Rotary Club, entertaining the grid squad of Washington College, were fortunate in obtaining Harlow to make the principal speech of the meeting, which was held in the Parish House of Emmanuel Church. The eighteen varsity men, manager, and two coaches were guests.

Harlow took occasion in his address to refer to the tendency abroad today, which strives at all times to berate and lay bare, if possible, the accepted standards and to belittle the heroes of American history upon whom the ideals of this nation are builded. In doing this he brought out strongly the point that never, in all his knowledge,has he known of an instance where a football player was the instigator of communistic sentiments, or the head of an atheist club. On the other hand, he said, you will find always that your college football player is the steady, conservative type of youth who belives in this country of our's the ideals which founded it and that he learns constantly thruout his bootball training to fit himself to become a truly American citizen.

Harlow praised J. Thomas Kibler when he said that he considered the Washington athletic director to be one of the outstanding basketball coaches of the nation; and he stated that he considered George Ekaitis the greatest backfield player he had ever coached.

Galena Car Strikes Child

Little Clifton Blanchfield, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchfield, while crossing the street in front of his home at Warwick on an errand for his mother Friday evening, was struck by a passing automobile said to belong to a Galena resident. The driver came back and took the child to Dr. Niles in Middletown. An examination revealed no broken bones but many scratches and bruises. The boy is as yet unable to walk.

The child's mother had sent him across the road to get a loaf of bread and had not noticed the oncoming car. No blame, it is said, could be attached to the driver of the car.

Is Paid $800 In Accident Insurance

Mrs. Arthur G. Moore, of Chestertown, received a check for $800 as balance due for accident insurance on the life of her husband. Mr. Moore was found dead on the railroad property at foot of Mill street the day after election, 1932. The insurance company paid one-half insurance but claimed exemption from the other half because accident was not proven. Mrs. Moore never gave up the claim and finally gave the claim to Congressman Goldsborough with the result stated above.

To Take a Census of Farms

Depression and other factors of the past few years have combined to make the forthcoming Census of Agriculture by the Federal Government the most important ever undertaken since the inception of farm statistics in 1840. The census will begin January 2, 1935. Hundreds of men and women will be employed.

Collect 99 Per Cent Land Bank Payments

Collections of installments on Federal land bank loans in the Baltimore district in October amounted to 99 per cent of the maturities during the month, according to a statement of President Chas. S. Jackson at a conference of the 12 land bank presidents held December 5. Thos. D. Bowers represents this area.

During the first ten months of 1934 collections amounted to more than 80 per cent of the maturing land bank loan installments as compared to 66 per cent during 1933. Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, and West Virginia are included in the Baltimore district.

H. D. Orem was chosen one of the director of the Del-Mar Implements Association at the meeting in Salisbury this week.

There were 21 from Christ M. P. Church and 20 from St. James at the Group Meeting in Easton Wednesday evening. Dr. Shipley made a fine address.

Westchester Shoremen's Foe In Second Cage Game

Quakers Will Bring Potent Team To Engage The Flying Pentagon At Armory Tuesday

The 1934-35 edition of the Flying Pentagon, having cracked open the season last Friday night, will meet a powerful foe Tuesday evening when the Westchester Teachers quintet comes here for the second game of the season.

Playing in their new home, the Chestertown Armory, the Washington College squad will find the Pennsylvanians far from a set-up group of players. They have several games under their belts, not the least of them being a 51 to 15 triumph over Lehigh University.

The armory floor, while proving a boon to spectators in that the seating facilities are perfect, adds a decided tax upon the players by virtue of its size. Coach Kibler's squad, after ten days of practice, are just getting in shape so that they can stand the forty-minute route on this mammoth playing court. Fans, too, will notice the difference in play, as compared with home games in the Washington gymn. There, with the balcony screening the corners, play was principally confined to the center of the court, which was none too large. At the Armory, with additional footage on length and width, corners are clear of all obstacles and the play will be more open.

Of the players who are likely to see action in Tuesday's game Nicholson, Huffman, Ward, Berry and Skiuu are probable starters; while Bilancioni, McClain, Horowitz, Wilmot, Salter and Reese will more than likely enter the lists as reserves.

27 Scouts Receive Awards Before Court Of Honor

New Scouts Taken In To Swell Ranks Of This Flourishing Troop Of Young Men

The annual Fall Court of Honor and Parents' Night of Troop 1,Chestertown Boy Scouts, held Tuesday night at Christ M. P. Church, saw awards being made to various members of the troop and eight new boys being inducted into the troop as Tenderfoot Scouts.

