AT THE MOVIES...

On Monday and Tuesday evenings the famous best-selling novel, "Anne of Green Gables" comes to the screen of the New Lyceum Theatre with all the pathos and drama which enlivened the book, and which kept young girls weeping for many a generation. The blessed sentiment of this book has echoed in millions of hearts, and now the scenes which are so dear to many will be brought to life via the talking screen, and Anne will live in the person of Anne Shirley, a real cinema "find."

The story of this film is familiar to all girls and it is them who will be primarily interested in the picture. Tom Brown, a young hopeful of the films, is ideally cast in support of "Anne." This film, in addition to being a faithful transition of the novel, has won the acclaim of critics on its own feet and can be recommended highly to patrons.

For Wednesday and Thursday "The White Parade," starring Loretta Young and John Boles, will be the featured attraction at the New Lyceum Theatre. A stirring story of student nurses those unsung heroes of many battle with death, "The White Parade" will hold you spellbound while the truest picturization of hospital life ever filmed is unfolded before your eyes.

The story runs along vividly with the constant undertone being the ever-presence of the great god, DUTY. About it is centered much of the action, and because of it the romance of John Boles and Loretta Young is poignantly exciting. It is not morbid, but it is filled with a truthfulness and sincerity which will root your attention.

There are two features to be presented at the New Lyceum Theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings, one of them to be announced later. The first attraction, a thrilling westerner, has Tim McCoy in the leading role.

CHRISTMAS on the Delmarvia farm brings it a wealth of happiness, with something for everybody, with something from everybody and with a plentitude of things to eat which are truly good and wholesome, with not a cough or a headache in a truckload and, as a rule, with a feeling of reverence for the day and for the many good things in life which it symbolizes.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father, George L. Chrisfield, who departed this life Dec. 16, 1930.

Four lonely years have passed away,
Since death's cold hand did take you:
And never since we saw you last,
Did our fond thoughts forsake you.
The flowers we lay upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But the love we bore fou you in life
Can never fade away.

By His Children.
