pences, so that there is a probability of some good being done.

When you consider that those to be benefited are mostly females & of the most generous dispositions, struggling with a selfish world, I am confident you will approve of my running some risque. Should I perish from the Climate, I have no "little ones" to regret my loss. I shall fall, as I think I should for those I am proud to call my friends.

I have not yet determined how I shall employ my time till the papers may arrive. Should they not arrive in the course of two months I shall then embrace the first opportunity for Belfast.

My Brother, of whom you may have heard me speak in high terms, is now settled in a respectable Unitarian Congregation at Warrington near Liverpool. This news has given me great pleasure. He is a noble fellow. — Lord Binda was done in Europe. "Unparalleled distress" prevailed in Britain.

Time will not permit me to say to you all I wish. I again request your acceptance of Montesquieu's Works, which accompany this. With best respects to Mrs B & family

I am your obliged humble Serv.