The Troup Committee. composed Jarman Post 36, American Legion, sponsors of the scout organization here, had charge of the meeting. Geo. Pennington made the awards. Kenneth Spear, Scout Executive from Wilmington, presented the principal address. W. H. Litsinger spoke the invocation.

Gilbert Mead was invested as an Eagle Scout, the second boy in the local troop to attain that high ranking. He was also awarded a silver medal of honor by the Troop Committee for unselfish interest in behalf of the troop. A bronze medal of honor for the same unselfish interest was awarded Wm. Baldwin.

Invested with the rank of First Class Scouts at the meeting were: Francis Mead, Louis Anthony and William McCullough while Francis Mead and Milton Dorf were rated as Star Scouts.

Attaining the rank of Second Class Scouts were: Norton Bonnett. Gerson Bonnett and Hampton Carmine. Admitted as Tenderfoot Scouts were: Merle Fox, Jesse Smith, Lee Gill, Frank Kardner, Jack Newnam, Horace Needles,Jack Kibler and William Grangers.

Merit badges were awarded to the following. Norton Bonnett, Gerson Bonnett, John Eliason, Gladden Coleman, George Baldwin, Milton Dorf, Francis Mead, Paul Poetzsch, Hampton Carmine and Howard Strong.

To become a scout a boy must be 12 years old, take the Scout Oath and pass certain elementary tests. After attaining Tenderfoot ranking a scout is eligible to pass various tests in signalling, first aid, cooking and other outdroor crafts and at the end of 30 days may be awarded Second Class rank. Two months additional advanced tests in outdoor subjects, he may become a First Class Scout. After this he may pass tests for Merit Badges in 105 different subjects. To earn a badge he must show a proficiency in the subject, accomplished by study and work over a period of time, and then pass a review before some one who is qualified as an expert in that line.

The earning of five merit badges entitled a boy to the rating of Star Scout and when 21 badges, including several very hard ones, haye been earned the rank of Eagle Scout is awarded. Eagle Palms are awarded for additional badges beyond the twenty-one.

The Chestertown Troop consists of 37 boys under the leadership of Scoutmaster Copeland Bowers, M. D., and Assistant Scoutmaster William McCullough.

THE N-E-W-S IN BRIEF

The automobile belonging to Carl Bordley, and driven by his wife took fire on Cross street last Friday evening and caused an alarm to be sounded. The fire was soon extinguished with little damage.

The December meeting of the Old Kent Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held last Saturday at the home of Miss Marie Bryan, who was the hostess.

The mercury registered 14 degrees Monday; 20 on Tuesday and 16 on Wednesday. Warmer Thursday. The rivers had ice on them this week but no skating.

Chestertown looks beautiful with its electrical displays.

John C. Smith, one of our best farmers, offered his son all he made off 3 acres planted in tomatoes. He turned over to the son $308. Not bad for one crop.

Members of Chestertown Council of Junior Order are urged to be present next Wednesday evenings at 7.30. Business of importance.

The men of Betterton will meet Tuesday, Dec. 18th at 6.30 p. m., at Betterton M. E. Church. The program will be in the nature of a surprise and 100 men are expected to be present.

Barnum & Bailey's Circus will show in Baltimore May 24th.

Charles B. Chance, for 30 years a merchant at Sudlersville, because of bad health will close out his business. He has a host of friends who regret his retirement.

The bull calf donated by Mrs. Charles Tilghman to be roffled off for the benefit of Emergency Hospital was won by E. R. McCauley, of Chestertown. The money will be spent in purchasing a new sterlizer for the hospital.

Fire, about 6 p. m. Tuesday, destroyed a tenant house in Queen Anne's county on the VonWallberg farm. The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company answered the alarm the third within a week.

On and after January 1st, 1935, there will be no two-cent check tax.

Kent county has enrolled only slightly less than half of its quota of Red Cross members according to the last report of Margaret Lewis, field representative, American Red Cross.

Kent, with a quota of 600, had enrolled 295 members on December 7. Additional members have been enrolled since that date and will be included in the final report to be made December 31, according to W. B. Usilton, 3rd, who has been named acting chairman of the Kent County Chapter in place of Howard Turner.

Rock Hall has the reputation for many admirable qualities and productions. Among the latter is the family of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGinnis. Both have been married before and raised a family as follows: Mr. McGinnis has 11 children by first marriage, 29 grandchildren and one great grand child. Mrs. McGinnis has 11 children by first marriage, 41 grand children and 4 great grandchildren. The descendants total 97 who are scattered in five States. Mr. McGinnis was 72 and his wife 74 when they married. This is some record and a more industrious couple cannot be found.
